Hillary Ill On Bleak Himalaya Mountain

New Zealander Cut Off By Glaciers; U.S. Team Sends Oxygen, Penicillin

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Sir Edmund Hillary, 34, conqueror of Everest, was reported Thursday to be battling pneumonia on the ice-bound slopes of Mt. Baruntse in the bleak Himalayas.

Penicillin and oxygen from a nearby American expedition have been sent to him.

News that the tall, gangling New Zealander was lying ill and cut off from civilization by more than 100 miles of glaciers and Himalayan waste came in an 8-day-old dispatch from Dr. William Siri, leader of an American party trying to scale nearby Mt. Malaku.

Mountaineering experts here were speculating about chances of Hillary surviving in his camp 22,500 feet up on a windswept glacier. Doctors said pneumonia is always dangerous at high altitudes.

Dr. Siri said he rushed the oxygen and supplies of penicillin to the New Zealand team which Hillary was leading. Doctors here said their availability would be a point in Hillary's favor.

Final Assault

Siri's dispatch, dated May 19, was brought by native runner from the American's base camp on Mt. Malaku to Jogbano—nearest point to communications with the outside world.

Siri said he received word by radio from the New Zealand party of Hillary's illness just as the Americans were starting their final assault on Malaku.

Siri indicated it might be some time before he can send further news to the outside world. He said Hillary's illness was apparently an aftermath of an earlier accident in which he broke a rib or two helping to rescue New Zealand climber James McFarlane from a 60-foot crevasse.

The British high commissioner's office in New Delhi said communication with the mountaineers was very poor and no report has been received so far about Hillary's illness. There have been no immediate attempts to send further medical supplies or organize rescue parties.

New Federal Power Pact Gets Praise

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—The contract between the Interior Department and the Nebraska Public Power System (NPPS) for sale of 100,000 kilowatts of Missouri Basin Power to Nebraska is "a fine contract" in the opinion of Dewey DeBoer, executive director of the NPPS.

"It's a fine thing for the power users of Nebraska because it brings them the benefits of low cost Missouri Basin power in substantial quantities," he said. "We're certainly relying on the power."

The contract, announced by Secretary of the Interior McKay Thursday, is the culmination of several years of negotiations, but DeBoer said NPPS plans had been predicated on the probability that such a contract could be worked out and so there will be no substantial differences in the grid system's operations.

2 Purchase Methods

He explained that under the terms of the contract Nebraska power users—all of whom are preference customers for federal power — can purchase their power either directly from the Bureau of Reclamation or through the NPPS for the same rates.

When they purchase directly from the bureau the NPPS carries the power over its lines and receives a one-mill "wheeling credit," for the use of its lines. When they buy from the NPPS the system receives a one-mill discount.

He said the NPPS doesn't care which way the customers buy power except that it "makes less accounting if they buy from us." He also emphasised that the contract provides each preference customer will get its proportionate share of the power no matter whether it deals directly with the Reclamation Bureau or through NPPS.

'Glad To Know'

DeBoer said the NPPS already is getting about 33,000 kilowatts of dump power from the Fort Randall, S.D., dam through the connection at O'Neill.

H. G. Greenamyre, of Lincoln, president of the Consumers Public Power District, said he was "glad to know that the negotiations have been completed and that the amount anticipated as Nebraska's share has been confirmed and is on the way.

"Consumers is glad to co-operate with the Missouri Basin development program and to have the economical power from this source," he added.

The contract approval does not affect plans to build additional steam plant capacity in Nebraska. Greenamyre said the Missouri Basin power had been anticipated and was taken into consideration all along, he indicated.

Adm. Carney Finds 'Freak' Blast Effects

. . . Carrier Inspected

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (AP) — Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, said Thursday night he found "freakish and unique" effects from the explosions and fire that killed 92 men of the big carrier Bennington as she cruised at sea.

The naval court of inquiry whose job it is to try to determine the cause of the tragedy set its first formal session for 7 a.m. (CST) Saturday.

The admiral flew in from Washington, toured the torn and smoke-blackened compartments of the 32,000 ton ship and visited with the 100 injured victims in two hospitals. A total of 201 men were injured in one of the Navy's biggest peacetime disasters—40 of them remain in critical condition.

Carney told newsmen that characteristics of the blasts were "freakish" and "very unique from anything I have seen."

Vacuum Effects

Pressed for more detail on this statement, he added that there were explosions in areas where there was no heat and that unique vacuum effects were evident where the blasts occurred. Some fabrics and structural parts, he said, showed signs of terrific heat while others at the same area showed none."

Abel Firm Low Bidder On 14th St., Paving Job

Bids for widening and paving 14th Street from Court Street to U. S. 6, including grading and culverts were part of about $2,000,000 in highway construction for which bids were opened by the State Highway Department Thursday.

Abel Construction Co., Lincoln, was the apparent low bidder at $79,947 which is about 6 per cent over the estimate. However, highway department officials and County Engineer L. W. Weaver expressed the opinion that it was satisfactory.

The improvement will be built with county and federal funds.

Roberts Construction Co., Lincoln, with a bid of $431,410 appeared low on 7.1 miles of grading and paving between Beatrice and Blue Springs on U. S. 77. Capitol Bridge Co., Lincoln appeared low at $61,925 on building the culverts.

Behrens Construction Co., Beatrice, appeared low for grading and paving 5.2 miles between Beatrice and DeWitt in Gage county with a bid of $25,230 and $15,543 for culverts. Apparent low bid for bridges was $50,417 by the Beatrice Construction Co., Beatrice. Graveling of 1.1 miles on the same route found Johnson Bros. Sand & Gravel Co., Beatrice apparently low at $2,017.

A county project matched by federal funds for 3 miles of gravel north of Friend found Nichols Construction Co., Geneva, apparently low at $4,428. Shearer Construction Co., Hebron, appeared low at $6,164 on another county sponsored project for 6 miles of gravel south of Gilead.

Geo. K. Werner & Son, Clay Center, appeared low at $16,281 on .6 miles of bituminous surfacing east of Marquette.

Grading, paving and resurfacing of 4.3 miles west of Jackson found Francis R. Orshek, Inc., Fremont, apparently low at $279,480. Booth & Olson, Inc., Sioux City, Ia., appeared low on culverts at $29,459 and Hobe Engineering Co., Sioux City, on bridges at $238,957.

The entire letting included an estimated $90,000 of county funds, $905,000 of state construction funds, $810,000 of regular federal aid and $185,000 of federal aid secondary funds.

Brownell Asks Story On 'Letter'

Army Report Wanted On Joe's Informant

WASHINGTON (INS) — Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., announceed Thursday he has asked the Army for a full report on its investigation of the manner in which Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy received an extract of FBI information from Army intelligence files.

Brownell told a news conference the Army has not yet advised him of the results of its inqury.

The issue revolves around a two and a quarter page FBI "letter" which the Wisconsin Republican senator said was signed by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and sent to Army Intelligence in 1951 as a warning against alleged subversives in the Army Signal Corps.

Brownell

Hoover has denied that he sent the letter and in the form presented by McCarthy. The Army has branded it a "phony." McCarty said the letter came to him from a young Army intelligence officer whose identity he refused to disclose.

President Eisenhower has denounced as reprehensible the action of McCarthy's informant. He told newsmen at a recent conference that security information must be kept secret. He added that if the theory that individual military personnel could decide what orders of their superiors they should obey spread to civilian organizations, then the government had better disband.

"Criminal"

The secret FBI report was sharply injected into Thursday's session of the Army-McCarthy hearings. Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) charged that McCarthy had obtained the FBI data by means which might be criminal.

The contents of the "letter" have never been made public. The Senate Investigations Subcommittee decided against releasing its contents after receiving a communication from Brownell recommending against it.

McCarthy has declared that any loyal government employee should fulfill his oath to defend and protect his country by disregarding a presidential order against secrecy and turn the data over to him. He has said that nothing on earth could make him reveal their identity.

Although Hoover said he did not write the "letter," it was brought out that it contained data from the FBI report. The Army has announced it is seeking to locate McCarthy's informant.

Intended Holdup Victim Proves Fastest With Gun

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., (AP)—John Rapalje, 51, of Council Bluffs, is known to at least one Council Bluffs patrolman as a fast man with a gun.

But, apparently a Lincoln man, Leo Kenneth Shepherd, 29, hadn't heard of Rapalje's reputation.

Rapalje met Shepherd about midnight Wednesday.

Shepherd was in "good" condition at a Council Bluffs hospital late Thursday and police had charged him with "assault while masked."

Rapalje was unhurt despite three point blank shots at him.

Police, meanwhile, were seeking a man who Shepherd said was with him shortly before the holdup attempt.

Seated At Desk

Rapalje told this story:

He was seated at his desk around midnight talking to a customer when he noticed a man walking through the driveway, his face covered with a handkerchief.

"I didn't think much of it at the time. It might have been a kid in the neighborhood.

"Next thing I knew, this guy was standing in the door. He took a shot at me, shouted, 'This is a stickup,' then fired again."

Rapalje slid to his knees, pulled a gun from his hip pocket and began firing.

"He (the bandit) said something like, 'This isn't for fun,' and fired a third time." The gun jammed.

One of the gunman's bullets hit under a peanut machine to the left of Rapalje. A second struck a box above him and a third lodged in a window frame to his right.

The men were only 15 feet apart. The door behind the bandit was riddled with four bullet holes.

Gun jammed, the intruder staggered out. Police were notified. They found Shephard lying on the ground a half block away, a .32 caliber automatic clutched in his hand.

A patrolman, who told reporters of a contest he once had with Rapalje to see who could draw their guns the fastest, said "I lost, hands down."

Shepherd, at the time of the Council Bluffs incident, was out on $200 bond in this county after pleading not guilty to a charge of assault and battery. He previously had served time in the State Penitentiary for robbery, and only recently was released from the County Jail. He had been fined $200 in the cutting of an inmate in the bullpen of the City Jail.

Double Killing Ends Dogpatch Feud; Woman Fires Last Shot

DOGPATCH, Okla. (AP) — A backhills shooting in the old mountaineer tradition killed off two of Dogpatch's tiny population and officers got the story Thursday from one of the womenfolk who wielded a gun in the fight.

The principal antagonists, Billy Peters, 19, and Marshall Stroud, 24, lay dead. They were shot to death at Stroud's tavern in a violent climax to the bad blood which began when Stroud divorced Peters' older sister, Judy.

Sheriff Walter Irons said Peters entered the beer parlor and ordered his former brother-in-law down on his knees to beg for his life.

Irons said young Peters, discharged from the Army a week ago, coldly fired a first bullet into the pleading man's hand, then triggered the fatal shot when Stroud started to rise.

Bitter Feelings

Then Mrs. Stroud, an expectant mother, came into the battle. She told the sheriff she picked up a gun and killed the slayer of her husband. She added that Peters had fired at her several times with a .45 automatic pistol after he had killed her spouse. The former Mrs. Stroud, Peters' sister, wasn't around when the shooting took place.

The bitter feeling back of the shooting has smouldered for months in Dogpatch, which is only a couple of beer taverns in southeastern Oklahoma near the Arkansas border.

The sheriff's office said there wasn't a telephone in this end of the county.

The picturesque little settlement, in a farm and ranching area of the Kiamichi Mountains, was described by a member of the sheriff's staff as "just like in the comic strip." It is mostly hills and piney woods.

Lincoln Air Base 'Operation Lockout' Underway

By BARCLAY BAYLEY
Star Staff Writer

The days of the idle sightseer at the Lincoln Air Force Base are strictly numbered.

Both the base entrances, west off the Huskerville road and north off Highway 34, now have gatehouses manned by a 24-hour guard. A decal system has been set up for identification of the vehicles.

Starting June 19 the base will be closed to everyone except those having decals or authorized visitors, Maj. Omer M. Headrick, base provost marshal, has announced.

Registration of the vehicles on the base and the assignment of the decal window stickers is now in progress. When the system goes into effect only these people will be authorized entry:

1. Air Force personnel assigned to the base.
2. Civilians actually employed at the base.
3. National Guard personnel.
4. Naval Reserve personnel.
5. Any other personnel of military units stationed at the base.
6. Authorized visitors.

Separate decals will be issued to Air Force personnel, Naval Reserve personnel and National Guard members. The Air Force stickers will be colored red for airmen, blue for officers, black for non-commissioned officers, and green for base civilians.

Maj. Headrick said that visitors to the base will be stopped at the gates and asked to state their business. When they give the place they wish to visit a call will be made to that location to verify the reason for entry and a visitor's card put on the windshield.

The order, as issued, specifically forbids any entry for the purpose of sightseeing or idle curiosity.

All persons driving on the air base reservation are subject to the authority of the air police, Maj. Headrick reminded. He said that speed limits and other traffic regulations will be strictly enforced.

The decals and visitor cards allow movement only within the administrative area of the base and special areas such as the flight line, [illegible] require separate badges and identification.

The driver of any car allowed to enter the base, the order stated, will be held strictly responsible for the actions of all people riding with them in the vehicle.

Mind Made Up, President Says

Oh, No, I Won't, He Tells Martin, Who Suggests Chief Will Be In '56 Race

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's privately declared intention to retire from the White House at the end of his present term indicates today a wide open race for the GOP presidential nomination in 1956.

If Ike makes good on his retirement plan, there are two major possibilities for the Republicans. One is Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the other is Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Among top Republicans who know of Ike's plan, there is a strong belief that he can be persuaded by world events in 1956 to stand for reelection. This belief is not shared by Ike.

Hutchinson

Just recently, Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr., (R-Mass) praised Ike in a public address, predicted his renomination, and said he would be elected to a second term. Some days later, the President met Speaker Martin at a Washington banquet. Their conversation ran something like this:

Offers To Wager

The President: I saw what you said about me running again. What will you bet on that?

Speaker Martin: I don't bet.

The President: I'll bet you a hat I won't run again.

Speaker Martin: I'll grant you are sincere and honest in your beliefs now but conditions will change. By the time the next election comes around, world conditions will force you to be a candidate again and you will be re-elected.

Ike's retirement certainly would result in a wide open race for the GOP nomination in 1956. Nixon seems to be the favorite because the President took him on his ticket two years ago and ever since has given him special presidential missions.

Meanwhile, there are other possibilities. Speaker Martin himself, has a tremendous following on Capitol Hill and throughout the party.

Other Possibilities

Other "favorite son" possibilities include Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois; three governors if reelected this year—Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut, and Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado; Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana; Sen. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania; and, if Nixon stepped aside, Sen. William F. Knowland of California.

Ike meanwhile has told personal friends he has no second term ambitions. Rather, he says to intimates, his greatest wish is to retire to the pleasant surroundings of his home in Gettysburg, Pa., on the historic Civil War battlefield — with an occasional visit to Colorado's mountain retreats.

Home Being Built

The Gettysburg home is now under construction and will be completed by fall. It is the first home the Eisenhowers have ever owned in 38 years of married life. Mrs. Eisenhower is credited with planning most of the home but Ike got in some points of his own.

State Weather Turbulent And Highly Varied

Nebraskans could take their choice Thursday — weatherwise, that is—with the state's ration ranging from dust storms in the west to thunderstorms in the east.

While the Lincoln area got a thorough drenching Thursday night, Omaha was reporting hail stones up to a half-inch in diameter.

Lincoln recorded .30.

Omaha reported .13, while Valentine and Lexington both reported traces.

Earlier, a dust storm cut visibility in the Highway 26 area between Minatare and Bayard and during the period of the storm the Highway Patrol attributed four accidents to the poor driving conditions, the Associated Press said.

Damage to vehicles was estimated at $4,000 and several minor injuries resulted.

At one point east of Minatare dust blowing across the highway settled a foot deep.

And as if this wasn't enough, the weather man added to the uneasiness by announcing that conditions were conductive to the formation of tornadoes.

The Star news room was flooded with calls from anxious citizens wanting to know when and where the tornado was going to hit in Lincoln and whether or not they should take refuge in their basements.

The weather warning said an area 100 miles wide from Yankton, S. D., to Fort Riley, Kan., could expect severe thunderstorm activity and that the possibility of isolated tornadoes existed.

The weather bureau said the tornado "danger" period would last until 2 a.m. Friday. However, at 2 a.m. there had been no reports of any tornadic activity in the area.

Friday will be partly cloudy and cooler with strong winds in the west portion. High temperatures are expected to range from 60 to 65 in the northwest to near 70 in the southeast.

The improvement will be built with county and federal funds.

Roberts Construction Co., Lincoln, with a bid of $431,410 appeared low on 7.1 miles of grading and paving between Beatrice and Blue Springs on U. S. 77. Capitol Bridge Co., Lincoln appeared low at $61,925 on building the culverts.

Behrens Construction Co., Beatrice, appeared low for grading and paving 5.2 miles between Beatrice and DeWitt in Gage county with a bid of $25,230 and $15,543 for culverts. Apparent low bid for bridges was $50,417 by the Beatrice Construction Co., Beatrice. Graveling of 1.1 miles on the same route found Johnson Bros. Sand & Gravel Co., Beatrice apparently low at $2,017.

A county project matched by federal funds for 3 miles of gravel north of Friend found Nichols Construction Co., Geneva, apparently low at $4,428. Shearer Construction Co., Hebron, appeared low at $6,164 on another county sponsored project for 6 miles of gravel south of Gilead.

Geo. K. Werner & Son, Clay Center, appeared low at $16,281 on .6 miles of bituminous surfacing east of Marquette.

Grading, paving and resurfacing of 4.3 miles west of Jackson found Francis R. Orshek, Inc., Fremont, apparently low at $279,480. Booth & Olson, Inc., Sioux City, Ia., appeared low on culverts at $29,459 and Hobe Engineering Co., Sioux City, on bridges at $238,957.

The entire letting included an estimated $90,000 of county funds, $905,000 of state construction funds, $810,000 of regular federal aid and $185,000 of federal aid secondary funds.

Burning Trophy Head Doesn't Buffalo Firemen

Firemen didn't find any tornadoes during the night, but they did find something just as unusual—a stuffed buffalo head.

The hunter's trophy was found smoldering in the rain at the intersection of 16th and R Streets early Friday morning.

Brownell Asks Story On 'Letter'

Army Report Wanted On Joe's Informant

WASHINGTON (INS)—Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., announceed Thursday he has asked the Army for a full report on its investigation of the manner in which Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy received an extract of FBI information from Army intelligence files.

Brownell told a news conference the Army has not yet advised him of the results of its inqury.

Brownell

The issue revolves around a two and a quarter page FBI "letter" which the Wisconsin Republican senator said was signed by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and sent to Army Intelligence in 1951 as a warning against alleged subversives in the Army Signal Corps.

Hoover has denied that he sent the letter and in the form presented by McCarthy. The Army has branded it a "phony." McCarty said the letter came to him from a young Army intelligence officer whose identity he refused to disclose.

President Eisenhower has denounced as reprehensible the action of McCarthy's informant. He told newsmen at a recent conference that security information must be kept secret. He added that if the theory that individual military personnel could decide what orders of their superiors they should obey spread to civilian organizations, then the government had better disband.

"Criminal"

The secret FBI report was sharply injected into Thursday's session of the Army-McCarthy hearings. Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) charged that McCarthy had obtained the FBI data by means which might be criminal.

The contents of the "letter" have never been made public. The Senate Investigations Subcommittee decided against releasing its contents after receiving a communication from Brownell recommending against it.

McCarthy has declared that any loyal government employee should fulfill his oath to defend and protect his country by disregarding a presidential order against secrecy and turn the data over to him. He has said that nothing on earth could make him reveal their identity.

Although Hoover said he did not write the "letter," it was brought out that it contained data from the FBI report. The Army has announced it is seeking to locate McCarthy's informant.

Playwright Connelly Hit By Falling Chair; Suffers Head Injuries

NEW YORK (AP) — An old chair pushed off a tenement roof fell five floors Thursday and struck Marc Connelly, the Pulitzer prize-winning playwright. He suffered head injuries.

He was strolling along Columbus Avenue when the ancient wicker armchair hurtled down from above and crushed him to the sidewalk.

'No!' Yells Ike As Ump Says 'Out'

Like any other fan, President Eisenhower stands up and shouts: "No" as the umpire calls a Washington player out at home in the fifth inning of the game with the Yankees in Washington Thursday. Intended Holdup Victim Proves Fastest With Gun

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., (AP)—John Rapalje, 51, of Council Bluffs, is known to at least one Council Bluffs patrolman as a fast man with a gun.

But, apparently a Lincoln man, Leo Kenneth Shepherd, 29, hadn't heard of Rapalje's reputation.

Rapalje met Shepherd about midnight Wednesday.

Shepherd was in "good" condition at a Council Bluffs hospital late Thursday and police had charged him with "assault while masked."

Rapalje was unhurt despite three point blank shots at him.

Police, meanwhile, were seeking a man who Shepherd said was with him shortly before the holdup attempt.

Seated At Desk

Rapalje told this story:

He was seated at his desk around midnight talking to a customer when he noticed a man walking through the driveway, his face covered with a handkerchief.

"I didn't think much of it at the time. It might have been a kid in the neighborhood.

"Next thing I knew, this guy was standing in the door. He took a shot at me, shouted, 'This is a stickup,' then fired again."

Rapalje slid to his knees, pulled a gun from his hip pocket and began firing.

"He (the bandit) said something like, 'This isn't for fun,' and fired a third time." The gun jammed.

One of the gunman's bullets hit under a peanut machine to the left of Rapalje. A second struck a box above him and a third lodged in a window frame to his right.

The men were only 15 feet apart. The door behind the bandit was riddled with four bullet holes.

Gun jammed, the intruder staggered out. Police were notified. They found Shephard lying on the ground a half block away, a .32 caliber automatic clutched in his hand.

A patrolman, who told reporters of a contest he once had with Rapalje to see who could draw their guns the fastest, said "I lost, hands down."

Shepherd, at the time of the Council Bluffs incident, was out on $200 bond in this county after pleading not guilty to a charge of assault and battery. He previously had served time in the State Penitentiary for robbery, and only recently was released from the County Jail. He had been fined $200 in the cutting of an inmate in the bullpen of the City Jail.

Double Killing Ends Dogpatch Feud; Woman Fires Last Shot

DOGPATCH, Okla. (AP) — A backhills shooting in the old mountaineer tradition killed off two of Dogpatch's tiny population and officers got the story Thursday from one of the womenfolk who wielded a gun in the fight.

The principal antagonists, Billy Peters, 19, and Marshall Stroud, 24, lay dead. They were shot to death at Stroud's tavern in a violent climax to the bad blood which began when Stroud divorced Peters' older sister, Judy.

Sheriff Walter Irons said Peters entered the beer parlor and ordered his former brother-in-law down on his knees to beg for his life.

Irons said young Peters, discharged from the Army a week ago, coldly fired a first bullet into the pleading man's hand, then triggered the fatal shot when Stroud started to rise.

Bitter Feelings

Then Mrs. Stroud, an expectant mother, came into the battle. She told the sheriff she picked up a gun and killed the slayer of her husband. She added that Peters had fired at her several times with a .45 automatic pistol after he had killed her spouse. The former Mrs. Stroud, Peters' sister, wasn't around when the shooting took place.

The bitter feeling back of the shooting has smouldered for months in Dogpatch, which is only a couple of beer taverns in southeastern Oklahoma near the Arkansas border.

The sheriff's office said there wasn't a telephone in this end of the county.

The picturesque little settlement, in a farm and ranching area of the Kiamichi Mountains, was described by a member of the sheriff's staff as "just like in the comic strip." It is mostly hills and piney woods.

Mind Made Up, President Says

Oh, No, I Won't, He Tells Martin, Who Suggests Chief Will Be In '56 Race

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's privately declared intention to retire from the White House at the end of his present term indicates today a wide open race for the GOP presidential nomination in 1956.

If Ike makes good on his retirement plan, there are two major possibilities for the Republicans. One is Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the other is Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Hutchinson

Among top Republicans who know of Ike's plan, there is a strong belief that he can be persuaded by world events in 1956 to stand for reelection. This belief is not shared by Ike.

Just recently, Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr., (R-Mass) praised Ike in a public address, predicted his renomination, and said he would be elected to a second term. Some days later, the President met Speaker Martin at a Washington banquet. Their conversation ran something like this:

Offers To Wager

The President: I saw what you said about me running again. What will you bet on that?

Speaker Martin: I don't bet.

The President: I'll bet you a hat I won't run again.

Speaker Martin: I'll grant you are sincere and honest in your beliefs now but conditions will change. By the time the next election comes around, world conditions will force you to be a candidate again and you will be re-elected.

The President: (Shaking his head in a vigorous negative) Oh, no, I won't.

Ike's retirement certainly would result in a wide open race for the GOP nomination in 1956. Nixon seems to be the favorite because the President took him on his ticket two years ago and ever since has given him special presidential missions.

Meanwhile, there are other possibilities. Speaker Martin himself, has a tremendous following on Capitol Hill and throughout the party.

Other Possibilities

Other "favorite son" possibilities include Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois; three governors if re-elected this year—Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut, and Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado; Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana; Sen. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania; and, if Nixon stepped aside, Sen. William F. Knowland of California.

Ike meanwhile has told personal friends he has no second term ambitions. Rather, he says to intimates, his greatest wish is to retire to the pleasant surroundings of his home in Gettysburg, Pa., on the historic Civil War battlefield — with an occasional visit to Colorado's mountain retreats.

Home Being Built

The Gettysburg home is now under construction and will be completed by fall. It is the first home the Eisenhowers have ever owned in 38 years of married life. Mrs. Eisenhower is credited with planning most of the home but Ike got in some points of his own.

State Weather Turbulent And Highly Varied

Nebraskans could take their choice Thursday — weatherwise, that is—with the state's ration ranging from dust storms in the west to thunderstorms in the east.

While the Lincoln area got a thorough drenching Thursday night, Omaha was reporting hail stones up to a half-inch in diameter.

Lincoln recorded .30.

Omaha reported .13, while Valentine and Lexington both reported traces.

Earlier, a dust storm cut visibility in the Highway 26 area between Minatare and Bayard and during the period of the storm the Highway Patrol attributed four accidents to the poor driving conditions, the Associated Press said.

Damage to vehicles was estimated at $4,000 and several minor injuries resulted.

At one point east of Minatare dust blowing across the highway settled a foot deep.

And as if this wasn't enough, the weather man added to the uneasiness by announcing that conditions were conductive to the formation of tornadoes.

The Star news room was flooded with calls from anxious citizens wanting to know when and where the tornado was going to hit in Lincoln and whether or not they should take refuge in their basements.

The weather warning said an area 100 miles wide from Yankton, S. D., to Fort Riley, Kan., could expect severe thunderstorm activity and that the possibility of isolated tornadoes existed.

The weather bureau said the tornado "danger" period would last until 2 a.m. Friday. However, at 2 a.m. there had been no reports of any tornadic activity in the area.

Friday will be partly cloudy and cooler with strong winds in the west portion. High temperatures are expected to range from 60 to 65 in the northwest to near 70 in the southeast.

Ship Blast Kills Pendell

Lincoln Star Special

DETROIT, Mich.—Ens. Emory Dean Pendell, 22, a former Lincoln resident, was killed in the explosion aboard the USS Bennington.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pendell of Detroit.

Ens. Pendell and an older brother, Donald Pendell Jr., were the only children in the family. They formerly attended Sheridan School in Lincoln. Donald Jr. now is attending Princeton Seminary.

The ensign's father was an automobile dealer and formerly was a salesman in The Lincoln Star advertising department when the family lived in Lincoln.

Child Killed In Four-Story Fall

OMAHA (AP)—Randall Messing, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Messing, died at a hospital Thursday afternoon shortly after he had fallen four stories from a window of a hotel where the family lived.

Mrs. Messing said the boy was playing on a sofa, and while her attention was diverted he apparently crawled into the open window and fell.

Joe Gerner Hurt In Auto Accident

Joe E. Gerner, 60, of 2301 No. 48th was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital early Friday morning after he was injured when the car he was driving was in collision with a parked car on Holdrege Street between 40th and 41st.

He told police that he failed to see the parked car.

Lincoln Air Base 'Operation Lockout' Underway

By BARCLAY BAYLEY
Star Staff Writer

The days of the idle sightseer at the Lincoln Air Force Base are strictly numbered.

Both the base entrances, west off the Huskerville road and north off Highway 34, now have gatehouses manned by a 24-hour guard. A decal system has been set up for identification of the vehicles.

Starting June 19 the base will be closed to everyone except those having decals or authorized visitors, Maj. Omer M. Headrick, base provost marshal, has announced.

Registration of the vehicles on the base and the assignment of the decal window stickers is now in progress. When the system goes into effect only these people will be authorized entry:

1. Air Force personnel assigned to the base.
2. Civilians actually employed on the base.
3. National Guard personnel.
4. Naval Reserve personnel.
5. Any other personnel of military units stationed at the base.
6. Authorized visitors.

Separate decals will be issued to Air Force personnel, Naval Reserve personnel and National Guard members. The Air Force stickers will be colored red for airmen, blue for officers, black for non-commissioned officers, and green for base civilians.

Maj. Headrick said that visitors to the base will be stopped at the gates and asked to state their busiess. When they give the place they wish to visit a call will be made to that location to verify the reason for entry and a visitor's card put on the windshield.

The order, as issued, specifically forbids any entry for the purpose of sightseeing or idle curiosity.

All persons driving on the air base reservation are subject to the authority of the air police, Maj. Headrick reminded. He said that speed limits and other traffic regulations will be strictly enforced.

The decals and visitor cards allow movement only within the administrative area of the base and special areas, such as the flight line, will require separate badges and identification.

The driver of any car allowed to enter the base, the major stated, will be held strictly responsible for the actions of all people riding with them in the vehicle.

Cohn Contradicts Stevens And Adams

Witness Flatly Differs With Secretary Of Army And Counsel On Six Major Points

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roy M. Cohn contradicted under oath Thursday the sworn testimony of Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counsel John G. Adams on six major points.

Cohn Talks

Roy M. Cohn testifies at the McCarthy-Army row hearing that Sec Stevens and Army Counselor John G Adams suggested the McCarthy subcommittee investigate Communism in the Air Force and Navy and "sort of take the onus off the Army." (AP Wirephoto.)

Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy investigating subcommittee and top aid to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), flatly accused Adams of "blackmail," and said the Army lawyer admitted he would "stop at nothing" to kill an investigation of alleged Communist infiltration in the Army.

The McCarthy aid's most serious charge was that Stevens on one occasion—and Adams three different times—tried to "take the heat off" the Army by proposing investigations of the Navy and Air Force.

The intense, 27-year-old Cohn testified Adams offered to supply material for an investigation of the other services—including the location of an Air Force base weher there was "a large number of sexual deviates."

Both Stevens and Adams categorically denied they did or ever would try to divert the inquiry to the Air Force or Navy. The record of the televised hearing is going to the Justice Department and could form the basis for prejury action against one or more witnesses where there is a major conflict of testimony.

Cohn testified in rapid-fire fashion with only one long interruption — a bitter exchange between McCarthy and Democrats on the investigating subcommittee.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said McCarthy might well be "guilty of a crime" in accepting secret FBI data from an Army intelligence officer. McCarthy defended his action, scoffed at presidential secrecy directives and said anybody who wants to indict him "can just go right ahead."

In addition to accusing Stevens and Adams of trying to get the Air Force and Navy investigated, Cohn denied the testimony of one or both of them on these major points:

Schine Called "Hostage"

1. Cohn said Adams frequently referred to Pvt. G. David Schine as a "hostage" and threatened to have Schine shipped overseas if the McCarthy committee persisted in subpoenaing Loyalty Board members and continuing an investigation of Ft. Monmouth, N. J. Adams denied this. His version was that Cohn pressed the subpoena issue because he couldn't get a New York assignment for Schine.

2. Cohn swore that Stevens and Adams did their best to fire Maj. Gen. Kirke Lawton, commanding general at Ft. Monmouth, because he co-operated with and praised the subcommittee's work. Cohn said the Army officials succeeded in blocking a promotion for Lawton and in putting him on the sidelines — sending him, in fact, to a hospital although he was feeling fine. Stevens and Adams denied Lawton's praise of the McCarthy group had anything to do with a once-considered plan to remove him.

3. Cohn said Stevens —at a luncheon in his office last Nov. 6—asked McCarthy if he couldn't find "some way of stopping the hearings" on Ft. Monmouth. Stevens' version was that he objected only to a type of hearing he considered "unfair." Both sides agreed Stevens expressed the view he might be forced out of office if publicity unfavorable to the Army continued.

4. Cohn said Stevens asked Schine to stand beside him, and told the young soldier he was glad to be photographed with him, during a stop at McGuire Air Force Base. Stevens and other Army witnesses denied any knowledge of Stevens' asking to be pictured with Schine.

5. Cohn denied Adams' statement that McCarthy refused to issue a press release, submitted by the Army lawyer, because of Cohn's influence. In Cohn's version, McCarthy never intended to issue this release, which referred to the Army's taking over the Ft. Monmouth investigation. As Adams told it, Cohn vetoed the release because he was enraged over an incident at Ft. Monmouth.

Cohn didn't get to give details Thursday of that now-famous incident—in which Adams said Cohn "declared war" on the Army. Nor did he get to say much about the equally well known automobile ride on which, according to Adams, Cohn poured abuse on both McCarthy and himself in connection with the Schine affair.

He's due to tell more about both episodes Friday, when Special Counsel Ray H. Jenkins is to cross-examine him on the Army's charge that he and McCarthy sought by improper means to get favored treatment for ex-subcommittee consultant Schine.

Lt. O'Donnell Funeral Rites Planned Here

Funeral services for Lt. Roger R. O'Donnell, 30, killed in the explosion on the USS Bennington, will be held in Lincoln. Final arrangements are still pending.

Lt. O'Donnell, who had boarded the carrier only two days before the accident, was killed instantly according to word received from his wife, Rosa, of Jacksonville, Fla.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. O'Donnell of 4138 Garfield, said they had received a telegraphed message of sympathy from Capt. William R. Raborn Jr., commander of the carrier.

Lt. O'Donnell, a native of St. Louis, Mo., moved to Lincoln with his parents when he was 11. He was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1949.

He first entered the Navy in 1943 serving for three years. He was recalled to active duty in March, 1951. He was a pilot instructor at Jacksonville, Fla., before his new assignment in charge of a photo reconnaissance squadron on the Bennington.

He was a salesman for the Journal-Star classified advertising department for about a year before he was recalled to service. He was a member of Holy Family Catholic Parish.

Surviving in addition to his wife and parents are two stepsons, Dick, 6, and Michael, 3; and a sister, Mrs. E. J. Miller of Lincoln.

Mrs. Crittenden Funeral Services Will Be Tuesday

Graveside services for Mrs. Kuniegunda Marie Crittenden, 91, who died at Long Beach, Calif., will be Tuesday morning at Wyuka, the Rev. Harold Sandall officiating.

Mrs Crittenden had lived in Lincoln for many years, going to California about 10 years ago. She was born in Germany

The widow of Charles Crittenden, she was a charter member of Grace Methodist Church.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Dumbaugh of Long Beach; a son, Harry F of San Carlos, Calif.; five grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Pope Pius X Will Be Named Saint Saturday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vatican workers put the final decorative touches on St. Peter's Basilica and its giant open square in preparation for the canonization of Pope Pius X—the first pontiff in 242 years to be elevated to the highest honor of the Roman Catholic Church.

The biggest moment in two days of glittering ceremonies will come Saturday afternoon when Pope Pius XII, exercising the full authority of his high office, adds the name of his illustrious predecessor to the church's list of saints.

Kratz Entering First District Congress Race

The First District Republican congressional race warmed up Thursday with the announcement by Dean G. Kratz, assistant attorney general, that he will file in a few days. Phil Weaver, Falls City, has already filed for the post relinquished by Rep. Carl Curtis.

Before joining the staff of the attorney general in 1950, Kratz had been deputy secretary of state. In 1953, he was chosen Lincoln's outstanding young man. He has been president of the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Kratz was the Lincoln representative of Sen. Dwight Griswold and has been state president of the Young Republicans organization. He is married and has two children. At the University of Nebraska where he received his law degree he was Big Seven champion in the 400 and 880 yard and mile run.

The Lincoln attorney said his decision to file was influenced by suggestions he has received to follow that course and promises of financial support. He expressed the belief that Sen. Hugh Butler would not attempt to influence the outcome of the primary.

Others suggested as likely candidates for the post include Sen. Arthur Carmody of Trenton and Railway Commissioner Joseph Brown.

Frank Morrison of McCook has filed on the Democratic ticket.

Council Told Shortage Of Lots Exists

FHA Advice Prompts Committee Backing

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

State FHA officials have advised a City Council committee that there is a shortage of improved lots in Lincoln to facilitate the construction of new homes.

The officials, Walter T. Greene, Omaha, Chief state FHA underwriter, and Robert Hastings, Omaha, state FHA director, were invited to attend a meeting with the committee. Following the meeting, Chauncey Kinsey, chairman, stated that the group will recommend to the City Council Monday passage of three ordinances for the creation of special improvement districts estimated to have a total cost of about $150,000.

The districts, paving, water and sewer, are located in the Lincoln Home Builders' Association rental housing project east of 48th and north of Fremont. The Association plans the erection of 78 four-plexes in the area and already has received FHA approval on the erection of 25 of the structures.

The Council had previously expressed fear of installing the special improvements. If the proposed housing was never built, the city could be stuck with the cost of the specials.

Greene and Hastings, however, gave assurance that improved lots were in demand in Lincoln and that other builders are interested in the Havelock area for single family home construction if anything drastic should happen to the Home Builders' project.

Cocker Spaniel On Cops' Wanted List; Believed Poisoned

Police are looking for a black cocker spaniel which they believe may have received a piece of poisoned meat in the area of 19th and Van Dorn.

Anyone owning a dog which they believe might have been poisoned and fitting the description is asked to report the incident to the Police Department.

Residents of the neighborhood said they thought they could identify the person who tossed the meat, which was wrapped in a piece of wax paper, to the dog.

The remains of the meat and the paper which it was wrapped are expected to be subjected to laboratory tests to determine if poison was present.

Cohn Contradicts Stevens And Adams

Witness Flatly Differs With Secretary Of Army And Counsel On Six Major Points

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roy M. Cohn contradicted under oath Thursday the sworn testimony of Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counsel John G. Adams on six major points.

Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy investigating subcommittee and top aid to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), flatly accused Adams of "blackmail," and said the Army lawyer admitted he would "stop at nothing" to kill an investigation of alleged Communist infiltration in the Army.

The McCarthy aid's most serious charge was that Stevens on one occasion—and Adams three different times—tried to "take the heat off" the Army by proposing investigations of the Navy and Air Force.

The intense, 27-year-old Cohn testified Adams offered to supply material for an investigation of the other services—including the location of an Air Force base weher there was "a large number of sexual deviates."

Both Stevens and Adams categorically denied they did or ever would try to divert the inquiry to the Air Force or Navy. The record of the televised hearing is going to the Justice Department and could form the basis for prejury action against one or more witnesses where there is a major conflict of testimony.

Cohn testified in rapid-fire fashion with only one long interruption — a bitter exchange between McCarthy and Democrats on the investigating subcommittee.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said McCarthy might well be "guilty of a crime" in accepting secret FBI data from an Army intelligence officer. McCarthy defended his action, scoffed at presidential secrecy directives and said anybody who wants to indict him "can just go right ahead."

In addition to accusing Stevens and Adams of trying to get the Air Force and Navy investigated, Cohn denied the testimony of one or both of them on these major points:

Schine Called "Hostage"

1. Cohn said Adams frequently referred to Pvt. G. David Schine as a "hostage" and threatened to have Schine shipped overseas if the McCarthy committee persisted in subpoenaing Loyalty Board members and continuing an investigation of Ft. Monmouth, N. J. Adams denied this. His version was that Cohn pressed the subpoena issue because he couldn't get a New York assignment for Schine.

2. Cohn swore that Stevens and Adams did their best to fire Maj. Gen. Kirke Lawton, commanding general at Ft. Monmouth, because he co-operated with and praised the subcommittee's work. Cohn said the Army officials succeeded in blocking a promotion for Lawton and in putting him on the sidelines — sending him, in fact, to a hospital although he was feeling fine. Stevens and Adams denied Lawton's praise of the McCarthy group had anything to do with a once-considered plan to remove him.

3. Cohn said Stevens —at a luncheon in his office last Nov. 6—asked McCarthy if he couldn't find "some way of stopping the hearings" on Ft. Monmouth. Stevens' version was that he objected only to a type of hearing he considered "unfair." Both sides agreed Stevens expressed the view he might be forced out of office if publicity unfavorable to the Army continued.

4. Cohn said Stevens asked Schine to stand beside him, and told the young soldier he was glad to be photographed with him, during a stop at McGuire Air Force Base. Stevens and other Army witnesses denied any knowledge of Stevens' asking to be pictured with Schine.

5. Cohn denied Adams' statement that McCarthy refused to issue a press release, submitted by the Army lawyer, because of Cohn's influence. In Cohn's version, McCarthy never intended to issue this release, which referred to the Army's taking over the Ft. Monmouth investigation. As Adams told it, Cohn vetoed the release because he was enraged over an incident at Ft. Monmouth.

Cohn didn't get to give details Thursday of that now-famous incident—in which Adams said Cohn "declared war" on the Army. Nor did he get to say much about the equally well known automobile ride on which, according to Adams, Cohn poured abuse on both McCarthy and himself in connection with the Schine affair.

He's due to tell more about both episodes Friday, when Special Counsel Ray H. Jenkins is to cross-examine him on the Army's charge that he and McCarthy sought by improper means to get favored treatment for ex-committee consultant Schine.

Lt. O'Donnell Funeral Rites Planned Here

Funeral services for Lt. Roger R. O'Donnell, 30, killed in the explosion on the USS Bennington, will be held in Lincoln. Final arrangements are still pending.

Lt. O'Donnell, who had boarded the carrier only two days before the accident, was killed instantly according to word received from his wife, Rosa, of Jacksonville, Fla.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. O'Donnell of 4138 Garfield, said they had received a telegraphed message of sympathy from Capt. William R. Raborn Jr., commander of the carrier.

Lt. O'Donnell, a native of St. Louis, Mo., moved to Lincoln with his parents when he was 11. He was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1949.

He first entered the Navy in 1943 serving for three years. He was recalled to active duty in March, 1951. He was a pilot instructor at Jacksonville, Fla., before his new assignment in charge of a photo reconnaissance squadron on the Bennington.

He was a salesman for the Journal-Star classified advertising department for about a year before he was recalled to service. He was a member of Holy Family Catholic Parish.

Surviving in addition to his wife and parents are two stepsons, Dick, 6, and Michael, 3; and a sister, Mrs. E. J. Miller of Lincoln.

Mrs. Crittenden Funeral Services Will Be Tuesday

Graveside services for Mrs. Kuniegunda Marie Crittenden, 91, who died at Long Beach, Calif., will be Tuesday morning at Wyuka, the Rev. Harold Sandall officiating.

Mrs. Crittenden had lived in Lincoln for many years, going to California about 10 years ago. She was born in Germany.

The widow of Charles Crittenden, she was a charter member of Grace Methodist Church.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Dumbaugh of Long Beach; a son, Harry F. of San Carlos, Calif.; five grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Pope Pius X Will Be Named Saint Saturday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vatican workers put the final decorative touches on St. Peter's Basilica and its giant open square in preparation for the canonization of Pope Pius X—the first pontiff in 242 years to be elevated to the highest honor of the Roman Catholic Church.

The biggest moment in two days of glittering ceremonies will come Saturday afternoon when Pope Pius XII, exercising the full authority of his high office, adds the name of his illustrious predecessor to the church's list of saints.

News Around The Globe

Hoffman Honored

NEW YORK (INS)—Paul G. Hoffman, former head of the Economic Cooperation Administration and the father of seven children, was named "Father of The Year" in ceremonies launching the observance of Father's Day, June 20th.

Hoffman, who is now chairman of the board of Studebaker, was selected as top father of 1954 by the National Father's Day Committee for "his lifetime of devotion to the ideals of liberty and freedom."

Conference Fails

GENEVA (AP)—The Indo-China conference failed Thursday to find a formula for putting opposing armies into cease-fire assembly zones and turned the problem over to a group of experts.

Legal and constitutional experts from the nine delegations trying to achieve an Indo-China peace settlement will meet Friday. If they can agree on a draft, it will be considered by military specialists who will work out the technical military problems involved.

Mother Killed

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Laura Colley, 37, mother of nine children, was shot to death Thursday by her husband, Samuel, 62, as she lay in bed, sheriff Arnold Pigorsh reported.

The sheriff said the husband sobbed out a fragmentary statement he fired the fatal shot as the climax of a family quarrel. He has one other child by a previous marriage.

Pact Offered

GUATEMALA CITY (INS)—Guatemala offered neighboring Honduras Thursday a non-aggression pact "immediately."

The offer was wired to Foreign Minister Eduardo Valenzuela of Honduras by Guatemalan Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello "to cement peace and friendship and remove all anxiety about our good and cordial relations."

Titze Enters Innocent Plea

OMAHA (AP)—Joseph Titze, one of two Fremont men charged in Federal Court with obtaining money through illegal FHA-backed loans, pleaded innocent Thursday to 21 counts and nolo contendere to eight others.

Don F. Pollock, president of Don F. Pollock properties of Fremont, charged on 30 counts, was in court Thursday without an attorney and Federal Judge John Donohoe postponed his arraignment to next Thursday.

Titze is a former sales manager for Pollock.

Two other men allegedly involved in the same case are free on bonds of $500 each as they await action of a grand jury.

Five French Farmers Slain

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—Terrorists gunned five French farmers to death in west central Tunisia, bringing to 13 the number of killed in acts of violence in this restive French North African protectorate this week.

French authorities announced they were setting up a big new organization to combat terrorism, which they attributed to independence-seeking Nationalists.

Transfer Company's Switch Is Approved

The Railway Commission reported Thursday approval had been given to McMaken Transportation Co. to take over the operating rights to Tillman Transfer of Fremont.

The McMaken Co. is at Omaha.

Other commission action:

Approved request of railway express agency to close its stations at St. Mary and Funk.

Granted permission to Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha to sell 365,400 shares of common stock.

Survey Wanted

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Thailand's U.N. delgate arrived from Geneva and said the Indo-China crisis — on his country's borders—will be submitted to the U.N. as quickly as possible.

He said Thailand wants a 5-nation group to make an immediate on-the-spot survey for the U.N.

Contract Agreed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commercial Telegraphers Union (AFL), representing 35,000 Western Union Telegraph Co., employees in most of the country, reached agreement with the company on a new two-year contract.

The union said the main point of the agreement effective June 1, is a 20 per cent wage increase, that is 48 hours pay for 40 hours work, for approximately one-half of the employees within the two year contract term.

Liberace Cheered

NEW YORK (INS)—Wladziu Valentino Liberace—better known merely as Liberace to uncounted adoring fans—followed the footsteps of the late Paderewski into Madison Square Garden and played to a capacity audience.

Something between 15,000 and 17,000 persons jammed the huge arena to give Liberace an ovation which Joe Louis might have envied.

Kratz Entering First District Congress Race

The First District Republican congressional race warmed up Thursday with the announcement by Dean G. Kratz, assistant attorney general, that he will file in a few days. Phil Weaver, Falls City, has already filed for the post relinquished by Rep. Carl Curtis.

Before joining the staff of the attorney general in 1950, Kratz had been deputy secretary of state. In 1953, he was chosen Lincoln's outstanding young man. He has been president of the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Kratz was the Lincoln representative of Sen. Dwight Griswold and has been state president of the Young Republicans organization. He is married and has two children. At the University of Nebraska where he received his law degree he was Big Seven champion in the 400 and 880 yard and mile run.

The Lincoln attorney said his decision to file was influenced by suggestions he has received to follow that course and promises of financial support. He expressed the belief that Sen. Hugh Butler would not attempt to influence the outcome of the primary.

Others suggested as likely candidates for the post include Sen. Arthur Carmody of Trenton and Railway Commissioner Joseph Brown.

Frank Morrison of McCook has filed on the Democratic ticket.

Council Told Shortage Of Lots Exists

FHA Advice Prompts Committee Backing

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

State FHA officials have advised a City Council committee that there is a shortage of improved lots in Lincoln to facilitate the construction of new homes.

The officials, Walter T. Greene, Omaha, Chief state FHA underwriter, and Robert Hastings, Omaha, state FHA director, were invited to attend a meeting with the committee. Following the meeting, Chauncey Kinsey, chairman, stated that the group will recommend to the City Council Monday passage of three ordinances for the creation of special improvement districts estimated to have a total cost of about $150,000.

The districts, paving, water and sewer, are located in the Lincoln Home Builders' Association rental housing project east of 48th and north of Fremont. The Association plans the erection of 78 four-plexes in the area and already has received FHA approval on the erection of 25 of the structures.

The Council had previously expressed fear of installing the special improvements. If the proposed housing was never built, the city could be stuck with the cost of the specials.

Greene and Hastings, however, gave assurance that improved lots were in demand in Lincoln and that other builders are interested in the Havelock area for single family home construction if anything drastic should happen to the Home Builders' project.

7 Paralytic Case Found In Polio Test

Child's Shot May Have Been 'Water'

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—One child in the vast polio vaccine trials has developed paralytic polio, but it isn't known if he had shots of the real vaccine or a useless material that couldn't protect him.

This was announced by Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, who again expressed confidence in the safety of the vaccine.

The child, in Lenawee County, Michigan, was in a group half of whom get the actual vaccine, and half get a placebo (play-see-bo) injection which would be as useless against polio as water.

This child developed polio five days after his second shot, which was 12 days after his first one. He's now being treated at the University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Code Numbers

Whether he received the vaccine, developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, or shots of the useless and harmless placebo won't be known until this fall when code numbers identifying shots of vaccine or placebo are broken, Dr. Van Riper said.

He said other children had developed illness first diagnosed as polio, but there haven't yet been confirming tests to prove it.

All these six also were among groups of children divided half and half as to who received real vaccine and who received placebos.

Thus, he said, there are only seven instances of possible polio which could remotely be possibly attributed to the vaccine. All could have been children getting the useless shots.

Mild Reactions

He said some other children in the trials have developed mild allergic reactions, possibly due to the penicillin contained in the vaccine itself. The vaccine is made of killed polio virus.

Dr. Van Riper declared "one question has been answered, that is that the vaccine properly made is safe, and is not the killer referred to by some reporters."

(Before the trial began, columnist Walter Winchell broadcast that some batches of the vaccine might contain live virus and so "may be a killer.")

Dr. James T. Googe of Lincoln, city-county health director, said there were no reports of any adverse reactions among the Lancaster County second graders who received the vaccine. A few, he said, had "sore arms and concurrent infections."

Reply Filed

George H. Brasier filed a reply brief in Supreme Court Thursday holding that the City of Lincoln acted capriciously in repealing a city ordinance providing for water main extensions.

Northeast Honors Retiring Assistant Principal

Mrs. T. J. Thompson, assistant principal and dean of girls at Northeast High School, was honored by the Northeast student body Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Thompson began her teaching career here in the University Place High School in 1919 and will retire at the end of the current school year. Elizabeth Webster, Northeast senior, and Richard Smith, a 1929 graduate of the old Jackson High School, joined in paying tribute to Mrs. Thompson. (Star Photo)

Students Honor Mrs. T. J. Thompson On Retirement After 35 Years Teaching

By MARILYN K. SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

Mrs. T. J. Thompson, whose career in Lincoln high schools spans 35 years, was honored Thursday by the students and faculty of Northeast High School, where Mrs. Thompson serves as assistant principal and dean of girls.

She began her Lincoln career at the University Place High School in 1919 and moved on to Jackson High School as assistant principal. When Northeast High School was constructed in 1941 (taking the place of Jackson), Mrs. Thompson continued her duties as assistant and adding the duties of dean of girls.

The wife of Dean T. J. Thompson, former University of Nebraska faculty member, Mrs. Thompson has announced her retirement at the end of the current school year. Dean Thompson retired from the university earlier.

The convocation held for Mrs. Thompson included her present students and the alumni from Jackson and University Place high schools.

Richard Smith, Jackson 1929 graduate, and Elizabeth Webster, Northeast senior, represented the "old and the new" in Mrs. Thompson's career. Miss Webster presented Mrs. Thompson with a gift from the Northeast students.

Also on the program were Larry Delaney, student council president, Joan Dutton, assembly chairman, Mrs. Roscoe Hill, representing the Lincoln school board, the high school choir, and the Northeast cheerleaders.

Mrs. Thompson was educated at Houghton College in New York, the New York Normal School in Buffalo, the University of Michigan, and the University of Nebraska.

1 Paralytic Case Found In Polio Test

Child's Shot May Have Been 'Water'

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—One child in the vast polio vaccine trials has developed paralytic polio, but it isn't known if he had shots of the real vaccine or a useless material that couldn't protect him.

This was announced by Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, who again expressed confidence in the safety of the vaccine.

The child, in Lenawee County, Michigan, was in a group half of whom get the actual vaccine, and half get a placebo (play-see-bo) injection which would be as useless against polio as water.

This child developed polio five days after his second shot, which was 12 days after his first one. He's now being treated at the University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Code Numbers

Whether he received the vaccine, developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, or shots of the useless and harmless placebo won't be known until this fall when code numbers identifying shots of vaccine or placebo are broken, Dr. Van Riper said.

He said other children had developed illness first diagnosed as polio, but there haven't yet been confirming tests to prove it.

All these six also were among groups of children divided half and half as to who received real vaccine and who received placebos.

Thus, he said, there are only seven instances of possible polio which could remotely be possibly attributed to the vaccine. All could have been children getting the useless shots.

Mild Reactions

He said some other children in the trials have developed mild allergic reactions, possibly due to the penicillin contained in the vaccine itself. The vaccine is made of killed polio virus.

Dr. Van Riper declared "one question has been answered, that is that the vaccine properly made is safe, and is not the killer referred to by some reporters."

(Before the trial began, columnist Walter Winchell broadcast that some batches of the vaccine might contain live virus and so "may be a killer.")

Dr. James T. Googe of Lincoln, city-county health director, said there were no reports of any adverse reactions among the Lancaster County second graders who received the vaccine. A few, he said, had "sore arms and concurrent infections."

Reply Filed

George H. Brasier filed a reply brief in Supreme Court Thursday holding that the City of Lincoln acted capriciously in repealing a city ordinance providing for water main extensions.

Northeast Honors Retiring Assistant Principal

Mrs. T. J. Thompson, assistant principal and dean of girls at Northeast High School, was honored by the Northeast student body Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Thompson began her teaching career here in the University Place High School in 1919 and will retire at the end of the current school year. Elizabeth Webster, Northeast senior, and Richard Smith, a 1929 graduate of the old Jackson High School, joined in paying tribute to Mrs. Thompson. (Star Photo)

Students Honor Mrs. T. J. Thompson On Retirement After 35 Years Teaching

By MARILYN K. SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

Mrs. T. J. Thompson, whose career in Lincoln high schools spans 35 years, was honored Thursday by the students and faculty of Northeast High School, where Mrs. Thompson serves as assistant principal and dean of girls.

She began her Lincoln career at the University Place High School in 1919 and moved on to Jackson High School as assistant principal. When Northeast High School was constructed in 1941 (taking the place of Jackson), Mrs. Thompson continued her duties as assistant and adding the duties of dean of girls.

The wife of Dean T. J. Thompson, former University of Nebraska faculty member, Mrs. Thompson has announced her retirement at the end of the current school year. Dean Thompson retired from the university earlier.

The convocation held for Mrs. Thompson included her present students and the alumni from Jackson and University Place high schools.

Richard Smith, Jackson 1929 graduate, and Elizabeth Webster, Northeast senior, represented the "old and the new" in Mrs. Thompson's career. Miss Webster presented Mrs. Thompson with a gift from the Northeast students.

Also on the program were Larry Delaney, student council president, Joan Dutton, assembly chairman, Mrs. Roscoe Hill, representing the Lincoln school board, the high school choir, and the Northeast cheerleaders.

Mrs. Thompson was educated at Houghton College in New York, the New York Normal School in Buffalo, the University of Michigan, and the University of Nebraska.

Money Well Spent

Whatever amount the federal government decides to spend in the program to reduce soil blowing in three southwestern Nebraska counties—Dundy, Hitchcock and Hayes—will be money well spent.

The tentative sum of $130,000 has been set aside, the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office reported. That adds up to approximately $1.25 an acre for the 92,000 acres in the three counties which are subject to damage from blowing.

It is cheap at the price.

And it is one of the best investments Uncle Sam makes, an investment which will repay the American people over the long pull. Every cent spent by Uncle Sam for soil improvement, for conserving water, for forestation—every cent spent for conservation of resources—is money well spent even in a period when the tax shoe pinches until it hurts.

There is one thing about this business of combatting the depletion of America's resources. Nature will not wait upon us. Either we get along with the job or if we insist upon taking our own sweet time about it, then it will be that much more difficult and costly.

Surely if we can spend $40 billions and more each year for national needs, it is not unreasonable to hope that at a minimum, $2.5 billions be devoted annually to the program of conservation of natural resources. That would be like putting money away in the bank.

A Look At The Year 2000

On the brighter side, The Christian Science Monitor reports, a group of nuclear scientists were looking ahead to the year 2000.

It had brighter colors than are generally visible to the eye today.

Here is one phase that these scientists foresaw at the close of a breathtaking 20th century. The world, they concluded, will have ceased largely to use fossil-derived fuels — coal and oil—and will be embarked full steam ahead into the age of atomic power, and perhaps some utilization of sun power. As the scientists put it, the world will have moved away from reliance on the crumbs of energy left in a fossilized strata into an era of actual control of the power within the atom.

It is this peacetime use of atomic energy, an age widely heralded but as remote now seemingly as ever, for which the world has been waiting. There has been the assurance on frequent occasions that a force now so awesome and so destructive under proper application can be equally beneficent and helpful.

That is the more inspiring, the more hopeful view of the development of the atom. So remote from the thoughts of most of the millions of people who occupy this earth, that also is related to the struggle now in progress in Washington over the development of atomic energy for peacetime uses.

Thus far Congress has moved cautiously, which is most commendable, in revising the McMahon Act. This present Congress and administration in general is said to be friendly to the idea of atomic power development by private industry. That is based on the feeling that a federal monopoly in this field is contrary to the basic American economic philosophy.

But it is not that simple.

In the first place, the American people spent a whale of a lot of money $14 billions, it is estimated—for atomic development. It is said and with some force that there is a primary interest in its benefits. Then there is the matter of security, which does not appear to be insurmountable; and the greater difficulty in the special relations between the government and those companies licensed to operate in this field. Which is to say that there is a strain on the imagination of fitting in the peacetime use of atomic energy with the common conception of private enterprise.

The atom in the year 2000 will change this world greatly—so much so that in its final decision, Congress will need and undoubtedly will receive the counsel and advice of the scientists.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

One of the Senate's most persistent, determined members, Sen. Harry Byrd, scion of a distinguished Virginia family, goes his lonely way, a curious figure in this uneasy world.

Debt Ceiling Battle Looms

Shortly, the news columns indicate, President Eisenhower will ask Congress to hike the present $275 billion debt ceiling to $295 billion. Sen. Byrd will fight it. He has been battling more than a decade and a half in his grim, humorless way against any debt increase, and the spending which makes it necessary for Uncle Sam to plunge deeper and deeper into debt. There will be nothing spectacular in any fight Sen. Byrd makes. He has no sense of dramatics, and if he did, the field to which he has devoted most of his energies and thoughts does not lend itself to any emotional approach in discussion. So in his own plodding fashion. Sen. Byrd will undertake to convince his colleagues and more particularly to persuade President Eisenhower that the only way the budget can be balanced and a continuing increase of national debt can be avoided is simply to cut appropriations until Uncle Sam finds it possible to balance his books.

★

Sen. Byrd simply refuses to look beyond the fact that the only way Uncle Sam can avoid increasing the national debt is to spend annually just a little bit less money than the federal government collects. It is that easy, that simple. Nothing else counts. The administration, in his judgment, must see to it that the treasury takes in as much if not a little bit more than it pays out every 12 months.. Any departure from this practice falls short of what the American people have a right to expect.

Ghosts Which Arise To Walk

Sen. Byrd generally has been credited with bolting the nominee of his own party to support President Eisenhower. The basis of that reputed support was the President's pledge to reduce taxes, to balance the budget, and impliedly to abstain from making any request for an increase in the national debt. It was these pledges to which the President himself gave voice, taken up and echoed by his supporters from coast to coast, which dog the present occupant of the White House day by day. A balanced budget is remote, and its likelihood recedes as changing world conditions contribute to needs for money. Sen. Byrd might or might not confess that turmoil in Southeast Asia, coupled with indications of cross-purposes among the free nations of the West, have destroyed hopes of substantial economies for the time being. This veteran Virginian employs only one yardstick and that is a balanced budget. In the Senate during the first session of this 83rd Congress, he had his way. He cannot continue to ride in the driver's seat. And that means Sen. Byrd will have to part company with the President with as little evidence of a shattered friendship as possible, but in the spirit of cross-purposes henceforth.

★

Sen. Byrd will continue his lonely crusade. He has placed a great deal more emphasis upon the national debt than do the American people in their daily lives.

Death Of Charles Tucker

Charles A. Tucker, a pioneer citizen of Lincoln whose death occurred Thursday at the age of 89, was a mixture of the old and the new.

In graceful, happy spirit, it was no chore for him to adapt himself to a changing world —from the vicissitudes and dangers of a very new land opening up settlement to the growing maturity of a state capital.

Mr. Tucker saw it all.

As a child in the ghost town of Helena in Johnson County his eyes looked out upon more Indians than whites. He saw the lumbering caravans push westward, the ox team and its burden. He was a spectator to Lincoln's growth from its dusty or muddy dirt streets, flanked by board sidewalks to its miles upon miles of pavement.

That circle of friends Mr. Tucker accumulated in the years of living had a deep respect and affection for him. For he was a companionable man, quiet and understanding but neighborly in the full sense of those who knew the real neighborliness of the pioneer.

Soil Depletion

The Senate Finance Committee recently voted secretly to reject the bill that would have reduced from 27½ to 23 per cent the depletion allowance on oil and gas. The allowance has been saving the oil people something like $250 million in taxes per year. This saving has been continued.

The basis of the allowance is that removal of oil or gas depletes the earth's supply and the owner, therefore, is entitled to something akin to an indemnity.

Assuming the logic of that, then one is prompted to ask what is wrong with a federal farm program that guarantees a solvency market for farm products. It is just as true that every grain of wheat takes from the soil some of its essence which if not restored will one day rob the soil of its fertility. If the farmer is going to be required to sell the soil's resources for whatever the market will bring and cannot charge something for the factor of depletion, the country will some day have dead land. It seems that some sort of a depletion allowance, whether by price supports or by incentive payments, is highly sound so long as it is designed to maintain the fertility of the soil.

Caught Again

It is fashionable these days for our foreign neighbors to discover new disappointments in the United States. The field of international relations has been pretty well worked over and we have funked. The Supreme Court just lately saved us from complete guilt as a racially intolerant people. But we have finally been pinned down in a brand new field, caught napping and red-handed.

We are unfair to foreign sportsmen. Alex Faulkner, New York correspondent for the London Daily Telegraph has discovered that we have six states which will not issue fishing licenses to foreigners and 13 states will not let them hunt, not even with bows and arrows.

Nebraska is one of those intolerant states.

This shameful state of affairs will probably get a good going over by Molotov at Geneva and may expect the congressional investigation will ensue.

Mundt Told To Run For Presidency Or A Hole

WASHINGTON—Karl Mundt, the perspiring, unenvied senator from South Dakota who presides over the McCarthy hearings, got aboard the little trolley car that runs between the Senate office building and the Capitol the other day. With him was ex-Sen. Ernest McFarland of Arizona, former Democratic leader of the Senate.

"Karl," said McFarland, "you ought to run for president. You've been on television for weeks. Everybody knows you. You've had a tremendous buildup. You ought not to waste all this publicity. You've got to run for president."

The Republican senator from South Dakota looked both sheepish and reluctant. He gave the impression of one who wanted to shun the McCarthy hearings, shun the presidency, even shun the trolley car under the Capitol.

But his friend from Arizona persisted. Turning to Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas who had just boarded the car, McFarland said:

"Bill, don't you think that, with all this TV publicity, Karl has got to run for president?"

"Yes," said Fulbright, "either for president or for a hole."

BEHIND FRANKIE COSTELLO

Behind the recent conviction of Frankie Costello for income-tax evasion is a long history of backstage government maneuvering, some against Costello, some aimed at keeping him out of jail. It dates back about seven years. The men who really deserve credit for convicting the kingpin of the gambling world are Justice Tom Clark, former attorney general; Harry Anslinger, the indefatigable narcotics commissioner; and Sen. Kefauver, whose crime probe focused attention on Costello in such a way that even the most powerful officials could not afford to buck public opinion.

Perhaps the most amazing feature of the whole Costello story is that it would have been possible, as early as July 21, 1947, to send Frankie back to his native Italy. For it was on that date that this writer first exposed the fact that Costello, in taking out his American citizenship, had perjured himself by failing to reveal that he had previously been convicted of carrying a concealed weapon.

However, thanks to powerful friends in high places, Costello never was deported. In fact, he even seemed to enjoy the benign blessings of certain crime busting officials in New York. For it was Costello and Costello alone who carried a suitcase out to Ellis Island to bid farewell to Lucky Luciano when Gov. Dewey let Luciano out of a 99-year rap in Sing Sing.

Of the many, many stories I have written about Costello, there is one I regret. It told of Costello's Washington lobbyist, Murray Olf, and his association with certain congressmen. I do not regret writing about Murray Olf, but I do think I was guilty of practicing a certain amount of McCarthyism on the congressmen—namely, guilt by association.

What happened was that Olf occasionally entertained a small group of congressmen in his apartment at the Congressional Hotel, including Phil Welch of Missouri, Jim Murphy of Staten Island, N.Y., Ed Willis of Louisiana, Louis Rabout of Michigan, Chester Gorski of Buffalo and a few others.

CIGARETTES AND LUNG CANCER

While I am getting things off my chest, Dr. Alton Ochsner, the famed lung surgeon of Tulane University, has asked me to correct a statement he made, and which I quoted, to the effect that the Associated Press had killed a story by their Denver correspondent regarding the effect of cigarettes on lung cancer.

Dr. Ochsner says that while the Denver AP man did show him a "kill" from his office following Ochsner's speech in 1948, he has now received a letter from Alan Gould of the AP in New York stating that the dispatch from Denver was "eliminated" because it was "improperly written, in that it included gratuitous and editorial expressions."

"For example," explained Mr. Gould, "it started with this sentence: 'The cigarette companies won't like this, but a man who ought to know, thinks a lot of citizens are digging their own graves with their lungs.' And it ended with this statement: 'So take a deep drag off that cigarette, brother. And think it over.' "

A substitute story was sent out by the AP, Mr. Gould states. This correctly quoted Dr. Ochsner to the effect that "the incidence of cancer of the lung has soared upward in a line parallel with that of the cigarette sales chart."

However, the substitute story also contained a statement quoting Dr. Ochsner as saying: "There is no conclusive proof that smoking causes cancer of the lung." Dr. Ochsner informs me that he does not remember making such a statement, inasmuch as most of his address at Denver was devoted to the probability that cigarette smoking does induce cancer of the lung.

In brief, the AP did carry a modified story on Dr. Ochsner's remarks, after "eliminating" the original story. In fairness both to the AP and Dr. Ochsner, I am delighted to publish the above details.

French Intellectual Defends Oppenheimer

PARIS—The novelist and critic, Haakon Chevalier, named in charges resulting in suspension of J. Robert Oppenheimer as scientific consultant to the Atomic Energy Commission, has denied emphatically that he had ever sought information from Oppenheimer about atomic developments in 1943 or at any other time. Chevalier is one of the many intellectual friends of the brilliant Oppenheimer whose interests extended far beyond science to literature, music and politics, and their friendship has continued down to the present.

"I never talked with Oppie," Chevalier told me, "on the basis of providing information to anyone. I reported to him that George Eltenton had approached me and that I was deeply disturbed since I knew his Russian connections. As you know, he had lived in the Soviet Union and had a wife and child there."

Chevalier says he was never a Communist or a pro-Communist, and he ascribes the present furor to the witch hunting mood now prevailing in America. He gave me a photostatic copy of a letter from Oppenheimer on stationery of the Institute for Advanced Studies. The letter to "Dear Haakon," dated February 24, 1950, is as follows:

"Thank you for your good letter of February 21. I can understand that an account of my testimony before the House Committee could be helpful to you in seeking a suitable academic position at this time. I cannot send it to you because I had never myself had a transcript, and because the committee ruled at the time that they desired to keep and would keep, the hearings secret. But I can tell you what I said . . .

"As you know, I have been deeply disturbed by the threat to your career which these ugly stories could constitute. If I can help you in that, you may call on me."

As Chevalier told the story in his small Montmartre apartment, Oppenheimer in 1943 began to pull away from his group of friends at the University of California. They knew he was involved in some extremely secret work for the government, but, according to Chevalier, they did not know what it was or where it went on. Oppenheimer would simply be gone for weeks or months at a time. He offered no explanation and gave only vague answers to casual questions.

This was, of course, at the time that he took over direction of the Los Alamos atomic laboratories where he, more than perhaps any other single individual, contributed to the final success of the first test explosion in New Mexico and later in the first use of an atomic bomb in warfare at Hiroshima.

In the aftermath of the war some of Oppenheimer's old friends began to discover that their names had been involved in official loyalty investigations presumably by Oppenheimer. They were deeply disturbed and yet, in the instance of Chevalier, for one, their friendship was not interrupted.

As charges spread involving Oppenheimer's brother and others of his close associates, Chevalier found himself under fire. His teaching connection with the University of California, where he had taught French for 20 years, was severed, and it proved impossible to get another position.

Holding both French and American citizenship, Chevalier, as he tells his story, decided to return to France. He and his second wife now live here. Shortly before coming to Paris in 1950 they visited the Oppenheimers at Princeton, where Oppenheimer is head of the institute for advanced studies.

They saw Oppenheimer last December when he visited Paris, and at that time he gave them a hint of trouble ahead for him although he did not disclose that the AEC had officially raised the issue of his loyalty. Chevalier brought Oppenheimer together with Andre Malhraux, one of the most prominent French novelists and critics.

Although he has no background in science, Malhraux has a mentality that crackles with a brilliance like that of Oppenheimer. He was accused of being a Communist, an accusation he indignantly denied to this reporter in a talk some years ago. After the war he was an ardent champion of Gen. DeGaulle and more recently he has put politics aside to write and publish a history of the psychology of art that has won wide acclaim everywhere.

Chevalier, like most European intellectuals, believes that the contrast between the fate of Malhraux and that of Oppenheimer points up the difference between Europe and the U.S.A. Malhraux has not been punished for any wrongheadedness of which he may have been guilty in espousing a cause that the Communists later took over, while Oppenheimer is threatened with the loss of his reputation and the end of his career. Like Malhraux he long since realized that the idealistic and humanitarian motives which led him to be interested in Communism have no part in the cruel and ruthless reality of the Communism of the Kremlin.

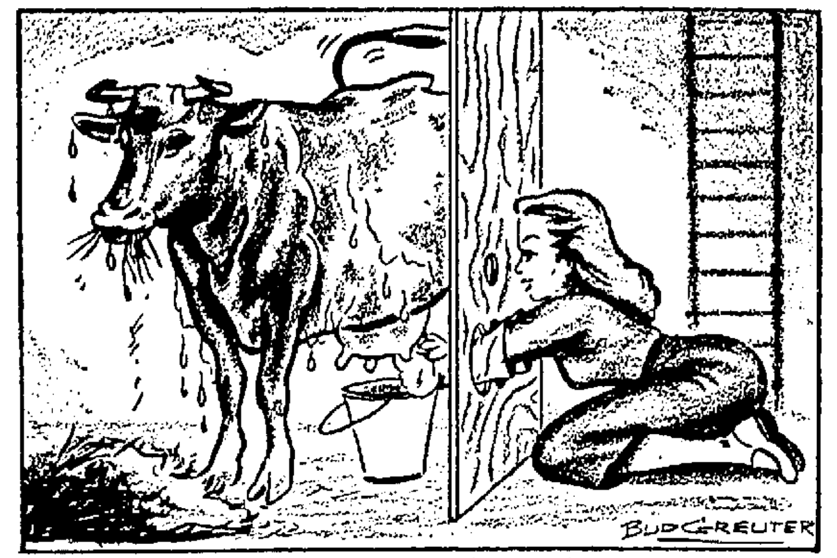
No Tea Cakes Nor Tamales, Just Rhubarb Pie

By MONA B. PARKER



"Have you ever milked a cow after a rain, when she's dripping wet," asks Scribner Farmerette Mrs. LeRoy Ahrndt, "and had the drops trickle up your sleeve? Just one of the lesser pleasures of farming."

Much that belongs to the picturesque way of living and doing must eventually in the swift current of the times give way to so-called progress and modernization. Some may be truly regretable; some merely shaded with the disillusioning veil of nostalgic memory . . .

"Old Man" King of the Sutton News is not one who clings to the belief that old ways are always best. Replacing the battered milk can set at the road's edge by the dairy farmer, to be picked up by the trucker who hauls it to the creamery, will be stainless steel refrigerated storage tanks—and this Mr. King finds good.

Visiting some Kansas nephews a few weeks ago, he proved his point. Two cans of milk were lost that the new method would have saved. "One can soured before it reached the processor. The second can was soured because the loss of the first can by the trucker worried him so much he forgot to pick up the second can."

Had the milk been refrigerated, Mr. King reasons, the producer would have had "the extra cash instead of more hog feed."

Resurrected from the dusty parlors of yesteryear is a lighting feature now on display in Morrill's local gas company show room. It's an old mantle gas lamp with four mantles, encased in a globe, and was evidently a ceiling fixture. Several families in Morrill used gas for lighting many years ago, although the pressure type gas lamp was more common.

Usually Mrs. Kenneth McDonald, Boelus farm wife, has to break up a number of setting hens during this season, but this year she had a new experience —she had to buy setting hens. Hatcheries won't do custom hatching — so "it's back to nature!" Mrs. McDonald has nine old biddies on the job now and "can scarcely wait until they hatch to count out chicks, goslings and ducklings."

Mrs. Lester Eastwood tells about some youngsters in a community near Pawnee City, and the mischief they concocted one afternoon while their mothers enjoyed a club meeting. The hostess, too, had set hens, and while the meeting progressed indoors, the little folks were busy, busy, busy gathering up all the eggs from under the hens and throwing them into the tank.

Santa Claus came early to Fairbury, the News reports, at least to egg-lovers in the vicinity of 6th and C Streets. Four cases of eggs broke loose from their rope moorings on a passing truck there and crashed to the paving in the middle of the intersection. Neighbors came running, and the eggs were running, too. The disgusted trucker said anyone could have anything he could salvage. One woman was observed to scoop up "what appeared to be enough eggs to last her family the rest of the summer." Others "poured" eggs into sacks. One small boy slipped and sat down in the middle of the whole mess . . .

Harry Strunk of the McCook Gazette is threatening to run for governor if Highway 83 isn't improved with what he terms "bonus money." But that's nothing—Hyde Sweet thinks he'll have a go at the presidency "unless Mr. Ress spends money enough on our No. 2 to make it rideable. It's the least comfortable road of any importance in the state!"

Just a few days now, says Mary Packwood in the Johnson County Courier, and "we can begin to sing the glories of the beautiful June brides (while the anxious papas mop their brows and wonder if they will ever get that hop and skip step perfected in time to get to the altar and give the bride away."

Rhubarb pie is something extra special this time of year, at least to a staff writer for the Nebraska Signal who from descriptive evidence cooks as well as she writes . . .

"The first pie made from the tender young stalks is always the best, with plenty of sugar and just enough thickened juice to run from the sides of each wedge. France has its delicate puffs and meringues. England, her tea cakes and Mexico, the hot tamale pies, but let me have a common man's fare—plain rhubarb pie."

Farm Bloc Tells Ike To Soften Ag Stand

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower on Wednesday got the bad news in person that the best deal he can get from Congress on farm legislation is a compromise.

He was warned also that farm policy by veto was not the answer and would be politically unwise. It has been widely reported that the President would veto any farm bill containing high fixed price supports — a maneuver which would "make automatically effective a flexible price-support program already on the statute books.

Republicans must prove to the farmers that they can legislate on agricultural policy, the President was told. He was promised a bill that would contain planning of the kind needed to convince farmers that their interests are important to the Republican administration.

The President's callers were Rep. Clifford Hope (R) of Kansas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, and its ranking republican members, Reps. August Andresen of Minnesota, William Hill of Colorado, and Charles Hoeven of Iowa. They had brushed aside White House messengers and asked for the appointment because they wanted to explore the situation with the President face to face.

The President had with him Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, who is promoting flexible price supports. Sen. George Aiken of Vermont, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, sides with Benson — but the Aiken committee as of now stands 8 to 7 in favor of a one-year extension of 90 per cent parity supports.

Actually the President, in a sense, is being called upon to umpire differences on Farm policy between the coastal states, East and West, and the Midwest-South coalition. The coasts have considerable voice in the Senate—Aiken himself is from Vermont.

The House committee is dominated by the Midwesterners and Southerners, who have a smooth working arrangement with each other no matter which party is in power. Rep. Hope has an excellent chance to bring out legislation that all or very nearly all his colleagues will approve and fight for on the house floor.

What he would like to do is to de-emphasize both fixed and flexible price supports in a new program and to build it around soil conservation. Some form of price supports would be included for another year at least.

Unless Secretary Benson acts soon and decisively, there will also be some congressional instruction on the subject of the present surpluses, which have done so much to discredit the program. Members of the farm bloc note that the secretary has virtually thrown up his hands on this matter, claiming the various plans would be illegal or too costly.

They are willing to grant that the secretary is sincere — but they believe much can and should be done. They also feel it would have been done by a secretary who was not vehemently opposed to the present program.

In recent years the Senate has dragged its feet on farm legislation and, in the adjournment rush, forced the House to accept provisions the house leaders thought unwise. The House, for example, never wanted the flexible price supports which now are a standing threat in case of a presidential veto or lack of new legislation. This year the House leaders propose to enact their own bill and fight for it in conference.

Money Well Spent

Whatever amount the federal government decides to spend in the program to reduce soil blowing in three southwestern Nebraska counties—Dundy, Hitchcock and Hayes—will be money well spent.

The tentative sum of $130,000 has been set aside, the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office reported. That adds up to approximately $1.25 an acre for the 92,000 acres in the three counties which are subject to damage from blowing.

It is cheap at the price.

And it is one of the best investments Uncle Sam makes, an investment which will repay the American people over the long pull. Every cent spent by Uncle Sam for soil improvement, for conserving water, for forestation—every cent spent for conservation of resources—is money well spent even in a period when the tax shoe pinches until it hurts.

There is one thing about this business of combatting the depletion of America's resources. Nature will not wait upon us. Either we get along with the job or if we insist upon taking our own sweet time about it, then it will be that much more difficult and costly.

Surely if we can spend $40 billions and more each year for national needs, it is not unreasonable to hope that at a minimum, $2.5 billions be devoted annually to the program of conservation of natural resources. That would be like putting money away in the bank.

A Look At The Year 2000

On the brighter side, The Christian Science Monitor reports, a group of nuclear scientists were looking ahead to the year 2000.

It had brighter colors than are generally visible to the eye today.

Here is one phase that these scientists foresaw at the close of a breathtaking 20th century. The world, they concluded, will have ceased largely to use fossil-derived fuels — coal and oil—and will be embarked full steam ahead into the age of atomic power, and perhaps some utilization of sun power. As the scientists put it, the world will have moved away from reliance on the crumbs of energy left in a fossilized strata into an era of actual control of the power within the atom.

It is this peacetime use of atomic energy, an age widely heralded but as remote now seemingly as ever, for which the world has been waiting. There has been the assurance on frequent occasions that a force now so awesome and so destructive under proper application can be equally beneficent and helpful.

That is the more inspiring, the more hopeful view of the development of the atom. So remote from the thoughts of most of the millions of people who occupy this earth, that also is related to the struggle now in progress in Washington over the development of atomic energy for peacetime uses.

Thus far Congress has moved cautiously, which is most commendable, in revising the McMahon Act. This present Congress and administration in general is said to be friendly to the idea of atomic power development by private industry. That is based on the feeling that a federal monopoly in this field is contrary to the basic American economic philosophy.

But it is not that simple.

In the first place, the American people spent a whale of a lot of money $14 billions, it is estimated—for atomic development. It is said and with some force that there is a primary interest in its benefits. Then there is the matter of security, which does not appear to be insurmountable; and the greater difficulty in the special relations between the government and those companies licensed to operate in this field. Which is to say that there is a strain on the imagination of fitting in the peacetime use of atomic energy with the common conception of private enterprise.

The atom in the year 2000 will change this world greatly—so much so that in its final decision, Congress will need and undoubtedly will receive the counsel and advice of the scientists.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Shortly, the news columns indicate, President Eisenhower will ask Congress to hike the present $275 billion debt ceiling to $295 billion. Sen. Byrd will fight it. He has been battling more than a decade and a half in his grim, humorless way against any debt increase, and the spending which makes it necessary for Uncle Sam to plunge deeper and deeper into debt.

Debt Ceiling Battle Looms

There will be nothing spectacular in any fight Sen. Byrd makes. He has no sense of dramatics, and if he did, the field to which he has devoted most of his energies and thoughts does not lend itself to any emotional approach in discussion. So in his own plodding fashion. Sen. Byrd will undertake to convince his colleagues and more particularly to persuade President Eisenhower that the only way the budget can be balanced and a continuing increase of national debt can be avoided is simply to cut appropriations until Uncle Sam finds it possible to balance his books.

★

Sen. Byrd simply refuses to look beyond the fact that the only way Uncle Sam can avoid increasing the national debt is to spend annually just a little bit less money than the federal government collects. It is that easy, that simple. Nothing else counts. The administration, in his judgment, must see to it that the treasury takes in as much if not a little bit more than it pays out every 12 months.. Any departure from this practice falls short of what the American people have a right to expect.

★

Sen. Byrd generally has been credited with bolting the nominee of his own party to support President Eisenhower. The basis of that reputed support was the President's pledge to reduce taxes, to balance the budget, and impliedly to abstain from making any request for an increase in the national debt. It was these pledges to which the President himself gave voice, taken up and echoed by his supporters from coast to coast, which dog the present occupant of the White House day by day. A balanced budget is remote, and its likelihood recedes as changing world conditions contribute to needs for money. Sen. Byrd might or might not confess that turmoil in Southeast Asia, coupled with indications of cross-purposes among the free nations of the West, have destroyed hopes of substantial economies for the time being. This veteran Virginian employs only one yardstick and that is a balanced budget. In the Senate during the first session of this 83rd Congress, he had his way. He cannot continue to ride in the driver's seat. And that means Sen. Byrd will have to part company with the President with as little evidence of a shattered friendship as possible, but in the spirit of cross-purposes henceforth.

Sen. Byrd will continue his lonely crusade. He has placed a great deal more emphasis upon the national debt than do the American people in their daily lives.

Caught Again

It is fashionable these days for our foreign neighbors to discover new disappointments in the United States. The field of international relations has been pretty well worked over and we have funked. The Supreme Court just lately saved us from complete guilt as a racially intolerant people. But we have finally been pinned down in a brand new field, caught napping and red-handed.

We are unfair to foreign sportsmen. Alex Faulkner, New York correspondent for the London Daily Telegraph has discovered that we have six states which will not issue fishing licenses to foreigners and 13 states will not let them hunt, not even with bows and arrows.

Nebraska is one of those intolerant states.

Death Of Charles Tucker

Charles A. Tucker, a pioneer citizen of Lincoln whose death occurred Thursday at the age of 89, was a mixture of the old and the new.

In graceful, happy spirit, it was no chore for him to adapt himself to a changing world—from the vicissitudes and dangers of a very new land opening up settlement to the growing maturity of a state capital.

Mr. Tucker saw it all.

As a child in the ghost town of Helena in Johnson County his eyes looked out upon more Indians than whites. He saw the lumbering caravans push westward, the ox team and its burden. He was a spectator to Lincoln's growth from its dusty or muddy dirt streets, flanked by board sidewalks to its miles upon miles of pavement.

That circle of friends Mr. Tucker accumulated in the years of living had a deep respect and affection for him. For he was a companionable man, quiet and understanding but neighborly in the full sense of those who knew the real neighborliness of the pioneer.

Soil Depletion

The Senate Finance Committee recently voted secretly to reject the bill that would have reduced from 27½ to 23 per cent the depletion allowance on oil and gas. The allowance has been saving the oil people something like $250 million in taxes per year. This saving has been continued.

The basis of the allowance is that removal of oil or gas depletes the earth's supply and the owner, therefore, is entitled to something akin to an indemnity.

Assuming the logic of that, then one is prompted to ask what is wrong with a federal farm program that guarantees a solvency market for farm products. It is just as true that every grain of wheat takes from the soil some of its essence which if not restored will one day rob the soil of its fertility. If the farmer is going to be required to sell the soil's resources for whatever the market will bring and cannot charge something for the factor of depletion, the country will some day have dead land. It seems that some sort of a depletion allowance, whether by price supports or by incentive payments, is highly sound so long as it is designed to maintain the fertility of the soil.

Mundt Told To Run For Presidency Or A Hole

WASHINGTON — Karl Mundt, the perspiring, unenvied senator from South Dakota who presides over the McCarthy hearings, got aboard the little trolley car that runs between the Senate office building and the Capitol the other day. With him was ex-Sen. Ernest McFarland of Arizona, former Democratic leader of the Senate.

"Karl," said McFarland, "you ought to run for president. You've been on television for weeks. Everybody knows you. You've had a tremendous buildup. You ought not to waste all this publicity. You've got to run for president."

The Republican senator from South Dakota looked both sheepish and reluctant. He gave the impression of one who wanted to shun the McCarthy hearings, shun the presidency, even shun the trolley car under the Capitol.

But his friend from Arizona persisted. Turning to Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas who had just boarded the car, McFarland said:

"Bill, don't you think that, with all this TV publicity, Karl has got to run for president?"

"Yes," said Fulbright, "either for president or for a hole."

BEHIND FRANKIE COSTELLO

Behind the recent conviction of Frankie Costello for income-tax evasion is a long history of backstage government maneuvering, some against Costello, some aimed at keeping him out of jail. It dates back about seven years. The men who really deserve credit for convicting the kingpin of the gambling world are Justice Tom Clark, former attorney general; Harry Anslinger, the indefatigable narcotics commissioner; and Sen. Kefauver, whose crime probe focused attention on Costello in such a way that even the most powerful officials could not afford to buck public opinion.

Perhaps the most amazing feature of the whole Costello story is that it would have been possible, as early as July 21, 1947, to send Frankie back to his native Italy. For it was on that date that this writer first exposed the fact that Costello, in taking out his American citizenship, had perjured himself by failing to reveal that he had previously been convicted of carrying a concealed weapon.

However, thanks to powerful friends in high places, Costello never was deported. In fact, he even seemed to enjoy the benign blessings of certain crime busting officials in New York. For it was Costello and Costello alone who carried a suitcase out to Ellis Island to bid farewell to Lucky Luciano when Gov. Dewey let Luciano out of a 99-year rap in Sing Sing.

Of the many, many stories I have written about Costello, there is one I regret. It told of Costello's Washington lobbyist, Murray Olf, and his association with certain congressmen. I do not regret writing about Murray Olf, but I do think I was guilty of practicing a certain amount of McCarthyism on the congressmen—namely, guilt by association.

What happened was that Olf occasionally entertained a small group of congressmen in his apartment at the Congressional Hotel, including Phil Welch of Missouri, Jim Murphy of Staten Island, N.Y., Ed Willis of Louisiana, Louis Rabout of Michigan, Chester Gorski of Buffalo and a few others.

CIGARETTES AND LUNG CANCER

While I am getting things off my chest, Dr. Alton Ochsner, the famed lung surgeon of Tulane University, has asked me to correct a statement he made, and which I quoted, to the effect that the Associated Press had killed a story by their Denver correspondent regarding the effect of cigarettes on lung cancer.

Dr. Ochsner says that while the Denver AP man did show him a "kill" from his office following Ochsner's speech in 1948, he has now received a letter from Alan Gould of the AP in New York stating that the dispatch from Denver was "eliminated" because it was "improperly written, in that it included gratuitous and editorial expressions."

"For example," explained Mr. Gould, "it started with this sentence: 'The cigarette companies won't like this, but a man who ought to know, thinks a lot of citizens are digging their own graves with their lungs.' And it ended with this statement: 'So take a deep drag off that cigarette, brother. And think it over.' "

A substitute story was sent out by the AP, Mr. Gould states. This correctly quoted Dr. Ochsner to the effect that "the incidence of cancer of the lung has soared upward in a line parallel with that of the cigarette sales chart."

However, the substitute story also contained a statement quoting Dr. Ochsner as saying: "There is no conclusive proof that smoking causes cancer of the lung." Dr. Ochsner informs me that he does not remember making such a statement, inasmuch as most of his address at Denver was devoted to the probability that cigarette smoking does induce cancer of the lung.

In brief, the AP did carry a modified story on Dr. Ochsner's remarks, after "eliminating" the original story. In fairness both to the AP and Dr. Ochsner, I am delighted to publish the above details.

MARQUIS CHILDS

French Intellectual Defends Oppenheimer

PARIS—The novelist and critic, Haakon Chevalier, named in charges resulting in suspension of J. Robert Oppenheimer as scientific consultant to the Atomic Energy Commission, has denied emphatically that he had ever sought information from Oppenheimer about atomic developments in 1943 or at any other time. Chevalier is one of the many intellectual friends of the brilliant Oppenheimer whose interests extended far beyond science to literature, music and politics, and their friendship has continued down to the present.

"I never talked with Oppie," Chevalier told me, "on the basis of providing information to anyone. I reported to him that George Eltenton had approached me and that I was deeply disturbed since I knew his Russian connections. As you know, he had lived in the Soviet Union and had a wife and child there."

Chevalier says he was never a Communist or a pro-Communist, and he ascribes the present furor to the witch hunting mood now prevailing in America. He gave me a photostatic copy of a letter from Oppenheimer on stationery of the Institute for Advanced Studies. The letter to "Dear Haakon," dated February 24, 1950, is as follows:

"Thank you for your good letter of February 21. I can understand that an account of my testimony before the House Committee could be helpful to you in seeking a suitable academic position at this time. I cannot send it to you because I had never myself had a transcript, and because the committee ruled at the time that they desired to keep and would keep, the hearings secret. But I can tell you what I said . . .

"As you know, I have been deeply disturbed by the threat to your career which these ugly stories could constitute. If I can help you in that, you may call on me."

As Chevalier told the story in his small Montmartre apartment, Oppenheimer in 1943 began to pull away from his group of friends at the University of California. They knew he was involved in some extremely secret work for the government, but, according to Chevalier, they did not know what it was or where it went on. Oppenheimer would simply be gone for weeks or months at a time. He offered no explanation and gave only vague answers to casual questions.

This was, of course, at the time that he took over direction of the Los Alamos atomic laboratories where he, more than perhaps any other single individual, contributed to the final success of the first test explosion in New Mexico and later in the first use of an atomic bomb in warfare at Hiroshima.

In the aftermath of the war some of Oppenheimer's old friends began to discover that their names had been involved in official loyalty investigations presumably by Oppenheimer. They were deeply disturbed and yet, in the instance of Chevalier, for one, their friendship was not interrupted.

As charges spread involving Oppenheimer's brother and others of his close associates, Chevalier found himself under fire. His teaching connection with the University of California, where he had taught French for 20 years, was severed, and it proved impossible to get another position.

Holding both French and American citizenship, Chevalier, as he tells his story, decided to return to France. He and his second wife now live here. Shortly before coming to Paris in 1950 they visited the Oppenheimers at Princeton, where Oppenheimer is head of the institute for advanced studies.

They saw Oppenheimer last December when he visited Paris, and at that time he gave them a hint of trouble ahead for him although he did not disclose that the AEC had officially raised the issue of his loyalty. Chevalier brought Oppenheimer together with Andre Malhraux, one of the most prominent French novelists and critics.

Although he has no background in science, Malhraux has a mentality that crackles with a brilliance like that of Oppenheimer. He was accused of being a Communist, an accusation he indignantly denied to this reporter in a talk some years ago. After the war he was an ardent champion of Gen. DeGaulle and more recently he has put politics aside to write and publish a history of the psychology of art that has won wide acclaim everywhere.

Chevalier, like most European intellectuals, believes that the contrast between the fate of Malhraux and that of Oppenheimer points up the difference between Europe and the U.S.A. Malhraux has not been punished for any wrongheadedness of which he may have been guilty in espousing a cause that the Communists later took over, while Oppenheimer is threatened with the loss of his reputation and the end of his career. Like Malhraux he long since realized that the idealistic and humanitarian motives which led him to be interested in Communism have no part in the cruel and ruthless reality of the Communism of the Kremlin.

Visiting some Kansas nephews a few weeks ago, he proved his point. Two cans of milk were lost that the new method would have saved. "One can soured before it reached the processor. The second can was soured because the loss of the first can by the trucker worried him so much he forgot to pick up the second can."

Had the milk been refrigerated, Mr. King reasons, the producer would have had "the extra cash instead of more hog feed."

Resurrected from the dusty parlors of yesteryear is a lighting feature now on display in Morrill's local gas company show room. It's an old mantle gas lamp with four mantles, encased in a globe, and was evidently a ceiling fixture. Several families in Morrill used gas for lighting many years ago, although the pressure type gas lamp was more common.

Usually Mrs. Kenneth McDonald, Boelus farm wife, has to break up a number of setting hens during this season, but this year she had a new experience—she had to buy setting hens. Hatcheries won't do custom hatching — so "it's back to nature!" Mrs. McDonald has nine old biddies on the job now and "can scarcely wait until they hatch to count out chicks, goslings and ducklings."

Mrs. Lester Eastwood tells about some youngsters in a community near Pawnee City, and the mischief they concocted one afternoon while their mothers enjoyed a club meeting. The hostess, too, had set hens, and while the meeting progressed indoors, the little folks were busy, busy, busy gathering up all the eggs from under the hens and throwing them into the tank.

☆ ☆ ☆

Santa Claus came early to Fairbury, the News reports, at least to egg-lovers in the vicinity of 6th and C Streets. Four cases of eggs broke loose from their rope moorings on a passing truck there and crashed to the paving in the middle of the intersection. Neighbors came running, and the eggs were running, too. The disgusted trucker said anyone could have anything he could salvage. One woman was observed to scoop up "what appeared to be enough eggs to last her family the rest of the summer." Others "poured" eggs into sacks. One small boy slipped and sat down in the middle of the whole mess . . .

☆ ☆ ☆

Harry Strunk of the McCook Gazette is threatening to run for governor if Highway 83 isn't improved with what he terms "bonus money." But that's nothing—Hyde Sweet thinks he'll have a go at the presidency "unless Mr. Ress spends money enough on our No. 2 to make it rideable. It's the least comfortable road of any importance in the state!"

☆ ☆ ☆

Just a few days now, says Mary Packwood in the Johnson County Courier, and "we can begin to sing the glories of the beautiful June brides (while the anxious papas mop their brows and wonder if they will ever get that hop and skip step perfected in time to get to the altar and give the bride away."

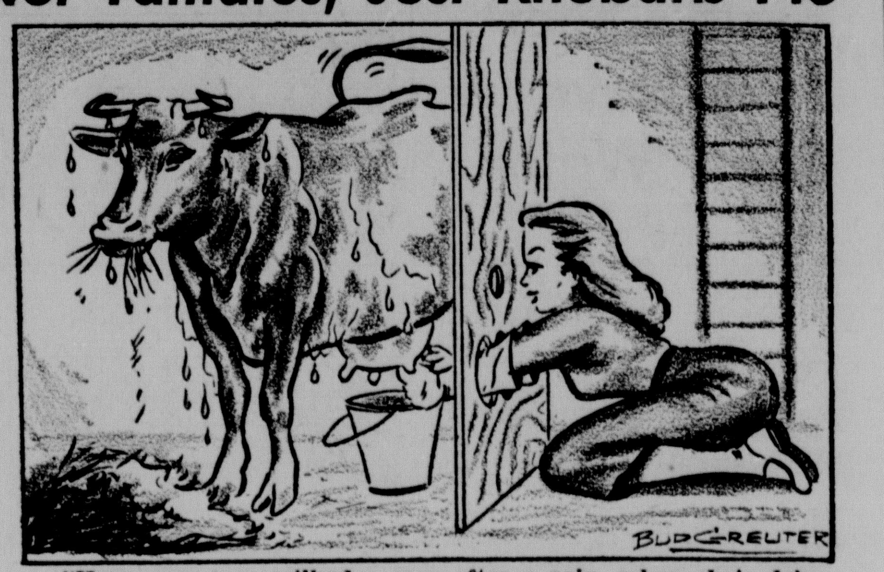
Rhubarb pie is something extra special this time of year, at least to a staff writer for the Nebraska Signal who from descriptive evidence cooks as well as she writes . . .

"The first pie made from the tender young stalks is always the best, with plenty of sugar and just enough thickened juice to run from the sides of each wedge. France has its delicate puffs and meringues. England, her tea cakes and Mexico, the hot tamale pies, but let me have a common man's fare—plain rhubarb pie."



"Have you ever milked a cow after a rain, when she's dripping wet," asks Scribner Farmerette Mrs. LeRoy Ahrndt, "and had the drops trickle up your sleeve? Just one of the lesser pleasures of farming."

Farm Bloc Tells Ike To Soften Ag Stand

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower on Wednesday got the bad news in person that the best deal he can get from Congress on farm legislation is a compromise.

He was warned also that farm policy by veto was not the answer and would be politically unwise. It has been widely reported that the President would veto any farm bill containing high fixed price supports — a maneuver which would make automatically effective a flexible price-support program already on the statute books.

Republicans must prove to the farmers that they can legislate on agricultural policy, the President was told. He was promised a bill that would contain planning of the kind needed to convince farmers that their interests are important to the Republican administration.

The President's callers were Rep. Clifford Hope (R) of Kansas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, and its ranking republican members, Reps. August Andresen of Minnesota, William Hill of Colorado, and Charles Hoeven of Iowa. They had brushed aside White House messengers and asked for the appointment because they wanted to explore the situation with the President face to face.

The President had with him Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson, who is promoting flexible price supports. Sen. George Aiken of Vermont, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, sides with Benson — but the Aiken committee as of now stands 8 to 7 in favor of a one-year extension of 90 per cent parity supports.

Actually the President, in a sense, is being called upon to umpire differences on Farm policy between the coastal states, East and West, and the Midwest-South coalition. The coasts have considerable voice in the Senate—Aiken himself is from Vermont.

The House committee is dominated by the Midwesterners and Southerners, who have a smooth working arrangement with each other no matter which party is in power. Rep. Hope has an excellent chance to bring out legislation that all or very nearly all his colleagues will approve and fight for on the house floor.

What he would like to do is to de-emphasize both fixed and flexible price supports in a new program and to build it around soil conservation. Some form of price supports would be included for another year at least.

Unless Secretary Benson acts soon and decisively, there will also be some congressional instruction on the subject of the present surpluses, which have done so much to discredit the program. Members of the farm bloc note that the secretary has virtually thrown up his hands on this matter, claiming the various plans would be illegal or too costly.

They are willing to grant that the secretary is sincere — but they believe much can and should be done. They also feel it would have been done by a secretary who was not vehemently opposed to the present program.

In recent years the Senate has dragged its feet on farm legislation and, in the adjournment rush, forced the House to accept provisions the house leaders thought unwise. The House, for example, never wanted the flexible price supports which now are a standing threat in case of a presidential veto or lack of new legislation. This year the House leaders propose to enact their own bill and fight for it in conference.

King Cheops' Two 'Death Ships' Discovered In Egypt

CAIRO (INS)— Archeologists were thilled Thursday by discovery of two of King Cheops' solar "Death Ships" — one of the most important finds in Egypt since one of Napoleon's soldiers picked up the black Rosetta Stone 154 years ago.

Just as the Rosetta Stone provided the key to Egypt's ancient language, so may the discovery of the boats—the red "magic" symbol to help Cheops' soul journey through space —unlock the secrets of the Egypt of nearly 5,000 years ago.

The hunch of a young archeologist, Kamal El-Malakah will permit a powerful 20th century shaft of light to reveal and appraise the fabulous reign of Cheops in the fourth dynasty, which began in 2900 B.C. and lasted for 150 years.

El-Malakah, 34-year-old director of archeological work for Giza and lower Egypt, made his first preliminary investigation of the soul ships Wednesday, in the dark underground corridor at the magnificent great pyramid at Giza south of Cairo.

Workers building a new road recently unearthed huge limestone blocks. El-Malakah figured they might have been put there to protect the tomb of Cheops.

A new digging project was started under the direction of Dr. Mustafa Amer, chief of Egypt's department of antiquities.

Tomb Robbing

Practically all major tombs of Egypt's kings entered by modern archeologists have been found violated at some time in the past. A papyrus of the era around 1100 B.C. found by Egyptologists tells of the trial of ancient Thebans for tomb robbing.

One of the boats was described as being 130 feet long. It was fully equipped for the celestial journeyings of Cheops' soul It had 16-foot oars, and hand-worked coils of rope were on an upper deck. It was covered in dried-up sheets. Nearby were wooden burial relics of Cheops' era, covered with flax for protection.

A second boat was believed farther along in the corridor, which was not fully explored.

The covered boat was believed to have been consecrated to "the night journey of the soul" and the second boat, uncovered, for the journey of the soul by day.

The corridor beyond the wooden-decked boats is expected to yield rich artifacts of the Fourth Dynasty, wooden furnishings and other burial equipment that ancient Egypt provided for its departed pharaohs.

Jeary Calls Navy Air Reserve Tour 'Very Impressive'

Mayor Clark Jeary has returned from what he termed "a very impressive tour" of Naval Air Reserve training facilities at Pensacola, Fla.

Flown to the base Tuesday by the Navy, Jeary stated that the group of Midwest officials who made the trip were all impressed with the training program. The training of the cadets, he said, is "efficient and complete."

The group also witnessed the establishment of a new record number of landings, 729, made on an aircraft carrier in any one day. The carrier operations were carried on about 20 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico, Jeary said.

Full Schedule Of Activity Is Planned For NWU Alumni At Commencement

fund highlighting the meeting. Association members will act on a new proposal to strengthen the association and will vote on allocation of Alumni funds to the school for the coming year.

Newly elected Wesleyan Chancellor A. Leland Forrest of Lincoln will speak at the banquet meeting Monday night. Other speakers will include a representative of each of the honor classes of 1904, 1929, and 1954.

Special music will be furnished by the Class of '54. Mr. Williams will act as master of ceremonies.

Dr. Carl C. Bracy, who vacates the Chancellorship June 1 to accept a similar position at Mount Union College, will make a final report to the association on the state of the University.

New officers elected at the business meeting, will be formally presented to the group.

Members of the 50 year honor class of 1904 will be presented with special 50 year certificates during commencement exercises Tuesday morning. Members of the 25 and 50 year honor classes will march in the academic processional.

A full schedule of activity has been planned for Nebraska Wesleyan University alumni in connection with 65th annual commencement exercises this year.

The alumni program, as announced by Association President Dwight Williams ('17) of Lincoln, centers on Monday, May 31, and will be highlighted by the annual business meeting and election of officers and an annual banquet meeting at Cotner Terrace in the evening.

Mr. Williams will preside over the business meeting at 10 a.m. Monday with election of officers and a report on the living alumni

William Bethune Rites Saturday In Los Angeles

Services and burial of William B Bethune, 86, formerly of Lincoln, will be Saturday in Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. Bethune died in North Hollywood, Calif., where he had lived with his nephew the past two years

A Lincoln resident from 1888 until 1910, he was associated with Rudge & Guenzel here.

He was a member of Plymouth Congregational Church and Masonic Lodge 19 in Lincoln.

Mr. Bethune lived in Portland a number of years after leaving Lincoln and then went to Los Angeles where he was in the sheet metal business.

His wife, Florence, died in California about seven years ago

Surviving are his sisters, Mrs. Richard McLellan and Anna and Agnes Bethune, all of Lincoln, and a brother, Martin of Omaha.

Marked Improvement Noted In Beatrice Dairy Herd

By JOHN SWANSON
State Farm Editor

BEATRICE, Neb. — Efforts of the State of Nebraska to improve the quality of farm operations at its various institutions gained more official recognition here Thursday.

The recognition came with the official classification of the dairy herd of the Beatrice State Home by the American Holstein-Friesian Association. W. E. Wyant, assistant manager of the home, reported after the judging that the results indicate a "very marked improvement" of the herd over previous years

This is how members of the herd were placed under the critical eye of the Holstein Association official classifier

Four head, very good
Twenty-one head, good plus,
Thirty-four head, good, and
Nine fair.

The judge, R. D Briggs of Cobleskill, N.Y., remarked during the judging on the "excellent dairy characteristics of many of the cows George Pfieffer agricultural supervisor for the State Board of Control, said that the improvement in the dairy herd at the Beatrice State Home during the last three years is the result of the combined efforts of the dairy staff, superintendent and business manager

Supervisor of the dairy herd at the home is Oscar Meyers and James L Irwin is superintendent of the home Pfeiffer said all milk produced here is used in the institution, and all is homogenized and pasteurized The herd at the home numbers 200 head with 105 head in milk The daily milk production averages between 400 and 450 gallons

The 1953 average production per cow was 11 683 pounds of milk and 409 pounds of fat Breeding stock valued at $7,107 was sold by the home last year.

Another state institution which has been honored in recent years for its quality dairy operation is the Girls Training School at Geneva In addition, a cow entered by the State Penitentiary won first honors at a Holstein show in Seward this spring.

Reed Will Not Run For Post

OMAHA (AP)—Charles S Reed, Omaha attorney who had been considered a possible candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, said Thursday he would not file for the post

Reed listed these two reasons for his decision

"1 Since other worthy candidates have their organizations and campaigns under way, I feel that the time left, between now and the primary election, is too short to prepare for and to do the things essential to conduct a vigorous state-wide campaign

"2 I appreciate the support that has been offered to me, but I have concluded that, even if there was adequate time to organize and conduct a strong primary campaign, it would still be best for me to presently continue my law practice and attention to my personal affairs"

Reed said he would "whole-hseartedly back the 1954 party nominee" and "it is my sincere hope that the Republican governor elected this fall will give full support to our national administration."

Marked Improvement Noted In Beatrice Dairy Herd

By JOHN SWANSON
State Farm Editor

BEATRICE, Neb. — Efforts of the State of Nebraska to improve the quality of farm operations at its various institutions gained more official recognition here Thursday.

The recognition came with the official classification of the dairy herd of the Beatrice State Home by the American Holstein-Fresian Association. W. E. Wyant, assistant manager of the home, reported after the judging that the results indicate a "very marked improvement" of the herd over previous years.

This is how members of the herd were placed under the critical eye of the Holstein Association official classifier:

Four head, very good.
Twenty-one head, good plus.
Thirty-four head, good, and
Nine fair.

The judge, R. D. Briggs of Cobleskill, N.Y., remarked during the judging on the "excellent dairy characteristics" of many of the cows. George Pfieffer, agricultural supervisor for the State Board of Control, said that the improvement in the dairy herd at the Beatrice State Home during the last three years is the result of the combined efforts of the dairy staff, superintendent and business manager.

Supervisor of the dairy herd at the home is Oscar Meyers, and James L. Irwin is superintendent of the home. Pfeiffer said all milk produced here is used in the institution, and all is homogenized and pasteurized. The herd at the home numbers 200 head, with 105 head in milk. The daily milk production averages between 400 and 450 gallons.

The 1953 average production per cow was 11,683 pounds of milk and 409 pounds of fat. Breeding stock valued at $7,107 was sold by the home last year.

Another state institution which has been honored in recent years for its quality dairy operation is the Girls Training School at Geneva. In addition, a cow entered by the State Penitentiary won first honors at a Holstein show in Seward this spring.

Tri-County, Platte Valley Reach Contract

Agreement On Storage Announced

By The Associated Press

Two Nebraska Public Power districts Thursday announced agreement on co-operative management of the Platte River waters available to both.

They are the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District (Tri-County) and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District.

Their statement said the agreement would assure adequate water to farmers who depend on storage water from Lake McConaughy for irrigation of 200,000 acres of Nebraska land.

Tri-County grants Platte space in Lake McConaughy to store up to 125,000 acre feet of water between Oct. 1 and April 1. McConaughy is the reservoir behind Kingsley Dam on the North Platte River north of Ogallala.

The 125,000 acre feet in storage will insure the Platte District enough water to meet its contracts to supply eight canal companies which distribute the water for irrigation.

Under state law and by virtue of owning Lake McConaughy and Kingsley dam, Tri-County owns the basic storage capacity.

But Platte district has prior rights to use of the Platte River water. If it exercised its full rights to use the water for power production it could greatly curtail winter storage.

Winter storage, on the other hand, insures sufficient water for irrigation during the summer months when the Platte River's flow is reduced, sometimes to the point of leaving the river entirely dry.

A previous contract providing for some Platte District storage in Lake McConaughy was considered temporary and was not recognized by the Department of Roads and Irrigation.

That state department, however, has indicated that the storage matter and other difficulties could be overcome by the new contract, Thursday's statement said.

Tri-County, Platte Valley Reach Contract

Agreement On Storage Announced

By The Associated Press

Two Nebraska Public Power districts Thursday announced agreement on co-operative management of the Platte River waters available to both.

They are the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District (Tri-County) and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District.

Their statement said the agreement would assure adequate water to farmers who depend on storage water from Lake McConaughy for irrigation of 200,000 acres of Nebraska land.

Tri-County grants Platte space in Lake McConaughy to store up to 125,000 acre feet of water between Oct. 1 and April 1. McConaughy is the reservoir behind Kingsley Dam on the North Platte River north of Ogallala.

The 125,000 acre feet in storage will insure the Platte District enough water to meet its contracts to supply eight canal companies which distribute the water for irrigation.

Under state law and by virtue of owning Lake McConaughy and Kingsley dam, Tri-County owns the basic storage capacity.

But Platte district has prior rights to use of the Platte River water. If it exercised its full rights to use the water for power production it could greatly curtail winter storage.

Winter storage, on the other hand, insures sufficient water for irrigation during the summer months when the Platte River's flow is reduced, sometimes to the point of leaving the river entirely dry.

A previous contract providing for some Platte District storage in Lake McConaughy was considered temporary and was not recognized by the Department of Roads and Irrigation.

That state department, however, has indicated that the storage matter and other difficulties could be overcome by the new contract, Thursday's statement said.

Fair To Partly Cloudy Forecast

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast for Friday over the entire eastern half of the nation except for the extreme northeast corner. The same kind of weather is predicted for the northern and southern plains and along coast of Washington. Elsewhere fair to partly cloudy skies will prevail as the Memorial Day week end gets underway. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Wolbach Youth Killed By Rope

Lincoln Star Special

WOLBACH, Neb.—Funeral services for John Dean Killinger, 12-year-old Wolbach youth accidently hanged, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Lutheran Church in Wolbach. He lost his life while playing with a rope on a hayrack.

The boy's body was found on his parents' farm, northwest of here, by two older brothers who left the farm house to fix a fence.

When they returned to do farm chores, they found the boy's body entangled in the rope, hanging from the hayrack. The brothers said John had been playing with the rope when they left to fix the fence.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Killinger, two brothers and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zimmerley of Fullerton.

Town and campus circles will be particularly interested this morning in an announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Henry Hammond of the engagement of their daughter, Patrice Margery, to Calvin Elsworth Lemmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin M. Lemmon of Crawford.

The wedding will take place in December.

Miss Hammond will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Mr. Lemmon is a senior at the University of Nebraska, and is a member of Farm House fraternity, and Alpha Zeta.

MISS PATRICE MARGERY HAMMOND

OUT OF THE MAY MORNING AIR

WE HELPED ourselves to some of the interesting news permeating the atmosphere this morning — such as guests — guest courtesies—some plans that involve the Junior League's literati and, of course, news of June brides—

Our most recent guest is Mrs. Fritz Daily of Torrington, Wyo., formerly of Lincoln, who arrived Thursday for a visit with her son, Fred Daily, a freshman at the University of Nebraska, before he takes off on a Navy cruise—Mrs. Daily, so we hear, will go on to Kearney to spend the week-end.

* * *

AND, then we learned of a courtesy for a guest who arrived last week—Mrs. Harold Palmer (Pat Williams) of Short Hills, N. J. who, with her two children, is a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams.

Complimenting Mrs. Palmer today will be Mrs. E. C. Ames who will be a luncheon hostess at the Lincoln Country Club. Luncheon places will be arranged for 10.

* * *

THE Thursday mail included invitations for the wedding of Miss Shirley Sidles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Sidles, and Thomas Bowman of Denver which will take place on Saturday evening, June 19, at the Westminster Presbyterian Church. Following the ceremony a reception will be held at the Lincoln Country Club.

And this is the morning that Miss Sidles has chosen to announce the members of the bridal party which will include Miss Sarah Fulton, who is to be the maid of honor; Mrs. William Cartmell, Mrs. William Hein Jr., Mrs. Harrison Ward Jr., Miss Sally Finkbein of Omaha, and Miss Juanita Rediger of Denver.

William Bowman of Detroit, Mich., will serve his brother as best man, and the ushers will include Frank C. Sidles, brother of the bride-elect; Robert Reynolds, her cousin; James Osbourn and Robert Pierce, both of Denver, and Thomas Habig of Jasper, Ind.

* * *

WE also learned that another party has been added to Miss Sidles' calendar—It is an 11:30 o'clock brunch on Sunday at which the soon-to-be bride will share honors with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bloom, and for which Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Faulkner will be host and hostess at their home.

* * *

IT SEEMS that the Scribblers—the Junior League's literary department—have planned an informal picnic supper for themselves and husbands—or escorts—for Saturday evening, June 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bookstrom. Mrs. Bookstrom is chairman of the Scribblers, and is the editor of the Lincoln Junior League publication, "Smoke Signals."

* * *

ON Friday evening's calendar is the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dosek will preside at Hotel Cornhusker, when they entertain in prenuptial courtesy to their daughter, Miss Joanne Dosek, and her fiance, Lt. Jack Scoville, whose marriage will be solemnized on Saturday morning at Blessed Sacrament Church. Coming from out of town to be included in the guest list of 30, will be Mr. and Mrs. William Mickle (Mary Alice Dosek) of Shenandoah, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Keith D. Evans of Chicago; the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ralph Scoville, and his sister and brother, Miss Betty Scoville and Bob Scoville, all of Hartington, and Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Gelber of Aberdeen, S.D.

INCIDENTALLY—Miss Dosek's long list of courtesies extended into the current week—Last Monday, for instance, Miss Marlene Stroh, Miss Judy Wiebe, and Miss Phyllis Loudon complimented Miss Dosek when they entertained at a luncheon at the home of Miss Stroh. The bride-elect was presented with a hostess gift.

And on Tuesday afternoon Miss Dosek and her mother entertained a small group of guests at a trousseau tea at their home between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock.

The Brides' Book Says:

Miss Jean Gomel, who will become the bride of Jack Bussell in Fairfax, Mo., on June 27, has announced the members of her wedding party this morning.

Miss Julia True, Detroit, will be the maid of honor and the matron of honor will be Mrs. William Robbins. The bridesmaids are Miss Jeanne Villepigue, Wichita, Kan., Miss Janet Sly, and Mrs. William Irby.

Lighting the candles will be Miss Jo Kaiser, Ottawa, Kan., and Miss Jane Barnes, Beaver Dam, Ky.

Don Hanson of Elsie will serve Mr. Bussell as best man and the groomsman will be William Irby. Included in the list of ushers are Harold Gomel, Fairfax, Mo., brother of the bride-elect; DeWayne Bussell, Scotia, the bridegroom's brother, and Ward Lingo, Benkelman.

On Monday, May 24th, Miss Mary Ann Hansen and Miss Martha Hill honored the bride-elect and two of her Delta Delta Delta sorority sisters who will become June brides, at a 10 o'clock brunch and shower at the home of Miss Hill. Sharing honors with Miss Gomel were Miss Carolyn Good, Cozad, who will marry William Irby on June 2, and Miss Elaine Hess, whose marriage to Robert Wisner, Omaha, will be an event of June 5 in Omaha.

Miss Lois Duer, who will become the bride of Warren Whitney at 10 o'clock, Saturday, June 12 at Davey, was the guest of honor Sunday, May 23, when Mrs. Ted Hanson and Mrs. Mary Shanahan entertained at a miscellaneous shower. On Thursday, May 27, the bride-elect will be presented with a kitchen shower when 21 guests gather at the home of Mrs. C. B. Rice for a party. The cohostesses for the evening will be Mrs. L. M. Chubbuck, Mrs. L. C. Loomis and Mrs. D. W. Dotson.

Miss Mary Jo Brayman will honor Miss Duer at a personal shower on Friday, June 4. The party will be held at Miss Brayman's home in the evening.

To Entertain

The members of the Ag College Square Dance Club will entertain at a square dance at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday evening at the Antelope Park pavillion.

Evan Hartman will be the master of ceremonies and the callers are Ray Russell, E. C. Conard and Lloyd Collier. A program will be presented during intermission.

We Hear That--

John Grasmick arrived at Lincoln General hospital on Thursday, May 27, to become a member of the family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Jay Grasmick of Milford. His mother is the former Jewell Hagel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hagel of Omaha, and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Grasmick of Lincoln.

★

Mr. and Mrs. James Q. Hungate announce the birth of a son, Bruce James, on Tuesday, May 25, at St. Elizabeth hospital. Mrs. Hungate is the former Marian Main.

★

There was excitement in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Finnigsmier on Wednesday, May 27, and the cause of it all was the arrival of identical twin sons at Lincoln General hospital. Mrs. Finnigsmier is the former Ruth Crabtree, daughter of Mrs. Edith Crabtree, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Finnigsmier.

Betrothal Announced

MISS DONNA LEA WETZEL

Mr. and Mrs. Fred John Wetzel announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Donna Lea, to Wayne Leonard Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard William Hunt.

The wedding will take place on Sunday evening, July 11, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the Trinity Methodist Church.

Miss Wetzel will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Mr. Hunt also will be graduated in June from the university, and is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Guests Complete Family Sixsome

Arriving from Charleston, Miss., late Wednesday afternoon were Dr. and Mrs. Paul R. Googe, their son, Roger, and their daughter, Joan, who stopped off en route to a holiday in Seattle, Wash., for a visit with Dr. Googe's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. James T. Googe, city-county health director, and Mrs. Googe.

In Seattle Dr. Paul Googe will attend the convention of Rotary International.

Miss Mary Helen Augustine Is To Be An Autumn Bride

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Irving D. Augustine of Grand Island are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Helen, to William F. Swanson of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Swanson of Sutton.

The wedding is planned for the autumn.

Miss Augustine received her Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Chicago, and received specialized training at Columbia University, New York City. Miss Augustine, who is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority, served as a countess in the 1947 Court of Ak-Sar-Ben. She is a member of the faculty at the University of Nebraska.

Mr. Swanson is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He now is serving as director of the Nebraska Real Estate Commission.

And on Tuesday afternoon Miss Dosek and her mother entertained a small group of guests at a trousseau tea at their home between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock.

The Brides' Book Says:

Miss Jean Gomel, who will become the bride of Jack Bussell in Fairfax, Mo., on June 27, has announced the members of her wedding party this morning.

Miss Julia True, Detroit, will be the maid of honor and the matron of honor will be Mrs. William Robbins. The bridesmaids are Miss Jeanne Villepigue, Wichita, Kan., Miss Janet Sly, and Mrs. William Irby.

Lighting the candles will be Miss Jo Kaiser, Ottawa, Kan., and Miss Jane Barnes, Beaver Dam, Ky.

Don Hanson of Elsie will serve Mr. Bussell as best man and the groomsman will be William Irby. Included in the list of ushers are Harold Gomel, Fairfax, Mo., brother of the bride-elect; DeWayne Bussell, Scotia, the bridegroom's brother, and Ward Lingo, Benkelman.

On Monday, May 24th, Miss Mary Ann Hansen and Miss Martha Hill honored the bride-elect and two of her Delta Delta Delta sorority sisters who will become June brides, at a 10 o'clock brunch and shower at the home of Miss Hill. Sharing honors with Miss Gomel were Miss Carolyn Good, Cozad, who will marry William Irby on June 2, and Miss Elaine Hess, whose marriage to Robert Wisner, Omaha, will be an event of June 5 in Omaha.

Miss Lois Duer, who will become the bride of Warren Whitney at 10 o'clock, Saturday, June 12 at Davey, was the guest of honor Sunday, May 23, when Mrs. Ted Hanson and Mrs. Mary Shanahan entertained at a miscellaneous shower. On Thursday, May 27, the bride-elect will be presented with a kitchen shower when 21 guests gather at the home of Mrs. C. B. Rice for a party. The cohostesses for the evening will be Mrs. L. M. Chubbuck, Mrs. L. C. Loomis and Mrs. D. W. Dotson.

Miss Mary Jo Brayman will honor Miss Duer at a personal shower on Friday, June 4. The party will be held at Miss Brayman's home in the evening.

Betrothal Announced

MISS DONNA LEA WETZEL

Mr. and Mrs. Fred John Wetzel announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Donna Lea, to Wayne Leonard Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard William Hunt.

The wedding will take place on Sunday evening, July 11, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the Trinity Methodist Church.

Miss Wetzel will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Mr. Hunt also will be graduated in June from the university, and is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

To Entertain

The members of the Ag College Square Dance Club will entertain at a square dance at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday evening at the Antelope Park pavillion.

Evan Hartman will be the master of ceremonies and the callers are Ray Russell, E. C. Conard and Lloyd Collier. A program will be presented during intermission.

We Hear That--

John Grasmick arrived at Lincoln General hospital on Thursday, May 27, to become a member of the family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Jay Grasmick of Milford. His mother is the former Jewell Hagel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hagel of Omaha, and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Grasmick of Lincoln.

★

Mr. and Mrs. James Q. Hungate announce the birth of a son, Bruce James, on Tuesday, May 25, at St. Elizabeth hospital. Mrs. Hungate is the former Marian Main.

★

There was excitement in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Finnigsmier on Wednesday, May 27, and the cause of it all was the arrival of identical twin sons at Lincoln General hospital. Mrs. Finnigsmier is the former Ruth Crabtree, daughter of Mrs. Edith Crabtree, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Finnigsmier.

Guests Complete Family Sixsome

Arriving from Charleston, Miss., late Wednesday afternoon were Dr. and Mrs. Paul R. Googe, their son, Roger, and their daughter, Joan, who stopped off en route to a holiday in Seattle, Wash., for a visit with Dr. Googe's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. James T. Googe, city-county health director, and Mrs. Googe.

In Seattle Dr. Paul Googe will attend the convention of Rotary International.

Lincoln B, PW Club Installs Board

The Lincoln Business and Professional Women's Club held their annual banquet Thursday evening at the Hotel Cornhusker, after which the club's new officers and board members, elected in April, were formally installed by Miss Eula Ree Merwin, a past president of the organization.

The banquet program, based on the Centennial theme, was under the direction of Mrs. Wilda Fieree, and dinner chairman was Mrs. Pauline Ashton.

Camp Catron Director

Mrs. Robert Sim, physical education director at Everett Junior High School, has been appointed director of the Girl Scouts' Camp Catron near Nebraska City. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, and a former instructor in the Columbus school, Mrs. Sim will be in charge of activities this summer at the camp, which will open June 24.

New Officers

The new officers of Alpha Theta chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, were installed Monday evening at a meeting of the chapter held at the home of Miss Ethel Leopold. Mrs. Marilyn Stinehagen presided at the installation ceremony.

Council members for the coming year will be Miss Jane Sheffert, president, and Miss Dee Finigan, vice president, and other officers of the group are Miss Esther Mussman, secretary; Miss Bette Torrey, treasurer; and Miss Leopold, educational director.

Preceding the meeting, the chapter members held a picnic supper.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

All day long (when they are not eating the long lunch), the Portuguese gentlemen belt the coffee.

There are coffee houses for financial people and coffee houses for bull fight fans. Intellectuals, politicos. Artists and press agents.

Coffee is served with variations. A small cup is a bica. With a glass of water it becomes a carioca. With hot milk it is a garoto. Or in a large cup, a galao.

It is strong and black and heavy roast. The bica must be half full of sugar to drink.

Most of the coffee houses are in the Praca Rossio, the beautiful central plaza of Lisbon. The "rolling square" they call it. Because of the rolling design of the mosaic inlay on the walks. Portugal gives the impression of being all tile.

* * *

In the evening the gentlemen put aside their coffee and go to the fado spots. Best known are Machado's, Festa Brava and Faia Luso.

The Festa Brava is on a hillside of cobbled streets. The waitress suggested the sopa Alentejana. A cowboy soup with chunks of bread and "a whisper of garlic."

Apparently the cook thought I was hard of hearing. Bellboys avoided me for days after.

We ordered a sangria—a wine-and-fruit-juice mixture. The guitar players struck a few chords and a young lady stood up and began to sing a fado: "Roshina dos Limoes."

"He sit by his window and
"The world comes to life when she passes
"Her smile is full of promise
"Someday he will buy her lemons
"And later he will marry her."

* * *

The lady wore a black shawl. No fado can be sung by a lady unless she wears a black shawl. The fado has a Moorish quality. The voice takes a tone and lifts and drops at a half note.

It is sad as anything. As sad as "lonesome since you went away" songs in the States. The fado fans sit around and are as hard to get along with as bop fans. If you so much as whisper, everybody hisses "sh, sh, sh."

After a while, Celeste Rodrigues came over. She owns Festa Brava and apparently is used to sopa Alentepana. She is the sister of Amalia, who sang in the States for $500 a week and is best known of women fado singers.

She said there are two types of fados.

"There is the Lisbon fado. Sung from the diaphragm. Dramatic and tragic. Like Carlos Ramos

"Then there is the Coimbra fado. Like Felipe Pinto here. He sings from the throat. Very lyrical and romantic."

* * *

Felipe Pinto got up and sang a fado. Everybody said, "sh, sh, sh" He gets $175 a month, which is considered pretty good in Portugal.

The fado seems to arise in the old quarter on the hill. Young fadistas tour the restaurants for meals, tips, maybe $10-$12 and a chance at the big time.

The fado "Coimbra" which became "April in Portugal" in the States is still cafe music in Lisbon. It was written for a picture "Sale Touros" and starred the bull fighter Manuel Santos. This combination set a record by playing one Lisbon theater for 19 weeks.

Marjane sang it in Monte Proser's "La Vie en Rose" in New York and started the composer off to $65,000 royalties.

* * *

Celeste Rodrigues introduced a new fado singer. She draped the black shawl on her personally for the sendoff. We went back to our Alentejana soup and everybody said "sh, sh, sh."

I tried the "sh, sh, sh" for practice myself the next day at the Palacio Hotel. All the bellboys rushed to windward. Must have been something someone whispered to me

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

All day long (when they are not eating the long lunch), the Portuguese gentlemen belt the coffee.

There are coffee houses for financial people and coffee houses for bull fight fans. Intellectuals, politicos. Artists and press agents.

Coffee is served with variations. A small cup is a bica. With a glass of water it becomes a carioca. With hot milk it is a garoto. Or in a large cup, a galao.

It is strong and black and heavy roast. The bica must be half full of sugar to drink.

Most of the coffee houses are in the Praca Rossio, the beautiful central plaza of Lisbon. The "rolling square" they call it. Because of the rolling design of the mosaic inlay on the walks. Portugal gives the impression of being all tile.

In the evening, the gentlemen put aside their coffee and go to the fado spots. Best known are Machado's, Festa Brava and Faia Luso.

The Festa Brava is on a hillside of cobbled streets. The waitress suggested the sopa Alentejana. A cowboy soup with chunks of bread and "a whisper of garlic."

Apparently the cook thought I was hard of hearing. Bellboys avoided me for days after.

We ordered a sangria—a wine-and-fruit-juice mixture. The guitar players struck a few chords and a young lady stood up and began to sing a fado: "Roshina dos Limoes."

"He sit by his window and
"The world comes to life when she passes
"Her smile is full of promise
"Someday he will buy her lemons

The lady wore a black shawl. No fado can be sung by a lady unless she wears a black shawl. The fado has a Moorish quality. The voice takes a tone and lifts and drops it a half note.

It is sad as anything. As sad as "lonesome since you went away" songs in the States. The fado fans sit around and are as hard to get along with as bop fans. If you so much as whisper, everybody hisses "sh, sh, sh."

After a while, Celeste Rodrigues came over. She owns Festa Brava and apparently is used to sopa Alentepana. She is the sister of Amalia, who sang in the States for $500 a week and is best known of women fado singers.

She said there are two types of fados.

"There is the Lisbon fado. Sung from the diaphragm. Dramatic and tragic. Like Carlos Ramos.

Felipe Pinto got up and sang a fado. Everybody said, "sh, sh, sh." He gets $175 a month, which is considered pretty good in Portugal.

The fado seems to arise in the old quarter on the hill. Young fadistas tour the restaurants for meals, tips, maybe $10-$12 and a chance at the big time.

The fado "Coimbra" which became "April in Portugal" in the States is still cafe music in Lisbon. It was written for a picture "Sale Touros" and starred the bull fighter Manuel Santos. This combination set a record by playing one Lisbon theater for 19 weeks.

Marjane sang it in Monte Proser's "La Vie en Rose" in New York and started the composer off to $65,000 royalties.

Celeste Rodrigues introduced a new fado singer. She draped the black shawl on her personally for the sendoff. We went back to our Alentejana soup and everybody said "sh, sh, sh."

I tried the "sh, sh, sh" for practice myself the next day at the Palacio Hotel. All the bellboys rushed to windward. Must have been something someone whispered to me.

Nebraskan Urges More Vocational Education Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cecil E. Stanley of Lincoln, Neb., urged a House Appropriations subcommittee to recommend funds to step up vocational education programs.

Stanley, assistant director of vocational education in Nebraska, appeared before the subcommittee at a closed session. The subcommittee is considering appropriations for the department of health, education and welfare.

Stanley said Nebraska needs a lot more vocational education money than it has been getting. Of the current appropriation for this purpose, Nebraska received $450,000 or 1.7 per cent, he said.

Need To Double Number

In a statement prepared for the subcommittee, Stanley said "there is still a need to double the number of Nebraska schools offering vocational agriculture and we need to increase by two to three times the number of schools offering vocational agriculture and we need to increase by two or three times the number of schools offering vocational homemaking. Lack of sufficient funds has forced a serious curtailment in our program of training for trade and industrial workers."

Stanley said the state's distributive education program retail selling and store management has had to be curtailed until now enrollment is only 54 per cent of the 1949-50 figure.

"Large organizations can train their own workers," he said, "but America is still primarily a nation of small businesses whose employees must depend on distributive education for their occupational training."

Church Women's Group Meets Here

Mrs. Harry Coggins of Aurora, president of the Nebraska Council of Church Women, will preside over an executive committee meeting Friday at the home of Mrs. M. C. Leonard of 3170 Van Dorn.

Women from Hastings, Grand Island, Aurora, Omaha, and Lincoln are expected to attend the meeting which begins at 10 a.m.

Main business on the agenda is expected to be the confirmation of state committee chairwomen.

Sidewalk Requirement Gets Backing

The requirement for sidewalk in new sub-divisions has been upheld by a recommendation of the City Planning Commission to the City Council.

The Commission action in favor of requiring sidewalks came with action on the request of Don Shurtleff for waiver of the sidewalk rule in the re-plat of lots at 63rd and Francis. All Commission action at the last meeting is subject to final approval of a majority as only four members were present.

Other action taken:

Approval of the closing of Wood's Blvd. from the north line of Stockwell to the south line of lots 11 and 12, block 3, Country Club Manor.

Vacation of Franklin from 44th to 45th, approved.

Vacation of 49th from Normal to Glade, approved.

Vacation of the east 84 feet of the alley between N and O east of 31st, approved.

Change in zoning from multiple dwelling to business at the southeast corner of 47th and Cooper, approved.

Change in zoning to permit operation of trailer rental service at 710 No. 48th, denied.

30-Year Dream Comes True For One Wesleyan Senior

Graduation day at Nebraska Wesleyan University will be red letter day for Mrs. Lois Alvina (Harry) Hegstrom of Waverly.

Mrs. Hegstrom will be among the 102 seniors receiving degrees Tuesday. It will mark the end of an educational venture she launched at Wayne State Teachers College during a summer session exactly 30 years ago.

In the interim period, Mrs. Hegstrom has been a homemaker and school teacher. But she never gave up the dream of earning her own college degree.

After two summers at Wayne State and three years of teaching, Mrs. Hegstrom (she was then Lois Gabelman of Tilden) met and married Harry Hegstrom. During the 19 years he served as superintendent of schools at Wausa, Mrs. Hegstrom nursed the dream that some day she too would go back to college.

MRS. HEGSTROM

Seven years ago the Hegstroms moved to Waverly where he became superintendent of schools. During those seven years Mrs. Hegstrom has taught in the Waverly schools and attended additional summer sessions, night classes and study centers, adding hour after hour to the total she needed to qualify for her own commencement day.

She decided to take her degree from Nebraska Wesleyan "partially because I am a Methodist, but primarily because I knew it was a good school."

She will receive the A B. degree with a major in education and will teach in the elementary grades in the Lincoln Public Schools next year.

By earning her degree this summer, Mrs. Hegstrom is staying one jump ahead of her 20-year-old daughter, Nancy, who will graduate from the University of Nebraska next June.

Habeas Corpus Plea Is Dismissed

Federal Judge John Delehant dismissed the plea for a writ of habeas corpus asked by Nebraska Penitentiary inmate, Paul R. Small, 37, of Omaha.

Small based his plea for the writ on the contention that the Board of Pardons in granting him a parole in 1952 commuted his seven-year sentence and when his parole was revoked on April 3, 1953, he was required to serve only a one-year term.

Judge Delehant found that Small was not entitled to his release as the Pardons Board did not commute his sentence and therefore, Small must serve the remainder of the seven year term.

The Omahan was sentenced to serve seven years on a charge of forgery on Feb. 21, 1948, in the Douglas County District Court. He received a one year sentence to run concurrently from the Lancaster Court on July 7, 1948, on a charge of breaking custody. He was paroled March 13, 1952, and the parole revoked on April 3, 1953.

Low Sewer Bid By Dobson And Robinson

Dobson and Robinson Construction Co. has submitted the low bid of $77,362.10 for construction of the first leg of the Cotner storm sewer project.

This first sewer line will run from Normal to Sumner on Cotner. In cost, the line represents about one-fourth of total Cotner project.

Plans are to run the line eventually north of A on Cotner and to construct a new outlet to Antelope Creek.

The first phase of the program on which bids were received calls for a six and one-half by four and one-half feet concrete box in Cotner from South to Franklin with bidding optional on a five by four feet box or a 60-inch reinforced concrete pipe between Franklin and Sumner.

The project also includes a new 10-inch sanitary sewer along the east side of Cotner, South to Franklin, at a cost of $10,000. The existing sewer line would be cut by the new storm sewer installation.

Bids were also taken at the City Hall for furnishing 25,000 feet of six-inch cast iron pipe and fitting with the U. S. Pipe and Foundry Co. submitting the low figure of $49,389.40.

Pueblo Dodgers Score 8-7 Victory Over Chiefs

Ike Cheers Nats To Win Over Yanks; Phillies Drop Brooklyn Again 11-5

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower whooped it up like a schoolboy Thursday, cheering the Washington Senators to a 7-3 victory over the New York Yankees in a baseball game that netted the Red Cross something like $17,000.

The President was a real "fan," drinking his soda pop, jumping to his feet to applaud the Senators' heroics and even clapping the club's owner, Clark Griffith, on the back during a five-run Washington uprising in the fifth.

Before the game, Eisenhower presented Mickey Vernon, the Senators' first baseman, with a handsome silver baseball bat, emblematic of his second American League hitting championship.

Vernon hit .377 to win the title last year and clubbed a two-run homer to beat the Yankees on opening day when Eisenhower also was in the stands, but he couldn't do a thing Thursday, going hitless in four tries.

Chuck Stobbs, pitching himself in and out of one jam after another, emerged the winner although he surrendered nine hits. It was only the second time this season that a lefthander had gone the distance to beat the Yanks.

Cards Drubbed 7-3

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Hank Sauer rapped his 14th homer and Ralph Kiner his seventh as the Chicago Cubs again drubbed the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday, 7 to 3, giving them the series here by three games to one.

Kiner drove in another run with a third-inning single as Chicago, collecting 12 hits, pinned a fifth defeat on Gerry Staley, previously a spring standout who has won only three for St. Louis this year.

The Cubs' starting pitcher, righthander Bob Rush, allowed only five hits to gain his fourth triumph against three defeats, but he tired in the eighth and needed help from Warren Hacker. Hacker gave up the last two St. Louis hits and runs in the ninth.

Frankie Baumholtz, who led the Cubs' attack wtih three singles, set up Chicago's second run, breaking a 1-1 tie that had existed briefly after Wally Moon's triple and an outfield fly matched Kiner's first-inning homer.

Miller Wins Second

BROOKLYN (AP)—Scoring in all but the first and ninth innings, the Philadelphia Phillies laced five Brooklyn pitchers for 14 hits including three home runs to thrash the Dodgers 11-5 Thursday for a sweep of the two-game series.

Bob Miller picked up his second victory of the season without a setback, hurling four and one third scoreless innings after relieving the faltering Curt Simmons with two on and two out in the fifth. He permitted only one of the Dodgers' 10 hits, a sixth-inning double by Junior Gilliam.

Don Newcombe started for the Dodgers after missing two pitching turns because of an ailing shoulder and failed to get past the third inning.

The Firing Line

by Norris Anderson, SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

An incentive, barbed in wounded pride, now offers itself to the Lincoln Chiefs

Manager Ferrell Anderson, one-time Kansas football star who pilots the Omaha Cardinals, has said that the oldsters on the roster of the league-leading Chiefs will wither in the summer heat.

Wietelmann

His statement was obviously directed to Tom Neill, 35; Red McQuillen, 38; Fred Hancock, 33; Andy Bush, 35, and Norm Brown, 35.

There elders deeply resent Anderson's idea that they can't produce over a full summer of Western League baseball.

"I guess we will be able to stagger out and beat Omaha a few more times," McQuillen told Bill Bryson of the Des Moines Register.

"Chances are that we'll be giving it a little extra against the Cards the way Anderson's been insulting us," added Neill.

"Somebody ought to tell Andy," McQuillen chimed in, "that it's a long time to September. We didn't do any folding until the last two weeks of the season last year. We were fighting for fourth place up 'til then. We played about as well as anyone in the league through June, July and August.

Lincoln has an added advantage this season in that a speedy centerfielder named Billy Smith, 22, can save Neill and McQuillen a world of running. With slow Danny Holden in center most of last season, Tom and Red were summoned to trot their aging legs off.

"This Billy Smith would rather run than eat," grins Neill. "Sometimes he comes over and takes balls Red or I could catch easy. He loves to run that boy."

Hancock, always aggressive in the field and dangerous at the plate, has been fully his 1953 self. Bush, a loser in the early portions of 1953, has developed into the Chiefs' No. 1 pitcher.

Norm Brown, whose 21 wins led the league last year, has been troubled by a soreness in his pitching shoulder.

"It'll disappear when the warm weather sets in," says Brownie, one of the few hurlers in baseball who throws without signs from his catcher.

Anderson did have one good word for Lincoln, thus: "I caught Bush at Hagerstown in 1941 and, honest to goodness, he throws harder and has a better curve ball now than he did then. He's smart out there, too."

If Manager Whitey Wietelmann, 35, is in the lineup, the Chiefs average 31 years of age. This includes Orinthal Anderson, a very late 27; Johnny Jones, 27, and Walt Linden, 29.

Old Chanty (with apologies to General Doug): Old Chiefs don't die; they just lead the Western League.

Athletic relations of the Nebraska Cornhusker outstate took another upswing Thursday.

The occasion was the annual Kearney Quarterback meeting where Athletic Director Bill Orwig and Football Coach Bill Glassford and their staffs had occasion to meet some 300 mid-state coaches, athletes and fans.

Your flinger observed a mutual good feeling during the day. Orwig makes a good first impression and he seems like an executive who can retain that impression. While holding the old friends, he'll be making a lot of new ones.

There was no other evidence than that Glassford will have the full support of all these mid-state fans, at least until his Huskers lose two games in succession.

If the athletic program at the university is to stay on the upswing, many more of these quarterbacks clubs are needed The Kearney Quarterback club is invaluable for (1) encouraging local preppers, (2) keeping interest high in the university and (3) promoting a personal relationship with the Husker coaching staff.

How about a quarterback club in every city, town and village in the state? There is no better cause.

The President Protested

Catcher Ed Fitzgerald of the Washington Senators, slides into blocking catcher Charley Silvera of the New York Yankees, in the fifth inning of Thursday's game. Umpire John Flaherty, bending over, called Fitzgerald out. In the stands, President Eisenhower differed. He stood up and shouted "No." First Baeman Bill Skowron, pulled off first base by a wide throw, fired home to catch the runner. The Senators won. 7-3. (AP Wirephoto).

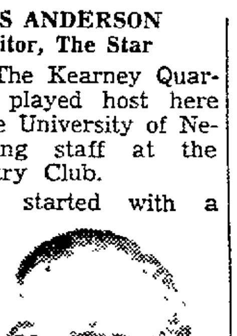
Kearney Entertains NU Athletic Staff

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

KEARNEY—The Kearney Quarterbacks Club played host here Thursday to the University of Nebraska coaching staff at the Kearney Country Club.

The occasion started with a round of golf in the afternoon and wound up with movies of Cornhusker games and talks by Athletic Director Bill Orwig and Coach Bill Glassford.



Dr. Edwards

"If this is an indication of the support the University has in central Nebraska, then our future looks bright," commented Orwig, as he glanced over the estimated crowd of 200 fans, high school coaches and athletes.

Orwig was given a standing ovation when he was introduced.

The Husker athletic director, who is already building a home in Lincoln, left after the evening banquet for Omaha where he will address a banquet today.

Glassford, also given a substantial hand, summed up Husker prospects and promised "we'll be doing our best." He lauded the strong support given the university by the Kearney Quarterbacks.

Along with Orwig and Glassford, other members of the Nebraska coaching staff present were Tony Sharpe, Bob Davis, Paul Schneider, John Bentley, Don Strasheim, Ray Prochaska, Mike Milligan and Bob Faris.

In the golfing phase of the entertainment John Bentley, sports publicity director, took low honors among the Nebraska contingent with a blistering 82. Athletic Director Bill Orwig trailed with a 91.

Marvin "Preacher" Franklin, former Cornhusker assistant and now coach at Kearney College, was introduced along with Keith (Casey) Cottrell and Joe Cribari, Kearney High coaches.

The Kearney Quarterbacks Club was founded several years ago by Dr. C. B. Edwards, now a Lincoln resident, and Dr. K. Holmes, Kearney dentist. Dr. Edwards was team physician of the Western League champion Lincoln A's of 1949 and is well known in state sports circles.

Present officers include: Warren Barney, president; Joe Elliott, Jr, secretary; I. A. "Bing" Mattson, vice president; John Spear, treasurer. The board members are George Monroe, Dr. Burt Bancroft, D. Dan Nye, Fred Voight and Frank Tilton.

"Our purpose is to promote interest in local high school athletes and to see that the boys get to the right university or college," said Elliott. The group sends one boy a year to the University of Nebraska.

Hurricane Is 18 To 5 Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — Hurricane Tommy Jackson, deflated by Jimmy Slade in his last outing, will try to blow down sturdy Charley Norkus tonight in his Madison Square Garden debut.

Despite his poor showing against Slade, the Hurricane is an 18 to 5 favorite to end Norkus' five-fight winning streak.

The 10-round match, starting at 8 p.m. CST will be carried on network radio (ABC) and television (NBC). The usual New York state rules will apply with two judges and a referee scoring the fight by rounds with a supplementary point system.

They took The Hurricane away to training camp in Summit, N.J. for this one, the first time he was worked anywhere except in Stillman's Gym. The chirping of the birds at morn disturbed the mighty warrior a bit, but not as much as the chirping of his mother in the home nest at New York's Far Rockaway.

After Jackson lost to Slade, April 26, he complained his mother had bothered him—wouldn't let him go out on dates. "I'm glad I lost," he said. Later he apologized to his mother and the boxing commission. The other day he told a writer he lost to Slade because he "clean forgot about the fight" and didn't get a night's sleep before it.

The Hurricane, who likes to wear a woolen stocking cap even in 70-degree weather, has a unique outlook on everything. "I like to get hit," he said to a reporter.

Griffith To Face Kern In Series' Second Game

PUEBLO (AP)—Back-to-back doubles by Fred Storck and Jim Gentile in the sixth inning gave Pueblo the winning run in an 8-7 Western League victory over league-leading Lincoln here Thursday night.

Pueblo came from behind twice earlier in the game, first to pull even at 3-3 after the first inning, and then to go ahead, 7-4, with a four-run outburst in the third.

With two down in the third, the Dodgers loaded the bases on singles by Maury Wills and Joe Potts and a base on balls. Lincoln starter Tom Keating walked Pueblo hurler Mike Werbach to force in one run, and Leonard Feriancek brought three more home with a triple into the right field corner.

Lincoln pulled even in the sixth inning when the Chiefs scored three runs on only two hits. Werbach loaded the bases with one down by hitting one batsman and walking two others. John Jones' single to left field brought in one run and Glenn McQuillen singled to right scoring two more.

McQuillen's double in the first batted in two runs and he singled in the third for another RBI.

Noel Oquendo took over the Lincoln pitching in the third following Keating and blanked the Dodgers until the sixth when Storck and Gentile hit their successive doubles to open the frame.

Charles Griffith (4-3) will pitch for Lincoln tonight and Pueblo's probable is Eugene Kern (1-3).

Ike Cheers Nats To Win Over Yanks; Phillies Drop Brooklyn Again 11-5

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower whooped it up like a schoolboy Thursday, cheering the Washington Senators to a 7-3 victory over the New York Yankees in a baseball game that netted the Red Cross something like $17,000.

The President was a real "fan," drinking his soda pop, jumping to his feet to applaud the Senators' heroics and even clapping the club's owner, Clark Griffith, on the back during a five-run Washington uprising in the fifth.

Before the game, Eisenhower presented Mickey Vernon, the Senators' first baseman, with a handsome silver baseball bat, emblematic of his second American League hitting championship.

Vernon hit .377 to win the title last year and clubbed a two-run homer to beat the Yankees on opening day when Eisenhower also was in the stands, but he couldn't do a thing Thursday, going hitless in four tries.

Chuck Stobbs, pitching himself in and out of one jam after another, emerged the winner although he surrendered nine hits. It was only the second time this season that a lefthander had gone the distance to beat the Yanks.

Cards Drubbed 7-3

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Hank Sauer rapped his 14th homer and Ralph Kiner his seventh as the Chicago Cubs again drubbed the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday, 7 to 3, giving them the series here by three games to one.

Kiner drove in another run with a third-inning single as Chicago, collecting 12 hits, pinned a fifth defeat on Gerry Staley, previously a spring standout who has won only three for St. Louis this year.

The Cubs' starting pitcher, righthander Bob Rush, allowed only five hits to gain his fourth triumph against three defeats, but he tired in the eighth and needed help from Warren Hacker. Hacker gave up the last two St. Louis hits and runs in the ninth.

Frankie Baumholtz, who led the Cubs' attack wtih three singles, set up Chicago's second run, breaking a 1-1 tie that had existed briefly after Wally Moon's triple and an outfield fly matched Kiner's first-inning homer.

Miller Wins Second

BROOKLYN (AP) — Scoring in all but the first and ninth innings, the Philadelphia Phillies laced five Brooklyn pitchers for 14 hits including three home runs to thrash the Dodgers 11-5 Thursday for a sweep of the two-game series.

Bob Miller picked up his second victory of the season without a setback, hurling four and one third scorless innings after relieving the faltering Curt Simmons with two on and two out in the fifth. He permitted only one of the Dodgers' 10 hits, a sixth-inning double by Junior Gilliam.

Don Newcombe started for the Dodgers after missing two pitching turns because of an ailing shoulder and failed to get past the third inning.

Softball Meeting Set

Representatives of teams planning to enter a team in the YMCA Church Softball League should attend a meeting Friday, 7 p.m. at the YMCA.

The Firing Line
by Norris Anderson
SPORTS EDITOR, THE STAR

An incentive, barbed in wounded pride, now offers itself to the Lincoln Chiefs.

Manager Ferrell Anderson, onetime Kansas football star who pilots the Omaha Cardinals, has said that the oldsters on the roster of the league-leading Chiefs will wither in the summer heat.

Wietelmann

His statement was obviously directed to Tom Neill, 35; Red McQuillen, 38; Fred Hancock, 33; Andy Bush, 35, and Norm Brown, 35.

There elders deeply resent Anderson's idea that they can't produce over a full summer of Western League baseball.

"I guess we will be able to stagger out and beat Omaha a few more times," McQuillen told Bill Bryson of the Des Moines Register.

"Chances are that we'll be giving it a little extra against the Cards the way Anderson's been insulting us," added Neill.

"Somebody ought to tell Andy," McQuillen chimed in, "that it's a long time to September. We didn't do any folding until the last two weeks of the season last year. We were fighting for fourth place up 'til then. We played about as well as anyone in the league through June, July and August.

Lincoln has an added advantage this season in that a speedy centerfielder named Billy Smith, 22, can save Neill and McQuillen a world of running. With slow Danny Holden in center most of last season, Tom and Red were summoned to trot their aging legs off.

"This Billy Smith would rather run than eat," grins Neill. "Sometimes he comes over and takes balls Red or I could catch easy. He loves to run that boy."

Hancock, always aggressive in the field and dangerous at the plate, has been fully his 1953 self. Bush, a loser in the early portions of 1953, has developed into the Chiefs' No. 1 pitcher.

Norm Brown, whose 21 wins led the league last year, has been troubled by a soreness in his pitching shoulder.

"It'll disappear when the warm weather sets in," says Brownie, one of the few hurlers in baseball who throws without signs from his catcher.

Anderson did have one good word for Lincoln, thus: "I caught Bush at Hagerstown in 1941 and, honest to goodness, he throws harder and has a better curve ball now than he did then. He's smart out there, too."

If Manager Whitey Wietelmann, 35, is in the lineup, the Chiefs average 31 years of age. This includes Orinthal Anderson, a very late 27; Johnny Jones, 27, and Walt Linden, 29.

Old Chanty (with apologies to General Doug): Old Chiefs don't die; they just lead the Western League.

Athletic relations of the Nebraska Cornhusker outstate took another upswing Thursday.

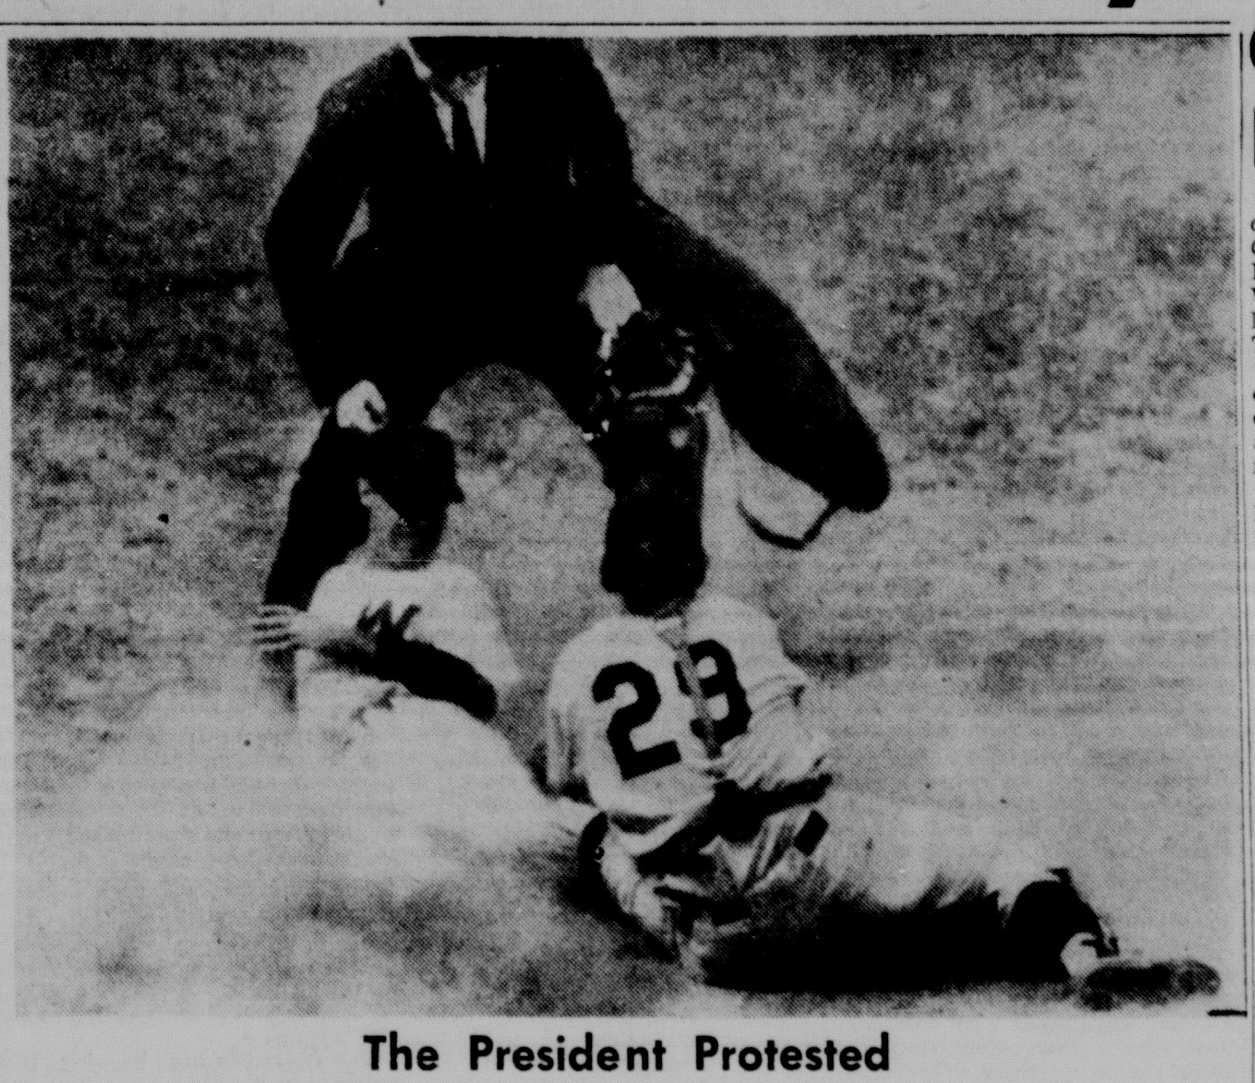
The occasion was the annual Kearney Quarterback meeting where Athletic Director Bill Orwig and Football Coach Bill Glassford and their staffs had occasion to meet some 300 midstate coaches, athletes and fans.

Your flinger observed a mutual good feeling during the day. Orwig makes a good first impression and he seems like an executive who can retain that impression. While holding the old friends, he'll be making a lot of new ones.

There was no other evidence than that Glassford will have the full support of all these midstate fans, at least until his Huskers lose two games in succession.

If the athletic program at the university is to stay on the upswing, many more of these quarterbacks clubs are needed. The Kearney Quarterback club is invaluable for (1) encouraging local preppers, (2) keeping interest high in the university and (3) promoting a personal relationship with the Husker coaching staff.

How about a quarterback club in every city, town and village in the state? There is no better cause.



The President Protested

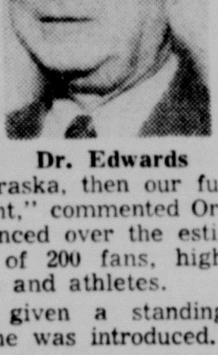
City Boasts Many Ardent University Supporters

Kearney Entertains NU Athletic Staff

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

KEARNEY—The Kearney Quarterbacks Club played host here Thursday to the University of Nebraska coaching staff at the Kearney Country Club.

The occasion started with a round of golf in the afternoon and wound up with movies of Cornhusker games and talks by Athleic Director Bill Orwig and Coach Bill Glassford.



Dr. Edwards

"If this is an indication of the support the University has in central Nebraska, then our future looks bright," commented Orwig, as he glanced over the estimated crowd of 200 fans, high school coaches and athletes.

Orwig was given a standing ovation when he was introduced.

The Husker athletic director, who is already building a home in Lincoln, left after the evening banquet for Omaha where he will address a banquet today.

Glassford, also given a substantial hand, summed up Husker prospects and promised "we'll be doing our best." He lauded the strong support given the university by the Kearney Quarterbacks.

Along with Orwig and Glassford, other members of the Nebraska coaching staff present were Tony Sharpe, Bob Davis, Paul Schneider, John Bentley, Don Strasheim, Ray Prochaska, Mike Milligan and Bob Faris.

In the golfing phase of the entertainment John Bentley, sports publicity director, took low honors among the Nebraska contingent with a blistering 82. Athletic Director Bill Orwig trailed with a 91.

Marvin "Preacher" Franklin, former Cornhusker assistant and now coach at Kearney College, was introduced along with Keith (Casey) Cottrell and Joe Cribari, Kearney High coaches.

The Kearney Quarterbacks Club was founded several years ago by Dr. C. B. Edwards, now a Lincoln resident, and Dr. K. Holmes, Kearney dentist. Dr. Edwards was team physician of the Western League champion Lincoln A's of 1949 and is well known in state sports circles.

Present officers include: Warren Barney, president; Joe Elliott, Jr., secretary; I. A. "Bing" Mattson, vice president; John Spear, treasurer. The board members are George Monroe, Dr. Burt Bancroft, D. Dan Nye, Fred Voight and Frank Tilton.

"Our purpose is to promote interest in local high school athletes and to see that the boys get to the right university or college," said Elliott. The group sends one boy a year to the University of Nebraska.

Hurricane Is 18 To 5 Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — Hurricane Tommy Jackson, deflated by Jimmy Slade in his last outing, will try to blow down sturdy Charley Norkus tonight in his Madison Square Garden debut.

Despite his poor showing against Slade, the Hurricane is an 18 to 5 favorite to end Norkus' five-fight winning streak.

The 10-round match, starting at 8 p.m. CST will be carried on network radio (ABC) and television (NBC). The usual New York state rules will apply with two judges and a referee scoring the fight by rounds with a supplementary point system.

They took The Hurricane away to training camp in Summit, N.J. for this one, the first time he was worked anywhere except in Stillman's Gym. The chirping of the birds at morn disturbed the mighty warrior a bit, but not as much as the chirping of his mother in the home nest at New York's Far Rockaway.

After Jackson lost to Slade, April 26, he complained his mother had bothered him—wouldn't let him go out on dates. "I'm glad I lost," he said. Later he apologized to his mother and the boxing commission. The other day he told a writer he lost to Slade because he "clean forgot about the fight" and didn't get a night's sleep before it.

The Hurricane, who likes to wear a woolen stocking cap even in 70-degree weather, has a unique outlook on everything. "I like to get hit," he said to a reporter.

Griffith To Face Kern In Series' Second Game

PUEBLO (AP) — Back-to-back doubles by Fred Storck and Jim Gentile in the sixth inning gave Pueblo the winning run in an 8-7 Western League victory over league-leading Lincoln here Thursday night.

Pueblo came from behind twice earlier in the game, first to pull even at 3-3 after the first inning, and then to go ahead, 7-4, with a four-run outburst in the third.

With two down in the third, the Dodgers loaded the bases on singles by Maury Wills and Joe Potts and a base on balls. Lincoln starter Tom Keating walked Pueblo hurler Mike Werbach to force in one run, and Leonard Feriancek brought three more home with a triple into the right field corner.

Lincoln pulled even in the sixth inning when the Chiefs scored three runs on only two hits. Werbach loaded the bases with one down by hitting one batsman and walking two others. John Jones' single to left field brought in one run and Glenn McQuillen singled to right scoring two more.

McQuillen's double in the first batted in two runs and he singled in the third for another RBI.

Noel Oquendo took over the Lincoln pitching in the third following Keating and blanked the Dodgers until the sixth when Storck and Gentile hit their successive doubles to open the frame.

Charles Griffith (4-3) will pitch for Lincoln tonight and Pueblo's probable is Eugene Kern (1-3).

Mysterious Foot Injury Sidelines Native Dancer

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Alfred Vanderbilt's famous Native Dancer was withdrawn Thursday from the $50,000 Suburban Handicap because of a foot injury. There was some question whether he would ever compete again.

The colorful big grey 4-year-old, idol of racing fans and television watchers, worked out three-eighths of a mile early Thursday at Belmont Park but pulled up lame. It was the Dancer's right forefoot, the same one which showed traces of soreness Monday.

What is causing the trouble and whether it is serious enough to end Native Dancer's brilliant racing career, remains to be determined, when X-rays were taken of the foot Monday they were negative and the Dancer galloped two miles Wednesday after which the colt seemed perfectly sound.

New X-rays were taken Thursday. They disclosed nothing. Dr. William Wright has a special plate to inspect Friday and if it shows nothing treatment of the soreness may bring the TV kid back to action this summer. An injury to the left forefoot knocked the Dancer out of the season last September.

Vanderbilt and Trainer Bill Winfrey were at the barn Thursday at daylight, and when the foot appeared alright they decided to send the Dancer out for a workout. Galloping wouldn't show up any injury, but breezing under pressure would—and did.

Bernie Everson, the exercise boy, was in the saddle. Winfrey followed on a pony.

"How he hurt himself we wouldn't know," Winfrey said after The Dancer's saddle was removed.

"The foot was normal this morning and now we know it's more serious and only time will tell.

"There is no telling how much time it will take to get him back."

The Dancer is eligible for four Aqueduct Stakes, including the $50,000 Brooklyn Handicap July 10. He also is eligible for the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes in England July 17, and for several $100,000 races in Chicago and California.

Vanderbilt had considered flying the colt to England if the handicappers put too much weight on him in this country. There is little chance he will go aboard now. He had been assigned 133 pounds for the Suburban Monday.

Television unquestionably has made The Dancer the greatest turf attraction this country has seen. Ironically, his 20-for-21 record is identical with that of Man O' War, who retired in 1920 because Owner Sam Riddle refused to subject Big Red to the weights handicappers would have given him.

If The Dancer recovers, and continues racing this season, he could catch Citation, who leads the world's horses in earnings with $1,085,760. The Dancer has won $781,970 and needs only $35,505 to catch Armed, third in the list. The second bankroll leader is Stymie, with $918,483.

Experts Predict No Par-Busting By Pros At National Open Meet

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Farrell shifted his gaze from the portrait hanging in Camillo's Restaurant, pondered a moment, then said no, he didn't believe 280, or par for 72 holes, would be broken in the National Open at his Baltusrol course next month.

The picture's fascination for Johnny wasn't based on an abiding admiration for the subject, which happened to be a former Open champion named Johnny Farrell. It was for the exceptionally fine work of the artist, a young former Yale man named Carroll Jones.

"No," Farrell repeated. "I don't believe 280 will be broken. Myself, I can't break it the way the course is now." Obviously feeling the remark might be interpreted to mean the course had been doctored up beyond all reason, he added hastily.

"It's tough, but it's fair. Joe Dey, Jr., executive secretary of the USGA, says it will provide one of the fairest tests ever in the Open. But you have to be long, and straight. Frank Stranahan had an 82 on it just before flying to England for the British Amateur, and George Fazio said it is tougher than Pine Valley." Pine Valley is a New Jersey course to end all courses, so tough pros get instant obedience from their children just by mentioning the name.

"By setting the tees back the course has been lengethened to a little better than 7,000 yards," Farrell resumed. The fairways have been narrowed until at some points where a drive ordinarily would come to rest they are only 35 or 40 yards wide.

"That was done by letting the fairway grass grow at the sides. For seven feet on each side the grass will be from two to two and one half inches tall. Beyond that it will be four inches.

"That doesn't sound like much, but remember this is thick, lush fairway grass. If a player's tee shot gets in there on a long par 4 he isn't going home in two.

"He gets a break right at the edge of the fairway, though. John Ames, tournament chairman, says it isn't fair to penalize a player when his ball is on the fringe of the fairway, so he has a shot if the ball just misses by a few inches.

"The greens are going to cause the most trouble, though. Up there in the Baltusrol Hills the greens look flat compared with the countryside, but they aren't.

Ex-Yank Martin To Play In NIL

MC COOK, Neb. (AP) — Billy Martin, former New York Yankee second baseman, will play for the McCook cats in a game Sunday night against the Kearney team of the Nebraska Independent League.

A spokesman for the McCook Baseball Assn. said Thursday Martin would come here on a weekend pass from Camp Carson, Colo., where he is stationed. Any future appearances of the Yankee infielder with the McCook ball club will be worked out after Martin's arrival here.

In a telephone call here Thursday, Martin said he would bring with him Ted Monroe, pitcher, and Don Davis, outfielder, both property of the New York Yankees, and an unnamed National Leaguer.

Rains May Delay State Ball Finals

The finals in all four classes of the state high school baseball tournament are scheduled to be played today starting at 9:30 a.m. on the University of Nebraska diamond, weather permitting.

Heavy rains in Lincoln Thursday night may have scuttled the plans of NU Coach Tony Sharpe, the tournament director, who hoped to see the tourney completed Friday after one postponement. The finals were originally scheduled for Wednesday, but wet grounds forced a delay until Friday.

If the diamond is playable, Filley and Millard will open the day's activities at 9:30 in the Class D finals. St. Francis of Humphrey and Clarks play in the C finals immediately following. The B championship game at 1:30 p.m. pits Omaha Holy Name and Wisner. Lincoln High and Boys Town meet for the A championship after the B game.

Lincoln Optimists Start Ball Drills

The Lincoln Optimists Club's Junior American Legion baseball team will hold a practice today at Sherman Field at 4:30 according to Jim Exon, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee of the club.

The Optimists will open at Hastings Monday night.

Practices also will be held Saturday at 4:30 and Sunday at 2 o'clock.

Manager Dick Cecil has urged all high school players to report for the tryouts.

The Optimists are backing this squad which played under the sponsorship of the Lincoln Elks last year.

'I'm Through As Boxer' Says Ex-College Star

CHICAGO (AP)—Chuck Davey, the one-time glamor boy puglist of the TV screen, quit the ring Thursday to seek a career as radio and TV sportscaster.

The 29 year old southpaw who holds a master's degree made the decision after taking a lopsided drubbing Wednesday night from Vince Martinez, up and coming Italian welterweight from New Jersey.

"If a fellow loses a fraction of a second, he's just one of the boys." Davey told a news conference in explaining his poor showing against Martinez.

It was the fourth loss in his last five matches for Davey, welterweight who scored a meteoric rise as a professional after a highly successful career as an amateur boxer at Michigan State College.

Davey has appeared on the downgrade since Kid Gavilan stopped him in a title fight in Chicago in February 1953. He dropped two contests to Al Andrews and one to Art Aragon. His loss to Martinez on a seventh round technical knockout was the final touch. Martinez had him on the canvas three times.

Davey, who got a black left eye and puffed lip from the fight, issued a statement saying:

"A decision to retire is a tough one at any time, but this fight convinced me that this is the time. I'm through as a boxer."

The balding Davey made his decision to quit the ring on the "definite recomendation" of his manager, Hec Knowles.

Knowles announced publicly that he wouldn't manage Davey if he decided to go through with a scheduled rematch with Aragon in Los Angeles July 1.

Davey said that he had expected to beat Martinez Wednesday night but the fight proved to him that "it wasn't there any longer."

Davey, who began as an amateur boxer at Michigan State College in 1943 and scaled the amateur heighes, said that he is in better physical condition now than he would have been if he had quit boxing at the close of his college days.

He said that he had enjoyed almost five years of professional boxing, but now had reached the point where he would "like to write and talk about boxing" rather than trade punches in the ring.

Davey declined to say how much money he had made in the ring. But he said his life had been enriched in other ways.

He mentioned that he had met his wife, Patricia, in Chicago's Henrotin Hospital when he had gone there to be patched up after a bout. His wife was a nurse there.

Stitzel-Weller are for moderation, too. That's how we got together.

Stitzel-Weller make a fine, old-family, old-fashioned bourbon called OLD CABIN STILL. And they make it to appeal especially to sportsmen . . . give it a real, out-door flavor—full, rich, and gratifying in small quantities, so you don't have to pour it on.

They know distilling is an art, and they believe drinking is an art, too. They are content to remain a small, exclusive distillery there in Louisville—using the same leisurely, patient, prideful, costly sour mash method the family has used for generations.

They don't "send out" for a single drop of OLD CABIN STILL. Stitzel-Weller would rather watch and control their own product with lovin' care—every drop of it. They're moderate in their output and hope we will be moderate in our intake.

Mysterious Foot Injury Sidelines Native Dancer

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Alfred Vanderbilt's famous Native Dancer was withdrawn Thursday from the $50,000 Suburban Handicap because of a foot injury. There was some question whether he would ever compete again.

The colorful big grey 4-year-old, idol of racing fans and television watchers, worked out three-eighths of a mile early Thursday at Belmont Park but pulled up lame. It was the Dancer's right forefoot, the same one which showed traces of soreness Monday.

What is causing the trouble and whether it is serious enough to end Native Dancer's brilliant racing career, remains to be determined, when X-rays were taken of the foot Monday they were negative and the Dancer galloped two miles Wednesday after which the colt seemed perfectly sound.

New X-rays were taken Thursday. They disclosed nothing. Dr. William Wright has a special plate to inspect Friday and if it shows nothing treatment of the soreness may briing the TV kid back to action this summer. An injury to the left forefoot knocked the Dancer out of the season last September.

Vanderbilt and Trainer Bill Winfrey were at the barn Thursday at daylight, and when the foot appeared alright they decided to send the Dancer out for a workout. Galloping wouldn't show up any injury, but breezing under pressure would—and did.

Bernie Everson, the exercise boy, was in the saddle. Winfrey followed on a pony.

"How he hurt himself we wouldn't know," Winfrey said after The Dancer's saddle was removed.

"The foot was normal this morning and now we know it's more serious and only time will tell.

"There is no telling how much time it will take to get him back."

The Dancer is eligible for four Aqueduct Stakes, including the $50,000 Brooklyn Handicap July 10. He also is eligible for the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes in England July 17, and for several $100,000 races in Chicago and California.

Vanderbilt had considered flying the colt to England if the handicappers put too much weight on him in this country. There is little chance he will go aboard now. He had been assigned 133 pounds for the Suburban Monday.

Television unquestionably has made The Dancer the greatest turf attraction this country has seen. Ironically, his 20-for-21 record is identical with that of Man O' War, who retired in 1920 because Owner Sam Riddle refused to subject Big Red to the weights handicappers would have given him.

If The Dancer recovers, and continues racing this season, he could catch Citation, who leads the world's horses in earnings with $1,085,760. The Dancer has won $781,970 and needs only $35,505 to catch Armed, third in the list. The second bankroll leader is Stymie, with $918,483.

Experts Predict No Par-Busting By Pros At National Open Meet

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Farrell shifted his gaze from the portrait hanging in Camillo's Restaurant, pondered a moment, then said no, he didn't believe 280, or par for 72 holes, would be broken in the National Open at his Baltusrol course next month.

The picture's fascination for Johnny wasn't based on an abiding admiration for the subject, which happened to be a former Open champion named Johnny Farrell. It was for the exceptionally fine work of the artist, a young former Yale man named Carroll Jones.

"No," Farrell repeated, "I don't believe 280 will be broken. Myself, I can't break it the way the course is now." Obviously feeling the remark might be interpreted to mean the course had been doctored up beyond all reason, he added hastily:

"It's tough, but it's fair. Joe Dey, Jr., executive secretary of the USGA, says it will provide one of the fairest tests ever in the Open. But you have to be long, and straight. Frank Stranahan had an 82 on it just before flying to England for the British Amateur, and George Fazio said it is tougher than Pine Valley." Pine Valley is a New Jersey course to end all courses, so tough pros get instant obedience from their children just by mentioning the name.

"By setting the tees back the course has been lengthened to a little better than 7,000 yards," Farrell resumed. The fairways have been narrowed until at some points where a drive ordinarily would come to rest they are only 35 or 40 yards wide.

"That was done by letting the fairway grass grow at the sides. For seven feet on each side the grass will be from two to two and one half inches tall. Beyond that it will be four inches.

"That doesn't sound like much, but remember this is thick, lush fairway grass. If a player's tee shot gets in there on a long par 4 he isn't going home in two.

"He gets a break right at the edge of the fairway, though. John Ames, tournament chairman, says it isn't fair to penalize a player when his ball is on the fringe of the fairway, so he has a shot if the ball just misses by a few inches.

"The greens are going to cause the most trouble, though. Up there in the Baltusrol Hills the greens look flat compared with the countryside, but they aren't.

I'm for moderation—in women's hats, chocolate sodas, fishing, hunting . . . and drinking. I even wrote a book on this important subject.

Stitzel-Weller are for moderation, too. That's how we got together.

Stitzel-Weller make a fine, old-family, old-fashioned bourbon called OLD CABIN STILL. And they make it to appeal especially to sportsmen . . . give it a real, out-door flavor—full, rich, and gratifying in small quantities, so you don't have to pour it on.

They know distilling is an art, and they believe drinking is an art, too. They are content to remain a small, exclusive distillery there in Louisville—using the same leisurely, patient, prideful, costly sour mash method the family has used for generations.

They don't "send out" for a single drop of OLD CABIN STILL. Stitzel-Weller would rather watch and control their own product with lovin' care—every drop of it. They're moderate in their output and hope we will be moderate in our intake.

Brownell Studying Paul Crouch Testimony For Contradiction

WASHINGTON (AP)—An estimate by a former Communist that in March of 1953 there were "more than a thousand Communists in the armed forces" was made an exhibit in the record of the McCarthy-Army hearings Thursday.

The estimate was by Paul Crouch, identified by Roy M. Cohn of Sen. McCarthy's Senate Investigations Committee, as a man "who was a former Communist for a long time." Crouch has testified frequently about his former Communist associations. He is now a consultant for the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service in cases of alleged subversion.

At a news conference late Thursday, Atty. Gen. Brownell said the Justice Department is studying allegations that Crouch has given directly contradictory testimony at different federal court trials.

Brownell said columnist Joseph Alsop had left with him certain documents raising the question of conflicting testimony.

Sharp Exchange

Alsop, who attended the news conference, and Brownell then engaged in a somewhat sharp exchange over what had occurred when Alsop saw the attorney general recently.

After that conference, the Alsop column reported that Brownell "has decided to investigate the case of Paul Crouch for possible perjury, and also to determine the suitability of Crouch for future use as a government informer and government witness."

When this was quoted at the news conference by a reporter, Brownell at first said it was standing policy not to comment on whether or not a named person is under investigation.

He then said that Alsop "made charges and I told him we would look into it, that a study would be undertaken by the department."

Two Trials

Alsop then spoke up to say:

"I showed you a conflict of testimony in two trials and asked if this did not warrant investigation and you said it did."

"I want to correct that," Brownell responded "I said I would study the matter"

Cohn, chief counsel for McCarthy's subcommittee and a principal in the Army-McCarthy hearings, brought the Crouch memorandum about Reds in the Army before the hearings Thursday.

The memo, which was put in the record, said:

"There are more than a thousand Communists in the armed forces of the United States today, prepared to carry on espionage, sabotage and any kind of disruptive activities during all-out war between the Soviet Union and this country."

Late Principal Mays Aided In Planning Lincoln High Building

Funeral services were held in Dixon, Ill., for Vernon G. Mays, 80, former principal of Lincoln High School.

Mr. Mays, a native of Grafton, W.Va., was graduated from Albion College in Michigan in 1894. He received his master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1905. The same year he received a fellowship for a year's study at Columbia University. From 1906 to 1909 he was superintendent of schools in Dixon.

From 1909 to 1916, Mr. Mays was principal of Lincoln High. He aided in the planning of the new high school building from 1913 to 1915 and organized the Parent-Teachers Association for the school.

He became superintendent of schools in St. Joseph, Mo., in 1916. In 1920, he accepted the principalship of Fergus County High School in Lewistown, Mont. He then served as principal of the Great Falls, Mont., high school.

Mr. Mays later returned to Illinois and became superintendent of schools in Lebanon. He retired from teaching and administration in 1941. During World War II, he was in charge of the weather station at the Green River Ordnance Plant in Dixon Surviving are his wife, Mabel B.; one daughter, Mrs. Ronald W. Martin of Boston; and a grandson, Phillip Martin of Boston.

A good whiskey's like a gentleman's beard... it sort of grows on you!

No, Sir—like all friendship—it takes time. You have Schenley at a friend's home, and it tastes right good. One day you buy a bottle yourself. Then pretty soon, you won't settle for anything else.

Matter of fact, making good whiskey is a patient process, too. That's what this hourglass is about.

The glass itself represents Nature's unhurried goodness. The big "S" stands for Schenley's skill. Together, they make Schenley the best-tasting whiskey in ages.

If you're not a customer already, we hope to have the pleasure soon.

SCHENLEY

the best-tasting whiskey in ages!

P.S. For your Tom Collins and Gin 'n' Tonic try SCHENLEY GIN. It's extra-dry—with a flavor that lasts to the bottom of your glass.

A good whiskey's like a gentleman's beard... it sort of grows on you!

No, Sir—like all friendship—it takes time. You have Schenley at a friend's home, and it tastes right good. One day you buy a bottle yourself. Then pretty soon, you won't settle for anything else.

Matter of fact, making good whiskey is a patient process, too. That's what this hourglass is about.

The glass itself represents Nature's unhurried goodness. The big "S" stands for Schenley's skill. Together, they make Schenley the best-tasting whiskey in ages.

If you're not a customer already, we hope to have the pleasure soon.

SCHENLEY
the best-tasting whiskey in ages!

Rescuers Crawl To Injured Man On Mt. McKinley

. . . 1,000-Foot Fall Killed 1 Climber

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (INS)—Rescuers crawled ant-like up the face of the continent's tallest peak Thursday toward gravely injured George Argus, who has spent 12 days in crippled agony—five of them alone—halfway up Mt. McKinley.

Argus, suffering a broken hip, and unable to move from the waist down, was left behind by two other survivors of a 1,000-foot fall that killed the fourth member of their party, expedition leader Elton Thayer, 27.

First reports that Argus was without shelter were corrected by Morton Wood and Leslie Viereck They are the two who staggered, stumbled and slid down the mountain to get help and to tell the grim story of the death of their leader, after the party had conquered the mountain by a hitherto unclimbed route

Wood said Argus had been left in a three-man tent with all necessities within his reach. They said, however, his supplies would last only until Saturday or Sunday.

Weather Break

Only two of the four men who were to have been delivered by helicopter at the 5,000 foot level of the mountain Wednesday actually were dropped. Bad weather prevented a return trip of the helicopter with the other two. Those two, and another team of four climbers, were standing by Thursday for a break in the weather.

Argus is at the 11,000 foot level

Wood described Thayer's death as "one of those little things that just seem to happen." He said Thayer apparently slipped, plunging him and the other three — who were tied to him by rope — down the rugged mountainside. Thayer landed on a hard ridge. Viereck broke the rolling fall after 1,000 feet when he landed in a crevass.

Wood said the going was "very easy" at the point of the accident. He said the "danger" had long been over and:

Route Explored

"Actually, the top was just an ironic anticlimax. Getting on to the southeast buttress at 13,000 feet on the way up was the hard part. We had to cut 1,000 steps in the ice for days At 17,000 feet we had achieved our purpose—exploring the route.

"We did the top simply because it is expected. Everyone asks if you made it to the top of McKinley."

Wood and Viereck told their story from the Thayer home in McKinley Park. Mrs. Thayer listened calmly and interrupted only to say:

"Don't give the impression it was foolish or reckless. It was not a suicidal expedition. Elton lived for mountains He loved them. Even in death he would not regret the climb."

Louisville Man, 59, Hospitalized After Headon Collision

Lincoln Star Special

ASHLAND, Neb. — Two persons escaped serious injury near here Thursday evening as two cars crashed headon on a narrow bridge

John Gakemeier, 59, of Louisville was hospitalized at Bryan Memorial Hospital in Lincoln after suffering lacerations and cracked ribs when the car which he was driving was in collision with a car driven by Alan E Peckman, 22, who lives at the YMCA in Lincoln

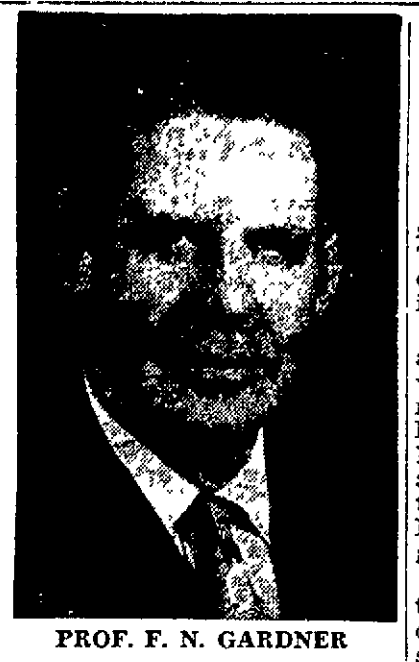
Peckham received scratches and bruises but was not hospitalized His car was completely demolished by the collision, and Gakemeier's vehicle was extensively damaged.

The accident occurred a half mile east and four miles south of Ashland on the Murdock Road.

Scholarship To Columbus Girl

Miss Kay M. Vonderlage of Columbus has been awarded a $150 scholarship to Valparaiso Ind University by the Nebraska District of the Walther League, the church group announced.

The youth organization also announced it is sponsoring two week end camps this summer—May 28-30 at Camp Kiwanis, Fremont, and June 18-20 at Chadron State Park.



PROF. F. N. GARDNER

Gardner To Speak At Cotner School Of Religion Dinner

Frank Nelson Gardner, Drake University Divinity School professor, will speak at the annual dinner at the Cotner School of Religion at 6:30 p.m Friday at First Christian Church.

Gardner, a graduate of Cotner College, is professor of Christian Thought and head of the department at Drake.

He had been student minister of Christian Churches at Litchfield, Blue Hill, Verdon and Guide Rock, Neb, and minister at Chester, Neb., before going to Lexington, Ky

Prof Gardner attended the College of the Bible at Lexington, Ky., and the University of Chicago.

Anderson County Club Is Formed

A Lancaster County "Anderson-for-Governor" club has been organized with Ray Osborn, Lincoln businessman, as chairman and Virginia Reller as co-chairman

Osborn, manager of a nation-wide transportation company, is former Lincoln City Director of Safety. Mrs. Reller is vice chairman of the Lancaster County Republican Central Committee and secretary of the Republican State Central Committee

Holloway To Run For Sheriff On Democratic Ticket

Holloway formerly had filed and run on the Republican ticket when he lost the sheriff's race in 1950 to the present Sheriff, Merle Karnopp. Holloway said he had decided more than a year ago to become a Democrat, and that he had supported Walter Raecke, democratic candidate for governor in 1952.

He said he decided to run for the office he held for eight years on the urging of friends, who he said had paid his filing fee for him Holloway declared Thursday he "wasn't too satisfied with the way things are going on the Republican tickets."

Holloway at present is a rancher at Malcolm and production line personnel foreman working at the Mead Ordnance Plant He said he expects to complete his filing next week.

Hazel Johnson Elected Hearing Society President

Mrs. Hazel Johnson, 2116 F, was named president of the Hearing Society Thursday night by the board of trustees meeting at the YWCA She succeeds Jesse Miller, 3600 Sumner, who was elected first vice president.

Telegraphers, WU Reach Agreement

Howard W Brandon of the Commercial Telegraphers Union (AFL) said Tuesday night the union and Western Union had reached an agreement and signed a two-year contract.

The new contract gives a five-cent or larger raise to all personnel, irons out inequities in the wage structure, doubles the minimum pension and provides three weeks vacation after 15 years and four weeks after 30 years, Brandon said

Chinchilla Farm, Candy Company Incorporate Here

The Cornhusker Chinchilla Villa was incorporated by Curtis C and Leona M. Venell with a $250,000 authorized capitalization

The K. & W. Feeding Company of Fremont was incorporated by Richard W. Wiechman and William L Kelly with a capitalization of $25,000.

Among other corporations filing papers Thursday were eight companion livestock and farming operations headed by James J. Fitzgerald Jr, James W. R. Brown, and Daniel J. Monen Jr; a shoe firm; automobile agency; day camp for children; and an awning manufacturing firm, all of Omaha.

53 Alaskans To Tour Here

Approximately 100 Seward residents, both Nebraskans and Alaskans will tour Lincoln Tuesday as guests of the Chamber of Commerce

A total of 53 Seward, Alaska, citizens, including members of the basketball team, businessmen and their families, will arrive in Nebraska Monday for a four-day visit.

The Lincoln visit will open with a tour of the Cushman Motor Works Plant at 9 a m.

They will then visit the Statehouse where they will meeet the governor, take trips to the tower and tour the Supreme Court and Senate chambers.

CLOROX
Ultra-refined

CLOROX® makes linens more than white
... it makes them sanitary, too!

There's more than ordinary whiteness in a wash that's Clorox-clean. Yes, dulling dinginess is gone, stains are removed, even scorch and mildew disappear. There's added health protection, too. For remember, no other home laundering product equals Clorox in germ-killing efficiency!

But there are more than two good reasons for always using Clorox in laundering cottons and linens. Clorox deodorizes. It conserves linens, too, for it's extra gentle, free from caustic. In addition, Clorox, a liquid, contains no gritty particles to damage wash and washer.

CLOROX
DISINFECTS DEODORIZES BLEACHES

Disinfect bathroom germ centers regularly with CLOROX!

That's really good advice. For in routine cleaning of wash basin, shower, tub and toilet bowl, Clorox not only removes stains and deodorizes, it also disinfects . . . provides a type of non-poisonous disinfection recommended by hundreds of public health departments. See the Clorox label for the many ways Clorox helps you protect health as you clean.

1. Snowy-white linens . . . Clorox removes gray and yellow dinginess.
2. Bright fast colors . . . Clorox removes dulling film.
3. Lovely-looking linens . . . Clorox removes ugly stains, even scorch and mildew.
4. Fresh, clean-smelling linens . . . Clorox deodorizes.

Rescuers Crawl To Injured Man On Mt. McKinley

. . . 1,000-Foot Fall Killed 1 Climber

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (INS)—Rescuers crawled ant-like up the face of the continent's tallest peak Thursday toward gravely injured George Argus, who has spent 12 days in crippled agony—five of them alone—halfway up Mt. McKinley.

Argus, suffering a broken hip, and unable to move from the waist down, was left behind by two other survivors of a 1,000-foot fall that killed the fourth member of their party, expedition leader Elton Thayer, 27.

First reports that Argus was without shelter were corrected by Morton Wood and Leslie Viereck. They are the two who staggered, stumbled and slid down the mountain to get help and to tell the grim story of the death of their leader, after the party had conquered the mountain by a hitherto unclimbed route.

Wood said Argus had been left in a three-man tent with all necessities within his reach. They said, however, his supplies would last only until Saturday or Sunday.

Weather Break

Only two of the four men who were to have been delivered by helicopter at the 5,000 foot level of the mountain Wednesday actually were dropped. Bad weather prevented a return trip of the helicopter with the other two. Those two, and another team of four climbers, were standing by Thursday for a break in the weather.

Wood described Thayer's death as "one of those little things that just seem to happen." He said Thayer apparently slipped, plunging him and the other three — who were tied to him by rope — down the rugged mountainside. Thayer landed on a hard ridge. Viereck broke the rolling fall after 1,000 feet when he landed in a crevass.

Wood said the going was "very easy" at the point of the accident. He said the "danger" had long been over and:

Route Explored

"Actually, the top was just an ironic anticlimax. Getting on to the southeast buttress at 13,000 feet on the way up was the hard part. We had to cut 1,000 steps in the ice for days. At 17,000 feet we had achieved our purpose—exploring the route.

"We did the top simply because it is expected. Everyone asks if you made it to the top of McKinley."

Wood and Viereck told their story from the Thayer home in McKinley Park. Mrs. Thayer listened calmly and interrupted only to say:

"Don't give the impression it was foolish or reckless. It was not a suicidal expedition. Elton lived for mountains. He loved them. Even in death he would not regret the climb."

Louisville Man, 59, Hospitalized After Headon Collision

Lincoln Star Special

ASHLAND, Neb. — Two persons escaped serious injury near here Thursday evening as two cars crashed headon on a narrow bridge.

John Gakemeier, 59, of Louisville was hospitalized at Bryan Memorial Hospital in Lincoln after suffering lacerations and cracked ribs when the car which he was driving was in collision with a car driven by Alan E. Peckman, 22, who lives at the YMCA in Lincoln.

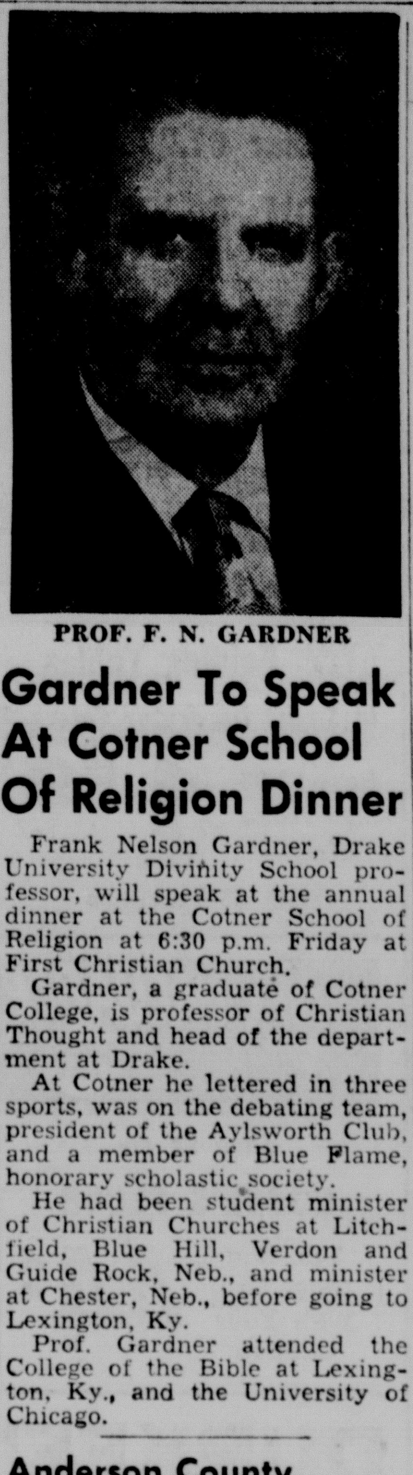
Peckham received scratches and bruises but was not hospitalized. His car was completely demolished by the collision, and Gakemeier's vehicle was extensively damaged.

The accident occurred a half mile east and four miles south of Ashland on the Murdock Road.

Scholarship To Columbus Girl

Miss Kay M. Vonderlage of Columbus has been awarded a $150 scholarship to Valparaiso Ind. University by the Nebraska District of the Walther League, the church group announced.

The youth organization also announced it is sponsoring two week end camps this summer—May 28-30 at Camp Kiwanis, Fremont, and June 18-20 at Chadron State Park.



PROF. F. N. GARDNER

Gardner To Speak At Cotner School Of Religion Dinner

Frank Nelson Gardner, Drake University Divinity School professor, will speak at the annual dinner at the Cotner School of Religion at 6:30 p.m. Friday at First Christian Church.

Gardner, a graduate of Cotner College, is professor of Christian Thought and head of the department at Drake.

At Cotner he lettered in three sports, was on the debating team, president of the Aylsworth Club, and a member of Blue Flame, honorary scholastic society.

He had been student minister of Christian Churches at Litchfield, Blue Hill, Verdon and Guide Rock, Neb., and minister at Chester, Neb., before going to Lexington, Ky.

Prof. Gardner attended the College of the Bible at Lexington, Ky., and the University of Chicago.

Anderson County Club Is Formed

A Lancaster County "Anderson-for-Governor" club has been organized with Ray Osborn, Lincoln businessman, as chairman and Virginia Reller as co-chairman.

Osborn, manager of a nationwide transportation company, is former Lincoln City Director of Safety. Mrs. Reller is vice chairman of the Lancaster County Republican Central Committee and secretary of the Republican State Central Committee.

Holloway To Run For Sheriff On Democratic Ticket

Myles Holloway, 54, former sheriff for two terms, announced Thursday he will file for that office on the Democratic ticket in this year's race.

Holloway formerly had filed and run on the Republican ticket when he lost the sheriff's race in 1950 to the present Sheriff, Merle Karnopp. Holloway said he had decided more than a year ago to become a Democrat, and that he had supported Walter Raecke, democratic candidate for governor in 1952.

He said he decided to run for the office he held for eight years on the urging of friends, who he said had paid his filing fee for him. Holloway declared Thursday he "wasn't too satisfied with the way things are going on the Republican tickets."

Holloway at present is a rancher at Malcolm and production line personnel foreman working at the Mead Ordnance Plant. He said he expects to complete his filing next week.

Hazel Johnson Elected Hearing Society President

Mrs. Hazel Johnson, 2116 F, was named president of the Hearing Society Thursday night by the board of trustees meeting at the YWCA. She succeeds Jesse Miller, 3600 Sumner, who was elected first vice president.

Other officers named were: Frank Kuhn, second vice president; Etho Irwin, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Wear, corresponding secretary; and Charles Wear, treasurer.

Telegraphers, WU Reach Agreement

Howard W. Brandon of the Commercial Telegraphers Union (AFL) said Tuesday night the union and Western Union had reached an agreement and signed a two-year contract.

Brandon, who is regional vice president, and president of Local 112, which covers five states, said strike committees had been dismissed.

The new contract gives a five-cent or larger raise to all personnel, irons out inequities in the wage structure, doubles the minimum pension and provides three weeks vacation after 15 years and four weeks after 30 years, Brandon said.

Chinchilla Farm, Candy Company Incorporate Here

Two Lincoln firms —a chinchilla farm and a candy company—and a livestock feeding operation in Fremont filed papers of incorporation with the Secretary of State's office Thursday.

The Cornhusker Chinchilla Villa was incorporated by Curtis C. and Leona M. Venell with a $250,000 authorized capitalization.

Walter Henrion and Donald Shurtleff filed papers for Deb's Candies Inc. (manufacturing and sale of confections) with $100,000 authorized capitalization.

The K. & W. Feeding Company of Fremont was incorporated by Richard W. Wiechman and William L. Kelly with a capitalization of $25,000.

Among other corporations filing papers Thursday were eight companion livestock and farming operations headed by James J. Fitzgerald Jr, James W. R. Brown, and Daniel J. Monen Jr; a shoe firm; automobile agency; day camp for children; and an awning manufacturing firm, all of Omaha.

53 Alaskans To Tour Here

Approximately 100 Seward residents, both Nebraskans and Alaskans will tour Lincoln Tuesday as guests of the Chamber of Commerce.

A total of 53 Seward, Alaska, citizens, including members of the basketball team, businessmen and their families, will arrive in Nebraska Monday for a four-day visit.

The Lincoln visit will open with a tour of the Cushman Motor Works Plant at 9 a.m.

They will then visit the Statehouse where they will meeet the governor, take trips to the tower and tour the Supreme Court and Senate chambers.

They will have a picnic at noon at Antelope Park before returning to Seward.

Contract Signed To Provide State 100,000 KW Federal Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Interor McKay announced approval of a contract for sale of 100,000 kilowatts of firm power to the Nebraska Public Power System (NPPS), with full delivery to be attained by late 1956

The contract is the first major one completed under the department's new, controversial power marketing policy announced last fall for the Missouri River Basin

Its approval terminated negotiations that had been under way for five or six years, however, within the state and between the state's public power system and the department. Nebraska is the only state which has no private power systems The Interior Department had insisted the public power agencies in the state reach agreement among themselves on terms of the contract

The contract provides for initial service of 40,000 kilowatts to begin upon completion of the fourth generating unit at the Fort Randall (S.D) power plant, scheduled for November this year

Delivery of an additional 30,000 kilowatts is to start Nov 1, 1955 and delivery of the full 100,000 kilowatts is to begin not later than Nov. 1, 1956

The contract also provides for sale of dump energy to the NPPS, depending on its availability and the system's need for such energy when it is available. Provision is also made for sale of secondary energy to the system. Dump and secondary energy is power not available on a schedule basis.

Department officials said the basic rate is to be about 5½ mills per kilowatt-hour for firm power, based on a 48 per cent load factor The basic rate for secondary energy will be about 3 1/3 mills per kilowatt-hour The rate for dump energy will be based on fuel cost savings gained by substituting such power for steam generation

Reclamation Commission W A Dexheimer pointed out that the NPPS is itself a preference customer but it also serves other preference customers in its area.

He said NPPS will be given a one-mill discount on all firm energy it resells to preference customers. And he added that such customers, if they wish, may contract directly with the government for their proportionate share of power. The government would then make an allowance for transmission, which would be over NPPS lines.

Dexheimer said that if preference customers in the state requested more power than the government can make available, the NPPS planning board would prorate the available power on a percentage basis of the total system requirement of each

Delivery of the first 40,000 kilowatts to NPPS will be at the O'Neill, Neb, substation of the Reclamation Bureau's transmission line from Fort Randall. Delivery of the remaining 60,000 kilowatts is dependent upon the establishment of two additional delivery points to be agreed upon.

Traffic Safety Efforts Backed

Traffic safety efforts outlined in Grand Island by the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee received the endorsement of a spokesman for the Nebraska oil industry

C Russell Lockwood, executive secretary of the Nebraska Petroleum Industries Committee, said the committee "has pledged its full support to highway safety education through the daily contacts which oil men have with the motoring public—our customers."

The government would then make an allowance for transmission, which would be over NPPS lines.

Dexheimer said that if preference customers in the state requested more power than the government can make available, the NPPS planning board would prorate the available power on a percentage basis of the total system requirement of each.

Delivery of the first 40,000 kilowatts to NPPS will be at the O'Neill, Neb., substation of the Reclamation Bureau's transmission line from Fort Randall. Delivery of the remaining 60,000 kilowatts is dependent upon the establishment of two additional delivery points to be agreed upon.

Traffic Safety Efforts Backed

Traffic safety efforts outlined in Grand Island by the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee received the endorsement of a spokesman for the Nebraska oil industry.

C. Russell Lockwood, executive secretary of the Nebraska Petroleum Industries Committee, said the committee "has pledged its full support to highway safety education through the daily contacts which oil men have with the motoring public—our customers."

Flag Day Services Planned At Omaha

OMAHA (AP)—John Rosenblatt, issuing his first proclamation as mayor of Omaha, Thursday designated Sunday, June 6, as Flag Day and urged Omahans to participate in special ceremonies planned for that day.

The principal observance is scheduled for Sunday night at the Centennial Theme Center under auspices of the Nebraska Elks Lodges, which hold their convention here June 4 through 6.

Rep. Roman Hruska (R-Neb) will be principal speaker at the Elks Flag Day program. Twenty-two Elks Lodges from over the state, represenated by 800 members and their wives, are expected.

Flag Day Services Planned At Omaha

OMAHA (AP)—John Rosenblatt, issuing his first proclamation as mayor of Omaha, Thursday designated Sunday, June 6, as Flag Day and urged Omahans to participate in special ceremonies planned for that day.

The principal observance is scheduled for Sunday night at the Centennial Theme Center under auspices of the Nebraska Elks Lodges, which hold their convention here June 4 through 6.

Rep. Roman Hruska (R-Neb) will be principal speaker at the Elks Flag Day program. Twenty-two Elks Lodges from over the state, represenated by 800 members and their wives, are expected.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Distributed by International News Service

When it comes to kicking it around in the open we seem to have a soccer football form of government.

☆ ☆ ☆

Bugs Baer

Let's get a bit homeopathic about these doses of parliamentary procedure. Spoon feeding is better far than saturation beyond the power to absorb. Nobody ever thought with a sponge.

☆ ☆ ☆

For purposes of expedience and secrecy the trial was switched to the sinister decor of a sound-proof annex. It was just as fair as a posse giving you five extra feet of rope.

It differed from star chamber proceedings in language only. Cole states the title is derived from the silver stars studding the ceiling of the opinionated alcove. Whether in camera or in constellation the guest of honor was a dunked doughnut.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was a security risk at higher levels. Not one newspaperman violated the whispered formulas of disciplinary action.

☆ ☆ ☆

But when the egg-shaped equitoxes come full circle we caper on the far end of the wharf. We go to extremes like a roof garden on an igloo. We tear the blindfold from the eyes of justice and use it for a skipping rope.

☆ ☆ ☆

But it's all as democratic as a borrowed toothbrush and we're for it. The justice of the high, the low and the medium rare.

☆ ☆ ☆

☆ ☆ ☆

We don't know. The committee hasn't made up my mind.

A X Y D L B A A X R
L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS

By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

(Distributed by International News Service)

When it comes to kicking it around in the open we seem to have a soccer football form of government.

☆ ☆ ☆

Bugs Baer

Let's get a bit homeopathic about these doses of parliamentary procedure. Spoon-feeding is better far than saturation beyond the power to absorb. Nobody ever thought with a sponge.

☆ ☆ ☆

We cannot object to a session in camera if it is for the welfare of the nation. In camera originally meant a chamber adjoining state property in the old world.

For purposes of expedience and secrecy, the trial was switched to the sinister decor of a sound-proof annex. It was just as fair as a posse giving you five extra feet of rope.

It differed from star chamber proceedings in language only. Cole states this title is derived from the silver stars studding the ceiling of the opinionated alcove. Whether in camera or in constellation the guest of honor was a dunked doughnut.

Washington staged an investigation of a top scientist last winter that was as confidential as correct ages in Hollywood.

☆ ☆ ☆

It was a security risk at higher levels. Not one newspaperman violated the whispered formulas of disciplinary action.

☆ ☆ ☆

But when the egg-shaped equinoxes come full circle we caper on the far end of the wharf. We go to extremes like a roof garden on an igloo. We tear the blindfold from the eyes of justice and use it for a skipping rope.

☆ ☆ ☆

But it's all as democratic as a borrowed toothbrush and we're for it. The justice of the high, the low and the medium rare.

☆ ☆ ☆

☆ ☆ ☆

We don't know. The committee hasn't made up my mind.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Grain Mart Goes Into Slow Slide

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains went into a slow slide early in the session on the Board of Trade Thursday and never came out of it. Everything ended with losses, although in most cases they weren't severe.

Wheat in particular was quite weak. It had to take mild hedging pressure. General rains over practically the entire grain growing section of the country discouraged buying in all pits.

Wheat ended 1⅛-2⅛ lower, corn ⅜-1⅛ lower, oats ¼-½ lower, rye ⅞ to 1 cent lower, soybeans 1-1½ lower and lard 8 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Rain fell overnight and during the day in the winter wheat area of the Southwest, the spring wheat territory of the Northwest and the corn and soybean belt of the Midwest. Traders felt the Midwest needed moisture more than any other area.

The Midwest moisture dampened any rallying instincts in corn and also was effective in sending soybeans down. Planting of corn is practically completed in the main producing area. Soybean planting is about 75 per cent completed in Illinois and 70 per cent in Iowa.

Cattle — Steers steady to 50 cents down; top $25.25.

Stocks Run Into Selling Troubles

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market started off well Thursday, after its rise to new heights Wednesday, but it ran into selling troubles along the way and closed lower.

Steels, aircrafts, motors, and non-ferrous metals displayed promise early in the day, but they weakened and were mixed or lower at the final bell. All of them stand to benefit by increased defense spending.

Wednesday's market sent prices on average to around the highest levels of the past 21 years. Such a display of strength evidently was too much for those with paper profits, and they cashed in.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell away 60 cents at $124.00. It was ahead 70 cents Wednesday. The industrial component of the average was lower by 70 cents, railroads declined 60 cents, and utilities eased 20 cents.

Business totaled 2,230,000 shares for the day, compared with 2,150,000 Wednesday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Investment quality corporates declined in an irregular bond market Thursday.

High-priced, low-yield industrials, utilities and railroads were in plentiful supply as "Big Board" volume slowed to $3,470,000 par value from $3,530,000 Wednesday.

The more speculative issues, including medium grade carriers and convertible obligations, generally were in demand.

U. S. government bonds recovered most early losses by the close.

Hogs Steady, Up As Supply Down

OMAHA (AP) — The hog market was steady to 25 cents higher in Omaha Thursday as the estimated supply dropped to 4,000 head. Mature fed steers were firm to stronger but other cattle continued under pressure despite a light run. Slaughter lambs were weak to 75c lower.

$1,500 Oil Fellowship To Don Eicher

Don Eicher, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Eicher of 3131 Cedar and a University of Colorado senior, has received a $1,500 fellowship from the Gulf Oil Company.

Don Eicher

Eicher also received the award as the outstanding senior in the geology department. Last year, he received the Johnson Award as the outstanding junior student.

He has been selected to make the acceptance speech for the initiates at the annual Phi Beta Kappa banquet and presentation of keys Friday evening.

Eicher will be employed as a geologist with the Carter Oil Co. of Denver this summer, returning to Colorado University in the fall for graduate study.

Marine Flier Killed

TOKYO (INS)—The Marine Corps announced that USMC 2nd Lt. Paul J. W. Rau of Sorento, Ill., was killed when his L-19 plane hit a high tension wire and crashed in the village of Yasu in central Japan Wednesday morning.

Rau's assistant T/Sgt. Conrad Adelman of Brooklyn, N. Y., is said to be in critical condition.

Grain Mart Goes Into Slow Slide

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains went into a slow slide early in the session on the Board of Trade Thursday and never came out of it. Everything ended with losses, although in most cases they weren't severe.

Wheat in particular was quite weak. It had to take mild hedging pressure. General rains over practically the entire grain growing section of the country discouraged buying in all pits.

Wheat ended 1¾-2½ lower, corn ⅝-1⅛ lower, oats ⅜-½ lower, rye ⅝ to 1 cent lower, soybeans 1½-4½ lower and lard 8 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Rain fell overnight and during the day in the winter wheat area of the Southwest, the spring wheat territory of the Northwest and the corn and soybean belt of the Midwest. Traders felt the Midwest needed moisture more than any other area.

The Midwest moisture dampened any rallying instincts in corn and also was effective in sending soybeans down. Planting of corn is practically completed in the main producing area. Soybean planting is about 75 per cent completed in Illinois and 70 per cent in Iowa.

Stocks Run Into Selling Troubles

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market started off well Thursday, after its rise to new heights Wednesday, but it ran into selling troubles along the way and closed lower.

Steels, aircrafts, motors, and non-ferrous metals displayed promise early in the day, but they weakened and were mixed or lower at the final bell. All of them stand to benefit by increased defense spending.

Lower were railroads, utilities, chemicals, radio-televisions and electrical equipments.

Wednesday's market sent prices on average to around the highest levels of the past 24 years. Such a display of strength evidently was too much for those with paper profits, and they cashed in.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell away 60 cents at $124.90. It was ahead 70 cents Wednesday. The industrial component of the average was lower by 70 cents, railroads declined 60 cents, and utilities eased 20 cents.

Business totaled 2,230,000 shares for the day, compared with 2,180,000 Wednesday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Investment quality corporates declined in an irregular bond market Thursday.

High-priced, low-yield industrials, utilities and railroads were in plentiful supply as "Big Board" colume slowed to $3,470,000 par value from $3,530,000 Wednesday.

The more speculative issues, including medium-grade carriers and convertible obligations, generally were in demand.

U. S. government bonds recovered most early losses by the close.

'The South Will Retain Segregation'—Eastland

Senator Says Court Brainwashed By Left Wing Pressure Groups

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) told the Senate Thursday "it will take force to bring compliance" with the Supreme Court's non-segregation ruling in the South, and any attempt to enforce it will result in "stern resistance and lawlessness."

"Let me make this very clear," said Eastland: "The South will retain segregation . . . there will be no compromise. . . . Southern people will not give an inch."

In addition to attacking the high court's unanimous May 17 ruling that racial segregation in public schools is unconstitutional, Eastland specifically criticized, for various reasons, five of the nine justices who took part in it.

These were Justices Black, Minton, Douglas, Reed and Frankfurter.

Asserting the court "has been indoctrinated and brainwashed by leftwing pressure groups," Eastland cited these incidents:

'Notorious'

An award given Justice Black on April 14, 1945 by the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, which Eastland called a "notorious Communist-front organization"; a speech at the same affair by Justice Minton, who then was on the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals; acceptance by Justice Douglas of a $1,000 Sidney Hillman Award from the CIO in December, 1952; and character-witness testimony by Justice Reed and Frankfurter in behalf of Alger Hiss, former State Department official convicted of perjury in 1950.

Eastland said Reed and Frankfurter "broke all precedents of the Supreme Court" when they testified to the good character of Hiss, who is serving a prison sentence for denying falsely that he ever passed government secrets to Russian agents.

Referring to the Sidney Hillman award presented to Douglas, Eastland said:

"That a Supreme Court justice empowered to pass on such questions (segregation) should accept a $1,000 emolument from a party belligerently interested in the outcome of these cases is indeed shocking in the extreme. A presumption of tainted justice becomes inevitable."

He said the Sidney Hillman Foundation and the Philip Murray Foundation, according to the CIO news, have contributed a total of $77,500 to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for "historical research" and an "educational campaign" to eliminate segregation in the South.

There was no immediate comment by any of the five justices.

Eastland said the May 17 ruling, and two others of last Monday dealing with segregation in public housing projects and public golf courses, raise a problem which "in all of its ramification is much graver than many Americans realize."

Declaring the South is proud to possess an "awareness of the significance of race." Eastland said:

"Had they not possessed it, the South would have been mongrelized and Southern civilization destroyed long ago."

"This decision will fall of its own weight because it is opposed by the vast majority of our people," he said.

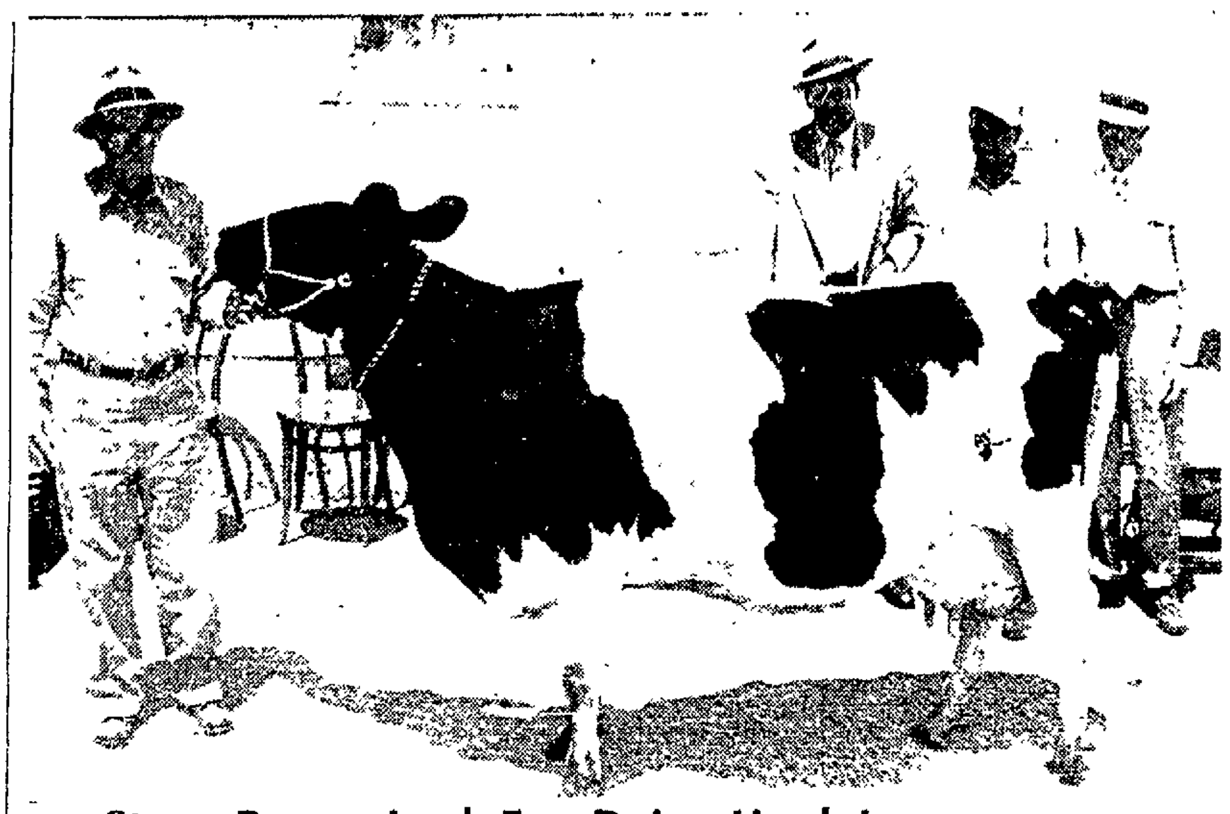
Revision Of Liquor Laws Is Advocated

OMAHA (AP)—William Ritchie of Omaha, who seeks the Democratic nomination for Governor, declared that if elected he will urge revision and strict enforcement of liquor laws to prevent bootlegging and protect the public.

Ritchie said the Liquor Commission is "doing its best under the present laws to control matters but things are getting beyond its control."

Ritchie proposed a reduction in the number of retail licenses, stricter penalties for sales to minors, no deliveries of liquor to customers save for medical emergencies, and making all other sales cash.

He recommended that three proved deliberate violations automatically cancel the license.



State Recognized For Dairy Herd Improvement

State Offices Get Holiday Weekend

State offices, excepting the Supreme Court clerk's office, prepared to close from Friday night until Tuesday morning for the Memorial Day holiday.

Several state officials, headed by Gov. Robert Crosby, have Memorial Day speaking engagements.

The governor will give a patriotic address at the traditional Memorial Day program at Lincoln's Wyuka Cemetery Monday morning.

Hugo Srb, clerk of the Legislature, speaks Sunday at Dodge, Neb.

Assistant Attorney Gen. Dean Kratz speaks Sunday afternoon at Crete.

R. C. Patterson, state adjutant of the American Legion, speaks Monday at Brainard.

Gov. Crosby has two other speaking engagements Monday. He will give the commencement address at York College in the afternoon, and speak at a Civil Air Patrol dinner at North Platte in the evening.

The governor goes to Bellevue Saturday to take part in the Bellevue Days Centennial Celebration; and on Sunday he gives the Cathedral School commencement address in Lincoln.

Notice to Contractors Lincoln, Nebraska Water Works Improvements Ashland Treatment Plant Additions and Alterations

Sealed proposals will be received by the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, at the office of the City Clerk until 10:00 o'clock A.M., Central Standard Time of June 16, 1954, for furnishing all materials, equipment and labor required for the construction of new aerator and contact basin, the construction of pump and filter revisions and additions, the installation of new equipment, piping and valves, the construction of revisions to existing basins, and the construction of other miscellaneous items of work at the existing Ashland Treatment Plant, at which place, at 10:00 A.M., on the same date, all proposals received will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Proposals will be received for work to be performed as separate contracts on either of the two sections of work as follows, or as a single contract including both sections:

Section I — General Construction Work, covering the construction complete of new aerator and contact basin, including connecting piping and valves, the furnishing and installation of discharge and suction piping and valves for the transmission line pumps, including a Venturi tube and manhole and flow metering equipment therefor; the furnishing and installation of suction and discharge piping and valves for the transfer pumps; the construction of revisions to the existing contact filters to convert them to rapid sand filters, including surface wash equipment, the furnishing and installation of new chemical equipment and piping, including alterations to existing equipment and piping, electrical manholes; concrete encasement for electrical ducts, excavation and backfill together with other miscellaneous items of work, materials and equipment appurtenant thereto.

Section II—Electrical Work, covering the furnishing and installation of new motor starting equipment and the revision of existing motor starting equipment, together with all power and control wiring for the work under both Sections I and II.

Copies of the plans, specifications and other proposed contract documents are on file at the office of the City Clerk, Lincoln, Nebraska, and in the office of the Consulting Engineers, Black & Veatch, 4706 Broadway, Kansas City, Missouri. A set of such documents may be obtained from the Consulting Engineers at the address stipulated above or from the City Engineer's Office, fourth floor of the City Hall, Lincoln, Nebraska, upon deposit of $20.00. The full amount of the deposit for one set only of such documents will be refunded to each bidder who has made such deposit and who has filed his bid with the Owner as directed in this notice and upon the forms as prescribed upon the return of all documents not filed with his bid. $10.00 of each other deposit, including deposits made to secure documents for subcontractor's estimating purposes, will be refunded upon the return of all documents covered thereby, and within thirty days after the bids are opened.

As a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, each proposal submitted shall be accompanied by a Cashier's check or a certified check drawn on a solvent Nebraska bank, in an amount of not less than five (5) per cent of the total amount of bid. Checks shall be made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer.

Each bidder to whom a contract is awarded will be required to furnish a performance bond, acceptable to the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, in the amount of 100 per cent of the contract in conformity with the requirements of the proposed contract documents.

Section I	$372,000
Section II	$ 31,200
	$403,200

The right is reserved by the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, to reject any or all bids and to waive informalities. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of 30 days after the time set for receipt of bids.

CITY OF LINCOLN, NEBRASKA
Theo H. Berg, City Clerk.

Notice to Contractors

'The South Will Retain Segregation'—Eastland

Senator Says Court Brainwashed By Left Wing Pressure Groups

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) told the Senate Thursday "it will take force to bring compliance" with the Supreme Court's non-segregation ruling in the South, and any attempt to enforce it will result in "stern resistance and lawlessness."

"Let me make this very clear," said Eastland: "The South will retain segregation . . . there will be no compromise. . . . Southern people will not give an inch."

In addition to attacking the high court's unanimous May 17 ruling that racial segregation in public schools is unconstitutional, Eastland specifically criticized, for various reasons, five of the nine justices who took part in it.

These were Justices Black, Minton, Douglas, Reed and Frankfurter.

Asserting the court "has been indoctrinated and brainwashed by leftwing pressure groups," Eastland cited these incidents:

'Notorious'

An award given Justice Black on April 14, 1945 by the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, which Eastland called a "notorious Communist-front organization"; a speech at the same affair by Justice Minton, who then was on the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals; acceptance by Justice Douglas of a $1,000 Sidney Hillman Award from the CIO in December, 1952; and character-witness testimony by Justice Reed and Frankfurter in behalf of Alger Hiss, former State Department official convicted of perjury in 1950.

Eastland said Reed and Frankfurter "broke all precedents of the Supreme Court" when they testified to the good character of Hiss, who is serving a prison sentence for denying falsely that he ever passed government secrets to Russian agents.

Referring to the Sidney Hillman award presented to Douglas, Eastland said:

"That a Supreme Court justice empowered to pass on such questions (segregation) should accept a $1,000 emolument from a party belligerently interested in the outcome of these cases is indeed shocking in the extreme. A presumption of tainted justice becomes inevitable."

He said the Sidney Hillman Foundation and the Philip Murray Foundation, according to the CIO news, have contributed a total of $77,500 to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for "historical research" and an "educational campaign" to eliminate segregation in the South.

There was no immediate comment by any of the five justices.

Eastland said the May 17 ruling, and two others of last Monday dealing with segregation in public housing projects and public golf courses, raise a problem which "in all of its ramification is much graver than many Americans realize."

Declaring the South is proud to possess an "awareness of the significance of race," Eastland said:

"Had they not possessed it, the South would have been mongrelized and Southern civilization destroyed long ago."

"This decision will fall of its own weight because it is opposed by the vast majority of our people," he said.

Revision Of Liquor Laws Is Advocated

OMAHA (AP)—William Ritchie of Omaha, who seeks the Democratic nomination for Governor, declared that if elected he will urge revision and strict enforcement of liquor laws to prevent bootlegging and protect the public.

Ritchie said the Liquor Commission is "doing its best under the present laws to control matters but things are getting beyond its control."

Ritchie proposed a reduction in the number of retail licenses, stricter penalties for sales to minors, no deliveries of liquor to customers save for medical emergencies, and making all other sales cash.

He recommended that three proved deliberate violations automatically cancel the license.

State Recognized For Dairy Herd Improvement

State Offices Get Holiday Weekend

State offices, excepting the Supreme Court clerk's office, prepared to close from Friday night until Tuesday morning for the Memorial Day holiday.

The court clerk's office will be open Saturday but closed on Monday.

Several state officials, headed by Gov. Robert Crosby, have Memorial Day speaking engagements.

Hugo Srb, clerk of the Legislature, speaks Sunday at Dodge, Neb.

Assistant Attorney Gen. Dean Kratz speaks Sunday afternoon at Crete.

R. C. Patterson, state adjutant of the American Legion, speaks Monday at Brainard.

Gov. Crosby has two other speaking engagements Monday. He will give the commencement address at York College in the afternoon, and speak at a Civil Air Patrol dinner at North Platte in the evening.

The governor goes to Bellevue Saturday to take part in the Bellevue Days Centennial Celebration; and on Sunday he gives the Cathedral School commencement address in Lincoln.

Service Halt OKd

The State Railway Commission, Thursday announced that on a trial basis they have authorized Lincoln City Lines to discontinue Sunday service to Belmont on North 10th street, effective June 6.

Omaha Liquor License Application Is Denied

The Liquor Commission reported Thursday it had denied the application of William A. Pappas for a Class C license for 3810 Farnam Street, Omaha.

Commissioner Nathan Pont said there are nine licensed establishments already in the vicinity.

Pappas proposed to move from his present location at 423 South 11th street.

Notice to Contractors Lincoln, Nebraska Water Works Improvements Ashland Treatment Plant Additions and Alterations

Sealed proposals will be received by the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, at the office of the City Clerk until 10:00 o'clock A.M., Central Standard Time of June 16, 1954, for furnishing all materials, equipment and labor required for the construction of new aerator and contact basin, the construction of pump and filter revisions and additions, the installation of new equipment, piping and valves, the construction of revisions to existing basins, and the construction of other miscellaneous items of work at the existing Ashland Treatment Plant, at which place, at 10:00 A.M., on the same date, all proposals received will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Proposals will be received for work to be performed as separate contracts on either of the two sections of work as follows, or as a single contract including both sections.

Section I — General Construction Work, covering the construction complete of new aerator and contact basin, including connecting piping and valves; the furnishing and installation of discharge and suction piping and valves for the transmission line pumps, including a Venturi tube and manhole and flow metering equipment therefor; the furnishing and installation of suction and discharge piping and valves for the transfer pumps; the construction of revisions to the existing contact filters to convert them to rapid sand filters, including surface wash equipment; the furnishing and installation of new chemical equipment and piping, including alterations to existing equipment and piping; electrical manholes; concrete encasement for electrical ducts, excavation and backfill; together with other miscellaneous items of work, materials and equipment appurtenant thereto.

Section II—Electrical Work, covering the furnishing and installation of new motor starting equipment and the revision of existing motor starting equipment, together with all power and control wiring for the work under both Sections I and II.

Copies of the plans, specifications and other proposed contract documents are on file at the office of the City Clerk, Lincoln, Nebraska, and in the office of the Consulting Engineers, Black & Veatch, 4706 Broadway, Kansas City, Missouri. A set of such documents may be obtained from the Consulting Engineers at the address stipulated above or from the City Engineer's Office, fourth floor of the City Hall, Lincoln, Nebraska, upon deposit of $20.00. The full amount of the deposit for one set only of such documents will be refunded to each bidder who has made such deposit and who has filed his bid with the Owner as directed in this notice and upon the forms as prescribed upon the return of all documents not filed with his bid. $10.00 of each other deposit, including deposits made to secure documents for subcontractor's estimating purposes, will be refunded upon the return of all documents covered thereby, all within thirty days after the bids are opened.

As a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, each proposal submitted shall be accompanied by a Cashier's check or a certified check drawn on a solvent Nebraska bank, in an amount of not less than five (5) per cent of the total amount of bid. Checks shall be made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer.

Each bidder to whom a contract is awarded will be required to furnish a performance bond, acceptable to the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, in the amount of 100 per cent of the contract in conformity with the requirements of the proposed contract documents.

Section I	$372,000
Section II	$ 31,200
	$403,200

The right is reserved by the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, to reject any or all bids and to waive informalities. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of 30 days after the time set for receipt of bids.

CITY OF LINCOLN, NEBRASKA
Theo. H. Berg, City Clerk.

Notice to Contractors

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the City Clerk of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, up to 10 o'clock a.m., Central Standard Time, Wednesday, June 9, 1954, for the construction of the water mains in Water District No. 357, being the water mains in Colfax Avenue and Benton Street from 66th Street to 70th Street and in 70th Street from Benton Street to Colfax Avenue, in said City, according to the plans and specifications of the City Engineer on file in the office of the City Clerk.

The City Engineer's estimate of the cost of constructing these water mains is $16,500.00.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $825.00, made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer, as a guarantee of good faith.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all proposals and to waive any defect in proposals.

THEO. H. BERG, City Clerk.

19 Senators Propose New Code Of Fair Committee Procedure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) told the Senate Thursday that recent congressional investigations have been conducted "in such a way as to hold the Congress up to ridicule, and infect us all with the insidious cancer of public contempt."

Kefauver's comments came as he and 18 other senators, all Democrats except Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore), jointly introduced a proposed new "code of fair committee procedures."

He said the "honor, the integrity and the probity" of the Senate are at stake because of widespread public interest in congressional investigations 'televised and broadcast by radio.

"Investigations have sometimes been sensational in nature," he said. "They have given vast numbers of the American people a completely mistaken impression of the Congress and its work."

Kefauver served as chairman of the former Senate Crime Investigating Committee, whose hearings also were widely televised. He said that experience showed the need for Senate rules covering investigations.

He noted that Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California and Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee "and other thoughtful Republicans have asserted the necessity for a fair code of procedure."

Bill of Rights

"The time has come for the Senate to assume its obligations to bring its committee procedures into line with the bill of rights," Morse said in a statement.

He said the new code would eliminate "one-man executive hearings," assure witnesses the right to counsel, require advance note of charges and guarantee the "opportunity to present evidence in defense of an individual's reputation, if it is brought into question, before accusations are made public."

The new code would set up panels in both the Senate and House, presided over by the Vice President in the Senate and the speaker in the House, which could recommend disciplinary action to those bodies if committees or members violated the proposed code.

Local DAV No. 7 Wins State Award

Lincoln Unit No. 7 of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary was awarded the Ann Weber travelling trophy and gavel for exceeding their membership quota. The presentation was made at the annual department convention held in Kearney.

The Lincoln unit also won a traveling trophy for their hospital work. Mrs. Lucille McCarthy of Lincoln, second national junior vice-commander and adjutant, presented the trophy to Helen Williams of the local unit.

Mrs. McCarthy also installed the new state officers who include Dorothy Wartman of Alliance, commander; Eva Scott of Omaha, senior vice-commander; Helen Williams of Lincoln, junior vice-commander; Myrel Abbey of Lincoln, treasurer; Nora Swindell of Grand Island, sergeant-at-arms; Karen Scott of Omaha, conductoress; and Frances Fisher of Lincoln, department committeewoman.

The 1955 annual convention will be held in Omaha.

Wesleyan Grad Has More Study Ahead

Walter Westrom of 1000 No. 65th models his cap and gown which he will wear when he graduates from Nebraska Wesleyan University Tuesday. Forty-four year old Westrom won't be through with his schooling after his college graduation however. He will enter Bethany Seminary, this fall to take a three-year course to prepare himself for the ministry in the Church of the Brethren. Admiring Westrom's graduation garb are Mrs. Westrom and sons, David, Paul, and Joseph. (Nebraska Wesleyan University Photo)

'Just Starting His Education,' May, 44, Gets College Degree

At an age when most men are settling into a routine of middle-aged living, Walter Westrom of 1000 No. 65th entered Nebraska Wesleyan University as a freshman student—more than 20 years after his graduation from high school.

Deciding that the ministry was his field, Westrom gave up earlier dreams of a career in art and a steady job with an electrical contracting and carpentering firm here to enter college four years ago.

Mrs. Westrom returned to active duty in her own profession of nursing. The couple shared the responsibility of caring for their three sons—David, Joseph, and Paul.

It wasn't an easy job with studying, housekeeping, Walter's parttime painting and carpentering jobs, and Mrs. Westrom's busy life as a nurse. The Westrom schedule was vigorous, but they were determined to reach their goal.

Westrom has made but one deviation from the course he charted four years ago when he entered Wesleyan. He had planned to study for his doctor of philosophy degree. Westrom has changed his plans to enter the ministry immediately following completion of the three-year course at Bethany.

Whip The Tormenting Twins Dandruff And Itchy Scalp

WATERLOO, Iowa—Mrs. John Manross, 2105 Mulberry St., says: "For years I tried everything that came along for dandruff, and had about decided there wasn't any use to try anything else. The money-back offer with Baker's Hair Tonic sounded so fair I got a bottle, and was soon relieved of the misery caused by unsightly dandruff and itchy scalp. You must try Baker's to know how good it really is."

For dandruff and itchy scalp, use Baker's Hair Tonic. For clean scalp and lustrous hair, use Baker's Shampoo. Buy them where you trade. You will like both, or the makers will refund your money.—Adv.
